...NDS MARY ELLEN WAS GHOST OF ANTIGONISH.

...ter Daughter of MacDonalds Set Fires in Haunted House, Declares Scientist.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

...LIFAX (N. S.) March 15.—Mary Ellen MacDonald, ...daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald, was ...of Antigonish, Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, scien... ...of psychic hunter, declared in a report on his investiga... ...the haunted MacDonald home at Caledonia Mills, made public tonight.

At least Mary Ellen set the mysterious fires which were among the chief of the ghostly manifestations, Dr. Prince said. He held that she was not "morally culpable," however, as she was in an "altered state of consciousness" and did not realize what she was doing.

"There is the possibility, supported by a body of evidence," the report said, "that this altered state was brought about by a discarnate intelligence. This is a theoretical possibility whereas the external facts seem certain."

BRAIDED COWS' TAILS.

Dr. Prince indicated that the braiding of the cows' tails and the shifting of farm stock also probably was a result of Mary Ellen's altered state of consciousness."

The stops that Harold Whidden, Halifax Herald reporter, and P. C. Carroll, detective, claimed to have suffered from a ghostly hand after the MacDonalds had been frightened out of their home, however, were not traced to Mary Ellen's hand.

Their experiences, said the report, "were probably of a supernormal character, which does not necessarily imply that the supernormal cause was spiritualistic. It may have been owing to a psychophysiological cause which is perfectly natural though imperfectly normal."

In other words, Mr. Prince implied, Whidden and Carroll might have slapped each other, or might merely have thought they were slapped.

SUMMARY OF REPORT.

Dr. Prince's summary of his report follows:

"My visit of six nights and five days at the house in the vicinity of Antigonish, N. S., which has attracted so much attention, ended Monday morning. It is difficult to condense a report of some 7000 words into a much briefer statement and only the salient points can be mentioned.

SMALL ARMY SHOWDOWN ADMINISTRATION DEMAND.

Will Find Out Why Congress Tries to Usurp President's Powers in Placing of Troops.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The administration has made up its mind to force a showdown with Congress over what it regards as an attempt by the legislative branch of the government to usurp the powers of the President as commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy.

The issue will be brought squarely before the House tomorrow when the Army appropriation bill is brought up. Representative Kahn of California, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, with the backing of President Harding and the War Department, will seek to eliminate the provision of the bill which is designed to regulate the distribution of the United States Army.

GOING TOO FAR.

Making use of its control of the government purse strings, the House Appropriations Committee has written into the Army bill a provision which says that "no part of the appropriations made herein for pay of the Army shall be used, except in time of emergency, for the payment of troops garrisoned in China, or for the payment of more than 500 officers and enlisted men on the continent of Europe; nor shall such appropriations be used, except in time of emergency, for the payment of more than 5000 enlisted men in the Panama Canal Zone or more than 5000 enlisted men in the Hawaiian Islands."

This provision means that the administration would be compelled on or before July 1 to withdraw all the troops on the Rhine, leaving only about 500 in France to finish certain necessary work. The limitation, if adopted, will require the return of approximately 6500 enlisted men from the Hawaiian Islands, approximately 2000 from the Canal Zone, approximately 5000 from Germany, and about 600 from China, making a total of 14,100 to be returned to the United States, according to the Appropriation Committee's figures.

The total strength of the Army provided for in the bill is 11,000 officers and 115,000 enlisted men, compared with a present strength of 12,000 officers and 139,000 enlisted men, which the War Department regards as a minimum to which the size of the Army can be safely cut.

"LITTLE ARMY" VIEW.

When the appropriations committee first proposed to cut the enlisted strength of the army to 115,000 the War Department protested that this figure would not allow sufficient men to maintain the army in continental United States as a efficient peace time or skeletonized basis. The "little army" men on the committee, led by Representative Anthony of Kansas, promptly retaliated by proposing to cut down the overseas forces in order that the continental strength of the army might be left practically undisturbed.

Anthony, explaining the proposed eduction of overseas forces, made this statement:

"It seems to be the fixed policy of the General Staff to station full divisions in Hawaii and Panama. Except in times of emergency it is not believed such a policy is justified, as it will cost as much to maintain these two divisions in Panama and Hawaii as our entire Regular Army cost us in the years following the Spanish war. Another source of large expense is the maintenance of American troops on the Rhine. Germany has failed to fulfill her contract of paying for these troops and it is proposed that after July 1, 1922, the number of American troops on the continent of Europe be limited to 500 men with the idea that only such troops will be kept there as are needed to finish certain necessary work."

SPLIT OVER BONUS BILL.

House Disagrees on Methods.

Advisability of Trying to Bring Measure Up Monday Questioned.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—There developed today a difference of opinion among Republican leaders in the House as to the method of calling up the soldiers' bonus bill on the floor. One group still favored consideration next Monday under a suspension of the rules which would cut off all amendments, while another held the opinion that delay in action would be preferable.

On all sides, it was stated that a decision would await the return here Saturday of Speaker Gillett, who is in Florida with President Harding. Meantime, there was speculation among House members as to whether the Speaker would entertain a motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill.

GILLETT'S ATTITUDE.

Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means Committee disclosed that he had been informed by Gillett before the Speaker left Washington that he had better not depend entirely on a suspension of rules as the procedure for getting the bill before the House. Since

RAND REBELLION ENDED.

Government Forces Take Fordsburg, With Over 2500 Prisoners; Reds Hoist White Flag.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

JOHANNESBURG, March 15.—With the capture of the stronghold of Fordsburg, a suburb of Johannesburg, barely two miles south of the Town Hall, the collapse of the Rand revolution was virtually complete. There is still a certain amount of clearing up to be done, but all the large bodies of Reds have now been killed, captured or dispersed.

The government forces were too numerous and too well directed to permit of any prolonged resistance on the part of the rebels. Exactly seventy minutes was required to subdue Fordsburg.

SMUTS ISSUES ULTIMATUM.

Gen. Smuts on Monday issued an ultimatum giving the strikers until 11 o'clock Tuesday morning to surrender. There was no reply from the strikers, but hundreds of women and children and a few isolated police availed themselves of the truce to retire from the district and re-enter Johannesburg.

Tuesday morning howitzers were placed in position. At exactly 11 o'clock the first shell was fired and a furious bombardment followed. At the same time detachments of infantry and mounted burghers' commandos closed swiftly in from all sides under a heavy barrage, driving in the snipers to the Central Trades Hall. A heavy fusillade from hidden snipers greeted the appearance of a tank which lumbered across the road from Johannesburg and cleared the Fordsburg streets.

WHITE FLAG HOISTED.

At 10 minutes after noon a white flag was hoisted over the Central Trades Hall and the entire force of strikers surrendered. It is stated that over 2500 men gave up in this area, 500 of whom were armed with rifles and the others with revolvers and bombs.

No information has been given out as to how the government intends to deal with the thousands of rebels captured. Several notorious labor firebrands have been arrested at Johannesburg and charges of treason were brought against some. But the revolution is at an end.

OFFERING OF TREASURY IS SNAPPED UP.

Six Hundred Millions of Dollars Placed Against $250,000,000 Certificates.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Oversubscription of the treasury's latest offering of one year 4¼ per cent certificates of indebtedness, dated March 15, was announced tonight by Secretary Mellon. Preliminary reports, he said, indicate that total subscriptions aggregate about $600,000,000 for the issue, which was for about $250,000,000. Mr. Mellon also announced the closing of subscription books for the four-year 4¾ per cent treasury notes dated today, which were offered only in exchange for 4¾ per cent Victory notes.

"Preliminary reports from the Federal reserve banks," he said, "indicate that the total exchanges aggregate about $600,000,000, and that there has been unusually good distribution of the new notes among investors throughout the country."

Authority given Federal reserve banks to purchase 4¾ per cent Victory notes direct from holders up to an aggregate amount of $100,000,000 was extended tonight by the Treasury Secretary until April 15. Purchase of these notes up to date, he reported, aggregate over $2,000,000, and advance redemptions of the 3¾ per cent Victory notes, called for redemption on June 15, 1922, aggregate about $60,000,000.

LATE MORNING NEWS

GIRL VICTIM OF BUNKO GAME

Rose Zaremba, a guest at the Y.W.C.A. last night reported at Central Police Station that a pseudo employment agent had disappeared with a trunk belonging to her containing $1500 worth of stock certificates and jewelry valued at several hundred dollars. Late yesterday Miss Zaremba said she applied for work at a free employment agency and met a man who "employed" her for a position in Long Beach. The new "employer" sent a transfer truck for her trunk, and ordered it sent to a downtown hotel. That was the last seen of him, according to Miss Zaremba, who declared she went to the hotel for her trunk, but found that it had never been received here.

ARRESTED FOR ATTEMPTED MURDER

Farris Hasham, aged 50 years, an Assyrian, was arrested last night on suspicion of having attempted to murder Mrs. Belinda Meyers, who was found December 14, of last year, on the floor of her grocery store at 1407 East Ninth street with her head beaten in with a claw hammer. The arrest was made by Detective Sergeants Herman Cline, Cato and Cahill. Mrs. Meyers, who suffered skull fractures, is still in a hospital as a result of her injuries.

NEGRO FACES LARCENY CHARGE

William Richerson, aged 23 years, a negro chauffeur, is in the University Jail with a bullet wound in his right chest and faces a grand larceny charge. Officers Mayer and Casey saw Richerson drive an automobile belonging to D. C. Dockery of Glendale into an alley and started to strip it. As Officer Casey was about to arrest the negro the latter drew a knife and lunged at the officer. Casey drew his gun and shot Richerson. The wound is not serious.

HARDING HAS GOOD TIME.

President Strolls Around St. Augustine; Plays Golf and Attends Large Reception.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) March 15.—President Harding strolled through the streets of St. Augustine this afternoon and shook hands with scores who stopped him to extend a personal greeting. Accompanied by Undersecretary of State Fletcher, he viewed points of interest in the oldest city in the United States, while he stopped and chatted with great and small, rich and poor.

"You young people have a good time," he said to an automobile party, who had hailed him. "I was young once, myself."

Again in response to the hearty handshake of a clerk in a store, he said:

"How are you; I am glad to see you."

GREETS WOMEN.

"We want to shake hands with the President," said two women, who had their wishes fulfilled when the Chief Executive turned and gave each a hearty handclasp.

And at another time as Mr. Harding swung along toward his hotel, an aged citizen who appeared to have difficulty in realizing that the President of the United States was walking informally about the streets, exclaimed:

"That is the President!"

Mr. Harding, with his vacation party, arrived here early today by special train from Palm Beach and immediately went to the golf links for his favorite game.

RECEPTION GUESTS.

This evening the President and Mrs. Harding were guests at a reception given in their honor at the Ponce de Leon Hotel. The event was the climax to the winter season and of the 1500 who attended, many were winter visitors from all sections of the United States.

It was the first function the Hardings attended since coming to Florida, and it was stated that they would attend no more during their vacation trip as it was desired to have as much rest as possible before returning to Washington. The President, it was added, would devote his leisure to golf until he leaves with his guests for the capital on Friday. He is expected to arrive in Washington some time Saturday.

THOUSANDS OF CHICAGOANS LIVING IN TERROR AND PAY TRIBUTE TO BANDS OF THUGS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 15.—Thousands of persons in Chicago live in terror and pay tribute to keep their homes from being bombed, Robert E. Crowe, State's Attorney, declared tonight in an address before a citizens' committee called to consider law-enforcement measures.

"If a man in this town wants to erect a home he must add a certain percentage to the cost for a band of criminals who levy tribute on all building operations," Crowe declared.

"The men who run Chicago criminal affairs have struck terror into the very hearts of our citizens. Murder can be committed here in the loop with fifty witnesses looking on, and the law is powerless to bring the slayer to justice."

He declared that the only remedy was to awaken the public conscience. "If we don't, we shall get to the point where we will have no law and you will be meeting to organize vigilance committees," he said in conclusion.

GOVERNOR IS TESTY IN REPLY.

Answers White Letter and Says He "Insisted in Vain" for Reapportionment.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—Gov. Stephens today made public a somewhat lengthy and testy reply to a letter received by him several days ago from Assemblyman John Robert White of Glendale requesting the Governor to "abandon the unfair attitude" he had assumed in refusing to call a special session of the Legislature to consider reapportionment.

Although the Governor quotes the State constitution to prove his contention that the Legislature alone is responsible for failure to carry out constitutional provisions relative to reapportionment, and while he hotly impugns the motives of Mr. White in criticising him, the major portion of his communication is devoted to propaganda apparently devised for home consumption in Los Angeles county.

In view of the absolute silence in the Governor's office while reapportionment was being discussed in the State Senate and Assembly last year, a silence which was never broken by the slightest official utterance, even when the Governor was accused of blocking reapportionment, the following paragraph in the Governor's letter to Mr. White occasioned a smile or two about the Capitol corridors:

"During the last regular session I insisted and reinsisted that the members of the Legislature do their sworn duty and enact a constitutional reapportionment measure. My insistence was in vain." It is believed that this passage will fire with considerable indignation Los Angeles county legislators who vainly tried to obtain support from the Governor for the efforts to obtain passage of a reapportionment measure.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION STEAMER IS GROUNDED

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 15. The American Relief Administration food ship, Western Glen, has been aground since last night on the beach, twenty-five miles south of Odessa. It is reported the vessel is not damaged.

BLOND HOLD-UP IS LEADER OF GANG, VICTIM REPORTS

A gang of auto bandits—three men and one woman—last night held up and robbed Grady Johnson of 834 West Tenth street and obtained, according to Mr. Johnson's report to the police, perhaps the largest diamond in Los Angeles. The diamond, set in a ring, he said was nine carats in weight and valued at $8000.

The robbery took place on Angeles Mesa Drive, near St. Mary's Academy. Mr. Johnson, driving toward the city in his automobile, had slowed down when the bandit car pulled up alongside from the rear.

WOMAN AT WHEEL.

The woman, described as a blonde, wearing a red picture hat, was at the wheel. The three men in the car with her all drew revolvers and stepped over on to the running board of Mr. Johnson's car. Mr. Johnson was compelled to stop. While he held his hands over his head the bandits stripped the ring from his finger and took $45 from his pockets. The woman, according to the victim of the robbery, appeared to be the leader of the gang.

Mr. Johnson drove immediately to Central Police Station, reported the robbery, and gave the police a complete description of the bandits.

LOSES $8000 DIAMOND.

Two bandits answering the descriptions of those who robbed Mr. Johnson, held up G. C. Shaw of Venice two hours later and robbed him of a twenty-carat diamond ring valued at $2000. The pair also operated in an automobile. The hold-up took place near Venice on a boulevard leading to Los Angeles. Mr. Shaw was traveling in his automobile at a moderate rate of speed when the bandits drove up behind him and compelled him to stop by the side of the road.

ARMED FOOTPADS FOILED.

Battling with two armed footpads near their home at 945 Shorb avenue, Watts, T. Regan and his son dodged flying bullets, saved their valuables and put the thugs to rout. Mr. Regan was walking toward his home, according to a report at the Sheriff's office, when the bandits held him up. He knocked one of them down with his fist and jumped back into the shadows of the street just as the other thug fired two shots at him.

Mr. Regan's son, hearing the shots, ran out of the Regan home and went to the assistance of his father. The bandits, unaware of the son's approach, were looking for Mr. Regan, Sr., so that when the son arrived he duplicated his father's actions by knocking one of the bandits down again and jumping back into the shadows. Two shots also were fired at him. Both missed their mark. Neighbors, hearing the shots, came to the rescue and the bandits fled.

BOOK-KEEPER IS HELD AS BIGAMIST.

LOS ANGELES MAN JAILED IN YUMA; THREE WIVES IS CHARGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YUMA, March 14.—Lester S. Laughlin, aged 45, an itinerant book-keeper who says he is of Los Angeles, is held here on a charge of bigamy and county authorities said they have found three alleged wives of the prisoner and are searching for a fourth woman, believed to be his first and legal spouse, who is thought to be in California.

The three alleged wives, according to Assistant County Attorney Malloy, are Hercel Hendrickson, aged 18, of San Diego, who says Laughlin is the father of her nine-months-old child; Helen Garrett, 16 years old, a schoolgirl whom he met in Andrade, Cal., and Dorothy Glickman of Philadelphia, Pa.

[No Lester S. Laughlin is listed in the Los Angeles city directory.]

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JOLIET (Ill.) March 15.—The will of Col. John Lambert, railroad and steel official and financier, was filed in Probate Court here today. The will disposes of $1,250,000 in cash legacies besides personal property and art treasures said to be worth at least $1,000,000.

The major portion of Col. Lambert's estate was left to his widow and daughter, who were given $350,000 each, besides all household goods and small properties in Joliet and Pasadena, Cal., where he made his winter home.

INCENDIARY IS BLAMED.

Chicago Loss in Fire Great.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 15.—Incendiarism today was blamed for the fire which caused one death, injury to scores of persons and did property damage variously estimated at from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000. The stocks and records of 250 firms, including the general office of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway, were destroyed and 25,000 persons were made jobless by the fire, which was the greatest since the conflagration of 1871, when practically the whole city was destroyed.

The entire block bound by Jackson Boulevard, Van Buren, Clinton and Canal streets was wrecked. Tonight the fire was smouldering and flames still were breaking out from piles of debris.

James McGovern, a member of insurance patrol No. 1, lost his life. He was struck by a falling cornice. Lieut. William Everett of Engine Company No. 95 suffered serious injuries, and Fireman Alfred Samuelson received slight injuries from falling brick.

MYSTERIOUS ORIGIN.

Mystery as to the origin of the fire baffled the efforts of Shirley T. High, fire attorney, and a dozen detectives.

"The fire surely is the work of incendiaries," declared Atty. High. "Some reports say the fire started in a dozen places at once. Because of the complete destruction of the building in which it started, our efforts to investigate from that source are baffled."

Mrs. Clarence Wendt, wife of the cashier of the Mercantile Trust and Savings Bank, told Mr. High that she saw seven or eight men fleeing from the scene of the fire. Mrs. Wendt was sitting in an automobile in front of the Burlington building waiting for her husband. She said she saw the men running from behind the buildings.

Frank Carsey, former boxing instructor of the police department, was taken into custody as a suspect early in the day, but later was released. Carsey formerly was employed by H. C. Schiff, president of the Confectionery Specialty Company, one of the companies whose plant was razed.

THREATENING LETTERS.

Schiff said he recently discharged Carsey, and since has received threatening letters. The fire started in the building adjoining

MORE FUNDS, IS DE VALERA CRY.

"Cumann na Poblachta" New Organization.

Radical Seeks to Stir Up Irish Trouble.

Manifesto is Issued by Sinn Feiner.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUBLIN, March 15.—Eamonn de Valera issued a manifesto this evening launching a new Irish organization to be called the "Cumann na Poblachta," or Republican Association, and asked financial and moral support of it.

According to the manifesto, the new organization takes its stand on the proclamation of the Irish republic in Easter Week, 1916, and its ratification in the declaration of independence of 1919. De Valera signed the manifesto on behalf of the republican members of the Dail Eireann and their standing committee.

WANT RECOGNITION.

The main objects of the organization, as stated in the manifesto, are to obtain international recognition of the Irish republic, to maintain the undiminished sovereign authority of the Dail and to repudiate the proposed agreement with Great Britain as humiliating to the nation and destructive of its views and rightful claims.

The new organization will probably act as the Republican party machine, since the old Sinn Fein organization, the Ard Fheis, will not be available for that purpose for either the Republicans or the Free State advocates, owing to the recent agreement reached at a meeting of that organization.

QUESTION OF CONSTITUTION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, March 15. — Questioned in the House of Commons whether the constitution of the Irish Free State when drafted by the provisional government would be immediately submitted to the British Parliament for approval and if necessary for amendment before the Irish electorate votes on it, Winston Spencer Churchill, the Colonial Secretary, today replied:

"No. The constitution must necessarily be submitted to Parliament before the Free State is established. But I cannot undertake that it will be submitted before it is submitted to the Irish electorate.

DEBATE BY LORDS.

Debate on the Irish Free State treaty was resumed in the House of Lords. There had been persistent reports that the "die-hards" would seek to destroy the treaty by amendments, but the tone of today's debate gave little indication of such tactics.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, one of the leaders of the "die-hards" movement, was a speaker. He admitted that he was an unrepentant unionist, but at the same time said he recognized that nothing remained but to see the government's policy through and to do what was in their power to make it successful.

To reject the Irish treaty bill, asserted Lord Lansdowne, would be to extinguish the only bright ray of hope illuminating a melancholy and depressing horizon. His speech was taken as an indication that the bill eventually would be ratified.

INDIANA PRISONER WANTS TO PREACH DANGERS OF MATRIMONY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, March 15.—Isaiah Moore, 32 years old, in jail here for having thirteen wives, declared tonight that he contemplated becoming an evangelist so he might warn others of the dangers of matrimony, as soon as he gets out of his present troubles, which were increased during the day by the return of grand jury indictments charging him with bigamy, embezzlement and grand larceny.

"My own desire is to lead a Christian life," said Moore, who became acquainted with most of his wives when attending church. "I always wanted to enter the ministry, and so I will become an evangelist when I get out. I'm going to warn other boys."

The bigamy charge returned by the grand jury centers around Moore's marriage recently to Miss Harriet Evans of Mexico, Ind., at which time the indictment charges he had a short time before married and deserted Laura Hertzberg of Peoria, Ill. The embezzlement and grand larceny charges allege that he took a check for $913 from Miss Evans and then deserted her.

"TIMES" WANT ADS SET A NEW RECORD.

Biggest February Score in Forty Years.

All February records for the past forty years went glimmering when the Los Angeles Times during the month just ended printed the tremendous total of 106,130 separate want ads.

HUGE GAIN OVER SECOND PAPER.

Beating its own big score of February last year by 3788 want ads, The Times also enormously increased its lead over the second local paper, as shown by the following tabulation:

"TIMES" LEAD, FEBRUARY, 1921, 27,602 WANT ADS
"TIMES" LEAD, FEBRUARY, 1922, 30,514 WANT ADS

Since Times classified advertising is conceded to be a safe barometer of business, the figures for January and February show that local affairs are in a thriving condition, Southern California having transacted more business during the past two months than ever before in the corresponding period. The figures also show a growing tendency among advertisers to eliminate hit-and-miss methods and to concentrate their efforts in a result-producing medium.

"When in doubt as to which of two mediums to use, choose the one with the greater amount of classified advertising."—[San Francisco Examiner.

MONTAGU DEFENDS SELF.

Former Secretary for India Declares "Dismissal" Was Prelext; Had to Publish Curzon Letter.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, March 15.—Edwin S. Montagu, who recently resigned as Secretary for India, was granted an opportunity to defend himself in the House of Commons tonight against the government and Earl Curzon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs. He maintained that his dismissal was a pretext and that he had no option except to publish Lord Curzon's letter in order to defend his position.

If his action were such a grave constitutional outrage, why was he not called to account, he asked, especially since the Cabinet met the following Wednesday; yet nothing was done until Thursday when he was summarily dismissed.

EXPRESSES REGRET.

Mr. Montagu went to considerable length into the contents of Lord Curzon's letter and expressed profound regret that there had been any misunderstanding but on the general question, maintained that his attitude had been justified and repeated that if the government would allow the publication of his telegram to Lord Reading, the Viceray, it would be found that he realized the impossibility of the Allies fulfilling all the demands made by India.

WANTED TO RESIGN.

He explained that when on a previous occasion he had been on the point of resigning on account of disagreement with the government's Near Eastern policy, the government had treated him very considerately, representing that his resignation would have a disastrous effect on the Mohammedans in India and he wished to emphasize that his resignation now did not mean rejection of the right to consideration of the terms put forward in behalf of the Moslems in India.

Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, briefly defended the action of the ministers and reiterated that the Prime Minister knew nothing of the publication of the Indian statement until he read it in Thursday's newspapers. He denied also that Mr. Montagu's resignation was due to any change in the government policy with regard to India.

The subject was then dropped.

HOUSE SPLITS ON BONUS BILL.

he has been in Florida, the Speaker has indicated that he might not entertain a motion for this purpose, because of the importance of the bonus measure.

Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the Republican leader, said today it would be "rather unusual" for the Speaker to refuse to entertain such a motion if a majority of the House desired consideration of the bill under such a plan. He added that it was his judgment that a majority did so desire.

SPEAKER HAS POWER.

Representative Garner, Texas, the ranking Democrat on the Ways and Means Committee, declared that if Speaker Gillett were "persistent against the passage of the bill, he has the power in his office to prevent its consideration."

"The power to refuse recognition on Monday to suspend the rules and pass the bill," Garner said, "exists on Tuesday to refuse recognition to the Rules Committee to consider a special rule authorizing its consideration.

"If Speaker Gillett objects to the consideration of the measure on suspension day because it cannot be amended, to be consistent he would have to decline recognition to consider a rule to cut off the right of any member to offer amendment."

MUCH DISCUSSION.

In the discussion today in House cloakrooms and corridors some of those advocating consideration of the bill under a suspension of the rules advanced the argument that to take it up under a special rule might result in complications. They said there was the possibility of a measure to recommit with instructions to the committee to reinsert the cash bonus feature and provide for an excess profits tax to finance it. Some contended that such a motion probably would prevail.

Those counseling delay beyond next Monday think that before the House acts, there should be an informal conference by House leaders with President Harding, particularly in view of the action of the Ways and Means Committee in voting to report out the bill within ten minutes after Secretary Mellon and Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger had appeared by invitation and had opposed the bank loan section of the adjusted service certificate option.

Their idea is that after this conference the House Republicans should have a party conference at which there could be an agreement to reject all amendments except such as the majority party might agree upon.

SEEK HARDING'S VIEWS.

It was indicated in some quarters that the President's views would be sought by some House leaders immediately after his return from Florida, Saturday. There also is to be a conference with Speaker Gillett on that day and many members of the House think he will be able to give first-hand information as to how the President regards the bill in its present form and also whether he looks with favor on the plan to put it through under a suspension of the rules.

Preparation of the committee report on the bill was under way today but it was not expected to be ready for formal presentation to the House until late tomorrow. Representative Garner obtained unanimous consent of the House today for the filing of a minority report up to the time of adjournment of the House Saturday. He said privately he would not file any minority views but added that he could not say whether any would be filed by Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, who voted against the bill in committee by proxy.

"BIG BILL" HAYWOOD PLANNING TO RETURN.

I.W.W. LEADER WILL KEEP PROMISE TO COME BACK, SAYS ATTORNEY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 15.—William ("Big Bill") Haywood, leader of the I.W.W., who fled to Russia to escape serving a twenty-year sentence in the penitentiary for obstructing the war efforts of the United States, will return despite reports that he is head of a soviet syndicate to develop mining fields, Otto Christensen, his attorney and one of his bondsmen, said today.

"Haywood promised to return to this country as soon as his business in Russia has been completed," said Mr. Christensen, "and I believe he will keep his word. This mining development plan is nothing new to me. I have heard of it for months. I believe that the soviet government suggested it to Haywood as a means of getting exiles like himself to work instead of being forced to take care of them.

"There are approximately 2000 Americans, men and women, living in Russia now. Because of Haywood's experience as an organizer he has probably been given the task of getting the exiles to work."

Note and Pistol Near Body Tell Woman's Story

Tired of life because she was unable to realize the love of those near to her, Mrs. Evelyn Markley, 35 years of age, ended her life by firing a bullet into her brain late yesterday afternoon.

She was the wife of J. E. Markley who has a candy store at 3526 North Broadway and lives at 127 South Gates street. Mrs. Markley for several months has been in a sanatorium because of a mental disorder. She escaped from her attendant. She leaves a son 4 years old.

Her body was found in a clump of eucalyptus trees on Washington Boulevard, at Death's Curve, near Venice, early last night. A revolver was found near the body.

A note found in her purse read: "Without being able to realize the love of my own little son Eugene, or my dear husband or one thing God has created, life no longer means anything to me."

The body was taken to the Kirkelie undertaking rooms.

BRITAIN'S SUMMER TIME.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, March 15.—"Summer time" in Great Britain will begin March 26 and end October 8. An order to this effect has been issued to secure uniformity in time with France and Belgium.

REVEALS GHOST OF ANTIGONISH.

I have proved that the wireless wave theory cannot be true, unless the waves are endowed with intelligence to know just when people are in the house, with a dislike for the upper part of the room walls, with a repugnance to having persons see them break out into flames and with ability to transport cushions from one room to another and the like.

SET BY HUMAN HANDS.

"The fires were undoubtedly set by human hands, judging by the unmistakable signs left in the house.

"The burns are never found on the wall paper higher than the reach of a person five feet tall, which is the height of the girl in the family. Over the bed which fills one end of a room they are never higher than such a person kneeling could reach, and in muddy or snowy weather, one would wash not to stand on the bed.

"Other slightly higher places on the woodwork were always set on fire by pieces of cloth, which could easily have been tossed. In a recess over a door where a fire occurred were found the fragments of a glove, and undisturbed and in the midst of them a match where it could not have been prior to the fire nor have been placed there after its extinguishment.

"The fires avoided starting before witnesses as there was no occult reason for doing and avoided all parts of the dining-room and parlor visible from the kitchen.

LIQUID IS FOUND.

"An odorless, inflammable liquid was found in a bottle on a shelf which produced the described effects on wet paper. Other indices were found pointing to the same conclusion, namely that a person five feet tall secretly performed the acts as opportunity offered.

"The various witnesses were undoubtedly honest in believing that the acts could not have been thus performed, but my acquaintance with the errors of observation and of memory on the part of the intelligent persons dealing with a large number of details in a matter quite new to them has often demonstrated that such testimony may be vitally in error.

"But I am of the opinion that the girl was not mentally culpable. She is mentally exceedingly young for her years, and within the past year has had singular 'dream states' from which it was difficult to rouse her. It is very probable that she was the victim of altered states of consciousness, about which psychology has learned so much of late. Such was demonstrated by the condition of Esther Cox, around whom similar phenomena in the great Amherst mystery' revolved.

DR. HYSLOP'S EVIDENCE.

"If the views of the late Dr. Hyslop, who amassed considerable evidence in support of them, are correct, this would be a case where a discarnate agency brought about the alteration of personality and performed the acts through the girl.

"If Thompson, is the case reported at length by the American Society of Psychological Research, having no experience in painting, and suddenly acquiring a technique which was pronounced by an expert to be that of at least ten years' experience, and a style which experts said much resembled that of the deceased artist Gifford, was really influenced by telepathic contact with the dead artist, it would be conceivable that the Antigonish case was similar, although on a different line.

"The experiences of Messrs. Whidden and Caroll, when at the house for the purpose of investigating, by way of hearing strange sounds as of footsteps, and feeling actual sensations, are supported as supernormal experiences of some kind by other cases investigated at length by experts, and which revealed no psychical cause.

JUDGE'S IRE AROUSED BY CIGAR IN COURT.

TRIAL HALTED AS SMOKER IS DECLARED TO BE IN CONTEMPT.

Judge Walton J. Wood sniffed as the odor of a fine cigar assailed his nostrils in court yesterday. Zounds, some man was enjoying a smoke in the very courtroom. His gaze swept the courtroom. Among the spectators was the culprit, at peace with himself and the world, a spiral of blue smoke ascending from a cigar clinched between his teeth.

"Stand up," exclaimed the court.

Gerald Dockeray arose, startled, as the court seemed to signal him out.

"Throw away that cigar," came the next command.

Mr. Dockeray disposed of it, albeit lingeringly. It was a fine cigar, going good.

"In all my experience," opined the court, "I never saw a more flagrant violation of court etiquette. I adjudge you in contempt of court. I will fine you $10, and admonish you not to repeat the offence."

Arthur Wright, attorney, who had called Mr. Dockeray into court as a witness in the suit of J. R. Page against Charles Swain, involving the rescission of a contract covering an automobile, became sponsor for Mr. Dockeray. Mr. Dockeray subsided into his seat; the excitement abated and the drone of question and answer was resumed.

Later Mr. Dockeray apologized to the court for his lapse, and the fine was suspended.

VETERAN COLLAPSES.

Howard Wenzel Becomes Ill in Court at Divorce Hearing.

Howard Wenzel, an overseas veteran, who came back from France broken in health, mentally and physically, collapsed in Judge York's court yesterday during the trial of the divorce suit brought by Gussie Wenzel. She charged him with desertion. He countered with a similar charge. Involved in the divorce suit is a title to property.

Mrs. Wenzel says it is her separate property; he asserts it is community. The trial will be resumed today.

FIREBUG NOW GIVEN BLAME.

that occupied by Schiff's firm. When Schiff was brought face to face with Carsey, however, he retracted some of his statements.

The fire destroyed the $2,500,000 building owned by the W. W. Springer estate, wrecked the skyscraper of the Burlington Railway, valued at nearly $4,000,000, and razed one five-story and four two-story buildings facing Jackson Boulevard, between Canal and Clinton streets. In addition it destroyed another five-story building, south of the Metropolitan elevated tracks, and the Canal-street station of the elevated railroad.

The fire started at either 517, 519 or 521 West Jackson Boulevard. In less than two hours after the fire was discovered an entire block was in flames, walls of the Burlington Building alone standing above the mass of ruins.

The Austin Building, in which the flames were first discovered, adjoined the Burlington Building, the inside of which, together with the valuable records of the road, were reduced to ashes.

MAIL IS TRANSFERRED.

The intensity of the heat was manifested by the cracking of window panes a block from the scene. It was feared for a time that Union station and the Canal-street mail terminals, diagonally across the street, would burn. The mail was hurriedly transferred to a safe place.

When the flames had subsided sufficiently a guard of several hundred policemen were set around the burned district to prevent looting, and 5000 men were set to work digging in the ruins for records of firms which were victims of the fire.

An investigation of the origin of the fire by the City Council was asked by Alderman Joseph Kostner this afternoon. The inquiry order also asked an investigation of every skyscraper in Chicago. Alderman Kostner told the Council he had proof that the Burlington Building was not constructed to conform with the fireproof building requirements.

"There are many buildings in Chicago like the Burlington," he told the Council. "They are supposed to be fireproof, but they are not. The Council fire committee visited the ruins during the day, special attention being given to the Burlington Building."

The attention of the committee also was called to the fact that while the department was able to halt the flames on the lower floors of the railroad structure, it was helpless against the fire above the eighth floor. The streams from the hose were unable to carry higher.

Lack of high pressure water system again was pointed out by the blaze.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICO, March 15.—More falling of rocks on warehouse roofs here today revived popular interest in the puzzle that no one has been able to solve.

Three rocks were reported to have landed, approximately an hour apart, one of them bouncing off the roof just as a woman stopped her automobile in front of the warehouse to ask if the rocks "really fell."

HUNT'S CRUSADE NOW UNDER WAY

Former Governor Out to Save Brain Child.

Attacks Proposed Changes in Constitution.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MIAMI (Ariz.) March 15.—Former Gov. Hunt's promised "Cruise of the Tin Lizzie" has been started. The former Chief Executive of Arizona and late Minister to Siam is here to fire his first broadside at the constitutional amendments proposed by the State Legislature.

Today, Jackson Day, is considered a fit date on which to start a movement designed for the protection of radical democracy against the assaults of conservatism. Especially to be defended is the direct primary, though there is to be bitter opposition to the change of a word in what has been termed "the God-given Constitution" that was evolved in 1911 by a convention that was overwhelmingly made up of the progressive or labor element of the Democratic party. A number of the conservatives refused to sign the document, being denied the right of expressing dissent under their names. Now the conservative element of the party has come into apparent control of its policies and the labor influence in the Legislature appears to have lost much of its strength.

Hunt was president of the constitutional convention and stands by the evolved document in its every paragraph. He is rallying the progressives and radicals and will visit every part of the State on his crusade, with especial attention to the mining camps, where a large part of his strength always has been. There is no intimation that he is contemplating possible return to the Governor's chair or assumption of a Senatorial toga, succeeding Ashurst. But there can be no doubt of his activity along the very same lines he has followed in the past in a political career that started more than thirty years ago in Globe, a camp he entered on foot, as he proudly tells, and in which he accumulated a substantial fortune. His home now is in Phoenix.

America Broke, Red Comment on Genoa Meet.

[BY RADIO—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIGA, March 15 (via wireless.)—America has not enough money to attend the Genoa conference, according to M. Stocklove, a communist editor, writing in the Moscow Pravda regarding the refusal of the United States to participate in the meeting.

"America does not have large means at its disposal, while its private capital is investing in Central and South America, so only small credits are being granted to Europe," said M. Stocklove. "Under such conditions it would be dangerous for America to attend the Genoa conference with empty pockets because the present desire of America to rehabilitate Europe would meet a counter demand for a cancellation of the debts."

M. Stocklove closes by saying that the nonappearance of America means that the United States will not be able to help Europe economically even if the Genoa conference meets.

ONLY RECOGNITION OF CLAIMS SOUGHT.

UNITED STATES WILL NOT NOW PRESS DEMANDS FOR REPARATIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Recognition by other interested governments of the rights of the United States in connection with distribution of German reparations was all that was bought at this time in the recent demand upon the Allied finance ministers for payment of $241,000,000 expenses of the American army of occupation, it was stated today by a high administration official.

Having "established its case," it was said, the United States will not press further now its demands for payment of the bill.

State Department officials said today that they were not prepared to comment at this time upon the possibility that the American viewpoint touching its claims would be presented directly to the British, French and Italian governments by resident American ambassadors. The qualification "at this time" was taken as an indication in some quarters, however, that official information on the subject would be given later.

He halted the offending driver before discovering her identity, but arrested her, anyhow, and ordered her to proceed to the police station. She obeyed and deposited $10 bail out of her own purse, but failed to appear in court when her case was called today.

Police Judge Tyrell said that if she failed to be on hand tomorrow her bail would be forfeited.

SHY ONE ARBUCKLE JUROR.

Trial of Fatty Expected to Start Today; Selection of Bepler Recalls Famous Case.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Attorneys for the State announced late today that they accepted the jury as it then stood for the third trial of Roscoe Arbuckle, film comedian, on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress. The jury contained three women.

Final selection of the jury was held up by defense counsel after a few minutes deliberation, when they excused one of the nine men on the jury. Another man was called to be examined for the last place.

The session concluded with one juror yet to be chosen. The State had exercised one peremptory challenge and defense two.

Selections of the juries in both the first and second Arbuckle trials took a week, while the conclusion of the fourth court session in the present saw the jury lacking but one man of completion. It was expected tonight that the jury would be completed early Thursday and the taking of testimony started. It is expected that two alternate jurors would be chosen.

The selection as juror today of Fred D. Bepler, proprietor of a machine shop, recalled a famous trial in San Francisco thirty years ago, in which M. B. Curtis, also known as "Sam'l of Posen," was tried for the alleged murder of a San Francisco policeman. His nickname "Sam'l of Posen" was taken from his play of that name, which had brought him a fortune of a million. He spent that sum in his defense in three trials, the first two resulting in jury disagreements and the third in his acquittal.

Bepler was a juror in the first trial of Curtis and told the court that he had carried a strong prejudice against circumstantial evidence ever since. Despite this assertion and the fact that the charges against Arbuckle were based largely on circumstantial evidence, Bepler was accepted as a juror.

WOMAN RETURNS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, March 15.—After two day and nights of absence, during which efforts of the police and her family to locate her were of no avail, Mrs. J. E. Cook, 1029 West Fourth street, returned home about 10 a.m. today, apparently in a very calm state of mind.

While on her way home, she was met by a searching party, consisting of Chief of Police Lyter, Officer Munson and two of Mrs. Cook's sons.

She seemed to see nothing whatever unusual in her disappearance and refused to be interviewed, beyond stating that it was an affair between her husband and herself and that she would not discuss the identity of friends who had sheltered her.

HOUSE REJECTS SENATE ACTION.

Cuts Down Allowance of Shipping Board.

Refuses to Buy More Land for Printing Office.

Insists on Stand in Regard to Pay of Officials.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—By a vote of 77 to 19 the House refused today to agree to a Senate amendment to the independent offices appropriation bill, which would permit the Shipping Board during the coming fiscal year to continue to use funds received from liquidation of assets up to $55,000,000.

Concurrence was also refused in a Senate amendment authorizing the purchase for $1,500,000 of land in Washington, to be used for an addition to the government printing office.

The House, however, ratified action of the conferees who had reached a compromise which inserts in the bill the language, proposed by the Senate, limiting the use of Army camps or cantonments as vocational training centers to Camp Sherman, O., and which restores a clause stricken out by the Senate, providing that no part of the appropriation for vocational training shall be expended for construction work, except for necessary repairs instead of for necessary minor repairs, as proposed by the House. As the bill now stands, no limit is placed on the number of former service men who can be trained at the Ohio camp.

AIDS VETERANS' BUREAU.

Another conference agreement approved by the House appropriates approximately $40,000,000 for salaries and expenses of the Veterans' Bureau as proposed by the Senate, instead of $36,000,000 as proposed by the House, as well as $140,000,000 for military and naval compensation, as proposed by the House, instead of $145,000,000 and not exceeding $15,000,000 of any unexpended balance, as provided in a Senate amendment and $146,400,000 for vocational rehabilitation, as proposed by the Senate, instead of $127,000,000 in the House provision.

Still another compromise of the conferees which met with approval was one growing out of the effort of a bloc of House and Senate members to have the liner Leviathan reconditioned at Boston Navy yard. It inserts a proposal by the Senate that no part of the money appropriated in the bill shall be used for the repair or reconditioning of any vessel until a reasonable opportunity has been given to government Navy yards to submit estimates on the work. The Senate provision was modified by the conferees, however, to permit government arsenals to submit bids and to require estimates from the Navy yards or arsenals when the expenses of such repair or reconditioning is in excess of $100,000 instead of $5000.

LIMITS ADVERTISING.

Approval was also given to action of the conferees in striking out a Senate provision that no part of the money appropriated for the Shipping Board shall be used to pay commissions on advertising contracts of more than 5 per cent.

The House, by an overwhelming vote, insisted on its disagreement to a Senate amendment which provides that not more than thirteen officers of the Shipping Board shall receive annual salaries in excess of $11,000. The original House provision provided that not more than six officials should receive salaries in excess of $11,000 and that none should be paid more than $25,000.

In urging the House to stand on the original provision, Representative Mann, Republican, Illinois, declared "that we have no right to pay salaries reaching to the mountain top."

"A salary of $25,000 is reasonably high," he declared, "and we ought not to pay it to anyone in the government short of the President."

COMPROMISE ON SEED GRAIN FOR FARMER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—A compromise appropriation of $1,500,000 for Federal aid to Farmers for purchasing seed grain was agreed to today by Senate and House conferees on the McCumber bill, substitute for the $5,000,000 appropriation proposed by the Senate and $1,000,000 by the House.

Final action on the bill, however, went over.

MRS. GOULD DEMANDS EX-HUSBAND'S CASH.

NEEDS $48,000 YEARLY FOR LIVING EXPENSES, SHE SAYS IN COURT PLEA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—Counsel for Mrs. Edith Kelly Gould, divorced wife of Frank Jay Gould, today told Supreme Court Justice Newburger that his client needed $48,000 annually for living expenses. They were enumerated as follows:

Clothes to wear, shoes, etc., $18,000.

Rent of apartment, $9000.
Food, $5000.
Entertainment, $3000.
Doctor bills, $2000.

This statement was presented to the court by Mrs. Gould's attorney, who asked that she be granted $160,000 for "her board and clothing, maintenance and other necessities," since her husband discontinued her allowance after a divorce obtained from her in France nearly four years ago. Decision was reserved.

ORGANIZATIONS SCORE JOHNSON.

W.C.T.U. Censures Senator for Treaty Fight.

Kiwanis Club Demands that He Cease Attacks.

Former Admirer Says Heads Hang in Shame.

Senator Johnson, whose attack on the four-power pact brought a flood of indignant repudiation of his stand from Californians in every part of the State, continued yesterday to be the object of intense resentment by thousands who charged him with bad faith and with the most selfish and ignoble motives.

In keeping with formal resolutions by influential organizations and citizens, a resolution censuring Senator Johnson for his stand was adopted yesterday by the City Federation of the W.C.T.U., and was telegraphed to the Senator by Mrs. Fred Wheeler, president of the federation.

DEPLORES ATTITUDE.

The resolution deplored his attitude and attack on the four-power treaty and expressed the disappointment of the federation members that California's senior Senator was aligned with those fighting the pact.

Members of the Kiwanis Club have sent the following resolution to Johnson:

"The Kiwanis Club of Los Angeles, in accord with the sentiment of more than 65,000 members in the international organization, demands that you abandon your attacks on the treaties negotiated by the Disarmament Conference. As citizens of California whom you represent we demand that you lend your best efforts toward ratification."

HAD AMPLE TIME.

Hundreds of similarly-worded resolutions and letters were sent to Johnson in ample time to enable him to properly represent California's indorsement of the four-power pact, but according to many of his former close political friends and advisers, he chose to defy sentiment in this State and to present his own "selfish and distorted views."

Typical of many letters condemning Senator Johnson for his attack on the Pacific peace treaty, the following communication has been received by The Times from J. R. Conley of Los Angeles:

"As a former supporter and admirer of Hiram Johnson, senior Senator of California, I feel that we who have so faithfully fought for him in the past have been shamefully betrayed.

"His unreasonable, uncalled-for and vicious attack on the four-power treaty is really a thrust at the Harding administration and is a betrayal of the pledge he made to his friends that he would uphold the Republican principles at all hazards if he was elected.

HANG HEADS IN SHAME.

"While we should not be surprised at anything in these feverish days of reconstruction, we who have pointed with pride at some of the reforms supported by Johnson here in our great commonwealth are now hanging our heads in shame at the mention of his name. It is almost unthinkable that for selfish interest our beloved Hiram Johnson would turn traitor to the interests of his State, the Republican party and the peace of the nations of the Pacific and become an advocate of Hearst's disloyal principles.

"One thing is certain, except for a few Examiner readers Johnson has killed himself politically in California and I do not think he could be elected to any office within the gift of the people of this State. We are crying 'shame' on our senior Senator."

SEVERAL CHANGES IN STEAMSHIP COMPANY.

PACIFIC MAIL ACQUIRES NEW PRESIDENT, TREASURER AND DIRECTORS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—Gale H. Carter was elected president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company today, succeeding George J. Baldwin, who was elected to the newly created office of chairman of the board.

Upon resigning the presidency, Mr. Baldwin relinquished active management of the line, which he had held for the last six years. Mr. Carter was elected a director last September.

Maurice Bouvier and N. de Taube resigned as directors and M. C. Brush, Sr., vice-president of the American International Corporation, and Lawrence H. Sherman, a former director of the Pacific Mail Company, were elected to fill the vacancies. Mr. Sherman had resigned his place on the board last summer before leaving for an extended trip abroad.

A. G. Bates resigned as treasurer, and H. P. Brophy, who served five years as assistant treasurer, was elected to succeed him.

WOMAN CENTENARIAN JILTED BY INTENDED.

NEAR-BRIDEGROOM, AGED 80, SHIES AT PUBLICITY; CALLS OFF WEDDING.

[BY LEASED WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY, March 15.—Mrs. Emma McMahon, who last December celebrated her one hundredth birthday, had expected to be a bride today. She was to become the wife of Sims Berry, a youth of 80, but the bridegroom got cold feet last night just as the knot was to be tied.

Berry had joined with friends and relatives in the jollity of the occasion. With the prospective bride he had received congratulations and best wishes. Then the newspaper photographers arrived. Everybody was perturbed and Berry balked. He didn't want to get into the newspapers. The newspaper men pleaded with him to be a good fellow and not spoil things, but he became angry, grabbed his coat and hat and left the house. They waited for him to return, but he never showed up. The wedding was off.

"No man can trifle with my affections," said Mrs. McMahon. "I'll not take him back now."

laid the unanimous consent agreement before the Senate with a statement that he had been prompted to prepare it because several Democratic Senators had come to him with the suggestion that a time be fixed so they would be free to attend other duties away from Washington. The irreconcilable element also had been consulted before the formal proposal was made and had given their assent, although Senator Johnson told the Senate he considered it unwise, because it would serve to deaden interest and keep Senators away from the sessions that are to intervene before the final vote.

The opposition leaders would not discuss what bearing the agreement might have on their hopes of defeating ratification, but conceded privately that they saw little to be gained by delaying a vote. This admission in itself was accepted by those in charge of the treaty as virtually meaning the collapse of any real effort to beat the pact, for which enough pledged votes are claimed to insure ratification.

HOPE FOR RESERVATION.

It was considered probable tonight that in their campaign to obtain reservations the opposition would center attention on the question of admitting outside powers to the Pacific conferences. Although defeated three times in the form of an amendment, proponents of the proposal still believe that if embodied in the right kind of reservation it might command the support of many who had hesitated to amend the treaty text itself, because that method would require reopening of the negotiations.

In the form presented today by Senator Pittman, the amendment would have limited the outside powers gaining the benefits of the treaty to those which actually have insular possessions in the Pacific. The vote, however, was virtually the same as that by which the two previous drafts were defeated yesterday.

Three Republicans, Borah, Idaho; Johnson, California, and France, Maryland, supported it, while three Democrats, Pomerene, Ohio; Randell, Louisiana and Williams, Mississippi, voted in opposition. Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, who supported yesterday's amendments, and Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, who opposed them, were absent when today's roll call was taken.

BUTTON, BUTTON WHO'S GOT THEM

Cost Buyers of United States $100,000,000 a Year.

Pearl Brands Are Mostly from River Mussels.

Factories in This Country Produce Billions.

The people of the United States pay an average of $100,000,000 a year for buttons and have sent $10,000,000 worth abroad since the beginning of the war.

The history of the button industry in the United States since the war cut off our principal source of foreign buttons, drawn chiefly from Germany and Austria-Hungary, is, says the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York, one of great activity both in home production and exportation. In the year before the war the value of the buttons turned out by our factories was $20,000,000, while a census statement recently announced shows the value of outturn of our button factories in 1919, the latest census year, $42,000,000, and experts in that industry estimate that the sum paid for them by the final consumer in the United States was about $100,000,000. The total number of buttons turned out by the factories of the United States in 1919 is stated by the census at 49,533,000 gross, or equivalent to practically 10,000,000,000 buttons.

Reaching this big total of over $44,000,000 worth of buttons supplied to the home market by our manufacturers, they have rapidly expanded their sales abroad. Prior to the war the value of the buttons exported from the United States averaged a little more than $500,000 a year, but with the chief European button manufacturers, Germany and Austria-Hungary, cut off from the outside world the foreign demand upon the United States was greatly stimulated and the value of our exports of this class of manufacture jumped from a little over $500,000 in 1914 to $1,500,000 in 1915, $2,000,000 in 1916, $2,500,000 in 1918, $3,750,000 in 1919, and nearly $4,000,000 in 1920.

Of this big production and exportation the once-despised mussel, existing in enormous quantities in the rivers of the United States and especially in the Mississippi, furnishes an important part of the material used in the manufacture of pearl buttons, and the score of button factories, which line the Mississippi in Illinois and Iowa turn out millions of dollars' worth of pearl buttons, the exports alone of that particular group, pearl buttons, having amounted to nearly $1,000,000 in 1920. In fact, a little over one-third of the buttons turned out in 1919 were fresh water pearl or shell, the total number in that year being 23,940,000 gross out of a grand total of 69,322,000 gross.

The whole world has apparently learned the attractiveness and value of the United States button. Of the pearl buttons alone exported in 1920, direct sales were made to no less than sixty countries and colonies, and the $1,000,000 worth of buttons other than pearl distributed went to over eighty countries and colonies. To Europe alone the 1920 exports of pearl buttons amounted to $200,000 and all other buttons $800,000, making the 1920 exports over $1,000,000, while the remainder of the nearly $4,000,000 worth exported in 1920 were distributed to North and South America, Asia, Oceania and Africa.

The capital now invested in the button-manufacturing industry of the United States is approximately $30,000,000 and the sums paid in wages in the last census year over $10,000,000. Of the 587 button factories in the United States in 1919, 243 were in the State of New York. Japan, always alert in recognizing new developments in world needs, has also tremendously increased her button output in recent years, and especially that of pearl buttons, as is illustrated by the fact that she sent to the United States in 1920 5,000,000 gross of pearl buttons, valued at $1,947,000, while the pearl buttons drawn by us from all other countries amounted to less than $30,000.

Treasure-Hunting Expedition Headed by Woman Sets Out for Cocos Island.

Cocos Island, which has been searched for treasure many times by various expeditions, was the locale of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island."

IMPORT DUTY VOTED HIDES BY COMMITTEE.

AGRICULTURAL SENATORS WIN TEMPORARY VICTORY; EXPECT FIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—An import duty of 15 per cent ad valorem on hides has been voted by Senate Finance Committee Republicans who are rewriting the Fordney tariff bill. Hides were on the free list under both the Payne-Aldrich and Underwood laws and would have so remained under the Fordney measure.

There were two separate votes on this schedule, the first having been 5 to 4 against any duty. Leaders of the Republican agricultural tariff bloc insisted that cattle raisers be protected and on a reconsideration of the first vote, the 15 per cent rate was agreed upon, also by a vote of 5 to 4. It was indicated that the fight to retain hides on the free list would be carried to the floor of the Senate.

The 15 per cent ad valorem duty would not quite equal the rates asked by the Republican agricultural tariff bloc, which were 3 cents a pound on green hides and 4 cents a pound on drier hides, but it was thought to be fairly satisfactory to that bloc.

Senator Gooding, Idaho, chairman of the bloc, was heard again today in executive session by the Republican tariff makers on the duties of wool. He insists upon a basic rate of 31 cents a pound on the scoured content which the committee majority has agreed upon tentatively.

The Idaho Senator said that Senators from the agricultural circles were determined to have protection for the farm industry equal to that given other industries because the farmers had been hit perhaps even harder than the other industries. He added that the Republican party could not defend a tariff bill that did not give equal protection all along the line.

MANILA RAILROAD CONTRACT DELAYED.

FILIPINO MEMBERS OF BOARD OF CONTROL OBJECT TO POLICY CHANGE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANILA (P. I.) March 15.—After two meetings of the board of control of Manila Railroad Company with representatives of the J. G. White Management Corporation, the signing of a contract for operation of the railroad by the White Corporation today was again postponed. It was learned that some Filipino members of the board of control object to a change from the policy of government ownership and operation of the road, believing if the policy is to be changed the Legislature should vote upon the question. The Philippine government owns 75 per cent of the stock of the railroad.

STRIKERS AROUSED, STATES GOMPERS.

SAYS TEXTILE WORKERS IN NEW ENGLAND WILL FIGHT TO LAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—New England textile workers are "aroused as I have never seen them aroused before," Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, stated today upon his return from strike center of the industry there. He asserted that the mill operatives were fighting to the last ditch against an attempt by the employers, through wage reductions, to "drag them down to the miserable conditions of the southern mill hands."

"A 20 per cent wage reduction in the present $17-a-week wage in New England," Mr. Gompers said, "would take $3.40 out of each pay envelope each week, and with it would go what little pleasure and joy there is in life, as well as some of the direct necessities."

EXPLAINS WHY RAILS ARE LOSING MONEY.

HIGHER TAXES, COAL AND OPERATING COSTS CAUSE, SAYS EDITOR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 15.—Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, in an address before the Chicago Association of Commerce today, explained why the net earnings of the railroads are smaller now than in 1916. He said the gross earnings in the last six months were 50 per cent greater than the same period in 1916, but the net return was smaller than in 1916.

"While the earnings, owing mainly to advance in rates, increased 50 per cent," he said, "the operating expenses increased almost 100 per cent and railway taxes are 75 per cent more than they were five years ago."

He said also that the roads are paying twice as much for coal now as they did in 1916. Mr. Dunn admitted that rates on some commodities are too high and ought to be reduced, but this cannot be accomplished until operating costs and taxes are brought back to a pre-war basis.

Entry to United States is Held Up.

Semenoff Must Submit to Hearing First.

Many Protests Against His Admission.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) March 15. Gen. Gregorieff Semenoff, Siberian anti-Bolshevik leader, who was held on board the steamer Empress of Russia following his arrival here from China yesterday, pending decision of immigration authorities as to whether he would be permitted to land, was allowed to go ashore today. The question of his admission to the United States now rests with authorities at Washington, immigration officials said.

MUST HAVE HEARING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, March 15.—If Gen. Semenoff applies for admission to the United States he must submit to a hearing before United States immigration inspectors, it was announced by Federal officials here today. If such a hearing is held it would be in Vancouver.

Instructions to this effect were received from Washington, D. C., today by Luther Weedin, United States Commissioner of Immigration here.

Gen. Semenoff said he was en route to Washington and Paris in connection with the information of a new Siberian republic.

ENTRY PROTESTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Gen. Semenoff will be required to appear before immigration inspectors before he applies for admission to the United States because of a question as to whether he is admissable under the immigration laws, officials said here tonight. There have been many protests lodged in Washington against his being admitted by the American Legion and other organizations, it was pointed out, because of his alleged treatment of American soldiers in Siberia. In addition, there were said to be a number of questions under the immigration law involved, because of some of his alleged private acts, including the possibility that he may be a bigamist.

The State Department vised Semenoff's passports some time ago but it was explained tonight that this was done as a matter of course and for him as a private citizen and not as an official representative of another government coming to this country on any special mission. A visa, it was added, does not of itself give an alien permission to enter the United States, such a question being for the Bureau of Immigration to determine. It is understood that immigration officials, before deciding to take action in the case, inquired of the State Department if it had any special interest in Gen. Semenoff and was assured that it had not.

Officials tonight said they understood the anti-Bolshevist leader had been permitted to land in Vancouver under a transit visa, which would permit him only to cross Canadian territory to an American port of entry.

Bankers, Capitalists, Lawyers, Doctors, Wholesale and Retail Merchants Feel Sure of Profits from this Big Enterprise

Some of the Most Astute Men of Los Angeles Back their Judgment of the Great Future for the Imperial Cotton Mills by Subscribing To Its Stock

When the Imperial Cotton Mills was incorporated to establish a cotton mill industry in Los Angeles, long advocated by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, many of the most astute and far-sighted men of prominence in Los Angeles have become identified with this enterprise.

These men are not the type who are satisfied with small returns on their investment. Neither do they put their money into blue-sky schemes that may make a fortune. They want big dividends just as every human being wants them, but they want to feel that their money is safe. These things they found out when they investigated the Imperial Cotton Mills.

1—300,000 bales of finest raw cotton are grown within a few hours of Los Angeles and shipped East.

2—Cotton goods are shipped all the way back to the Pacific Coast, where 150,000,000 yards are used annually.

3—A Cotton Mill in Los Angeles will save 21% on total sales in freight alone.

4—Another 2% will be saved on commissions by selling direct.

5—Altogether 23% will be saved in addition to manufacturing profits — a 23% advantage over Eastern mills that have paid big dividends.

6—Assurances have been received from big cotton goods users that will take care of the entire output.

7—The men at the head of this enterprise have been carefully selected for integrity, reputation, experience and ability.

These facts, based upon figures supplied by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Research Departments of leading banks, were enough to make these conservative, hard-hearted business men put their money in the Imperial Cotton Mills. Additional facts not mentioned there proved beyond all doubt, but aroused so much interest that the smaller investors may eventually find it difficult to participate in this big industry. Because this new industry is to have a vital share in the future growth of Los Angeles, it is felt that every man, woman and child to whom this great future growth means anything, should have an opportunity of sharing in this big movement towards industrial supremacy and a part of the rewards from the handsome profits expected from this enterprise. Every available fact and figure will be laid before you. An interesting book has been written on the subject. Fill in the coupon and it will be sent you.

ORDER PORT WARDEN TO LIVE THERE

Commissioners Refuse to Accept Excuse No House is Available for Family.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners has ordered Port Warden Terry to move to the Los Angeles Harbor district forthwith, as the port warden is expected to be on duty night and day. Mr. Terry was appointed port warden November 13, last, but he has reported to the board that he has been unable to find suitable living quarters in the harbor district. The Harbor Board refused to accept this explanation and yesterday notified the port warden to move to the port.

Messages received from Senators Shortridge and Johnson and Congressmen Osborne and Lineberger state that they will cooperate in every way to bring about the final approval by Congress of appropriations for Los Angeles Harbor, incorporated in the rivers and harbors bill. These appropriations include an engineering survey of the harbor, particularly with the idea of extending the outer harbor breakwater to Long Beach, expending $[illegible] for dredging at the entrance to the inner harbor, and $456,000 for the purchase and permanent assignment to the harbor of a modern pipe line dredge.

A conference has been arranged between the Harbor Board and the Efficiency Commission for final discussion of the program for a business survey of the harbor department.

Yacht Breaks Record in Run from New York

Breaking all records for sailing craft on similar voyages of 5000 miles, the three-masted schooner yacht Haida, has arrived at Los Angeles Harbor from New York. Including a three-day detention at the Panama Canal and a stop of eighteen hours while here to fix a gale off Lower California, the Haida arrived at San Diego last Saturday, just forty days after leaving New York. She also broke the record for sailing vessels for the trip from New York to Panama, running from Manhattan quarantine to the Colon breakwater in ten days and seven hours.

The Haida made the entire run under sail and for three days in the Atlantic the trim little craft was laden so heavily with ice that members of the crew were forced to chop it away to lighten her. Evidences of the ice are still visible on the vessel.

Captain Charles Rodstrom, internationally known yacht skipper, was in command of the Haida on her trip around.

The Haida was purchased recently by Max Fleischmann, Cincinnati millionaire, who plans to use the yacht on a number of hunting cruises along the Mexican West Coast. She will sail on the first of these trips in about two weeks.

Destroyers to be Placed Out of Commission

The fate of Destroyer Division 13, caught in San Francisco Bay two weeks ago by a Navy economy order just as it was to have sailed for Manila, is settled. The six ships of the division, the Lamberton, Radford, Montgomery, Breese, Gamble and Ramsay, are to go out of commission, along with some sixty other destroyers in Pacific waters. This was the official notice received at Pacific Fleet headquarters yesterday from Washington.

With the destroyers Dent and Gillis, the ships of this division had prepared for the voyage to the Philippines for an eighteen months' tour of duty there. Officers had sent their wives and children ahead of them on a naval transport and then came the Navy Department's order suspending the movements of scores of navy vessels in every port of the world in the interests of fuel economy. More than 200 women and children will have to be brought back from the Islands on another transport, it was said today.

Six ships of another destroyer division, which had been scheduled to return to the Pacific Coast after eighteen months of service in the Philippines, will be obliged to remain there indefinitely.

The destroyers of Division Thirteen, together with the Dent and Gillis, have been ordered to proceed to San Diego, there to be decommissioned at once.

Crown City Spends Big Sum for School Grounds.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, March 15.—The items of the proposed municipal bond issues totalling $3,236,000, to be placed before the voters of the city at a special election next month, were made known today by the municipal board of directors.

The list includes: Parks, $930,500; isolation hospital, $13,000; fire department extensions, $117,000; public comfort stations, $35,000; sewage disposal, $413,000; street openings, (extension of additional through cross-town thoroughfares, to relieve Colorado street,) $325,000; water department extensions and equipment, $175,000; municipal auditorium, $750,000.

This is the largest budget of public improvements ever contemplated by the city at one time. Another public improvement, the new stadium for Rose Tournament games and other events, in the Arroyo Seco, is not being built with municipal funds.

THEATRES MANAGER FINED.

Charles A. Ferry, manager of the Crown Theater, was fined $25 in police court today for exhibiting a film after the local board of censorship had ordered that it not be shown. Mrs. Beatrice George, chairman of the censorship board, swore to the complaint. He was also fined $25 for failure to give written notice to the censors of the showing of a picture.

MUCH LAND BOUGHT.

Additional school lands, for building sites and playgrounds, costing $236,000 have been purchased by the school board from the bond issue of $750,000 voted last summer, according to a financial review issued by the Board of Education today.

Three new school houses, the Jackson, Jefferson and Junipero Serra, are under way, or will be started in the next two weeks, each costing slightly in excess of $100,000. There will remain from the bond issue approximately $260,000 for the primary and elementary units of the new Washington junior high school plant.

AMERICANS ARE LUCKY.

Americans should be the happiest in the world, said A. Labouchere, wealthy winter visitor from The Hague, Holland, at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo today, because the United States is the most prosperous, most peaceful country on earth today and taxes are lower here than in any of the European countries. Of all the happy Americans, he added, Southern Californians should be the happiest because of the loveliness of their country and its obvious prosperity.

INCREASE WATER RATE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, March 15.—By order of the State Railroad Commission the Consolidated Water Company here was granted an increase in rates, approximating 25 per cent.

"Rates now charged by the Consolidated Water Company of Pomona, for water delivered to consumers in and near the city, are unjust and unreasonable in so far as they differ from the rates herein established," says the commission's finding. The higher rates are authorized to become effective on April 1.

Speeder Brings Towels and Tooth Brush, Ready for the Worst.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, March 15.—Prepared for any disposition that the court might make of his case, J. L. Taylor, 1226 Wall street, Los Angeles, appeared before Justice J. B. Cox today with a little bundle under his arm.

"What have you got in the bundle," asked Judge Cox. "Towels, soap and my toothbrush," responded Taylor. "Well you're game all right" said Judge Cox after he had sentenced Taylor to ten days in the County Jail for speeding.

Taylor was arrested ten days ago by Traffic Officer Vernon Myers, who accused him of speeding at the rate of fifty-two miles an hour on the Irvine Boulevard.

"Why were you going so fast?" Judge Cox asked the defendant. "Oh, I don't know, there was an open stretch of good road ahead of me and no motor cops in sight and I didn't know that I was in Orange county."

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, March 19.—Alan Pope, an officer in the Ventura county post of the American Legion, got a call from the Sheriff's office in Los Angeles over the long-distance telephone. "Where were you on the night of March 8?" he was asked. Pope, much surprised, replied "I was in my own little bed."

One of the clews left by the robber of the bank at Visalia last week was a coat belonging to Pope. After a time Pope remembered.

A "buddy" who had claimed to be Jack O'Neill, middleweight champion of the Navy and from the U.S.S. Baltimore, had been befriended by Pope. A short time before the "buddy," who was husky, but battered and ragged, had told Pope he was down and out and wished he were dead. Pope took him home with him and did all he could to cheer him up. The coat was one of the articles of clothing given him.

AID IMPROVEMENT.

Mayor Offers City Use of Team for Municipal Clean-up.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, March 15.—Mayor S. C. Evans has offered the City Council the use of a team of horses without cost to the municipality, in the event other public-spirited citizens who may be interested in cleaning up Victoria avenue will do the same.

The thoroughfare extends for several miles through the Arlington Heights orange district, and its wide center parking space, ornamented with roses and shrubs of various kinds, contains many acres of ground, whose care gives the Board of Park Commissioners grave concern.

The Mayor's suggestion that twenty teams be put to work on the thoroughfare for ten days in order to make the avenue presentable, without cost to the city, was based on the contention that a municipality with an area of forty square miles and only 22,000 people cannot possibly maintain all of its streets.

CIRCULATE BOLSHEVIST PROPAGANDA

Warning Given of Effort to Raise Funds Here for Soviet Government.

An agitation for the recognition of the soviet government is being carried on in the United States under the guise of a campaign for the collection of funds for the famine sufferers, according to leaflets which are being widely distributed in Los Angeles. These leaflets, illustrated with photographs showing the gruesome horrors of the famine area, in addition to asking for funds, call upon all "class conscious workers" in the United States to aid in the campaign to "resume economic relations with soviet Russia, for long-term credits and a workers' loan and recognition of the soviet republic."

The leaflets are issued by the Friends of Soviet Russia, one of the organizations Herbert Hoover warned Americans against in his recent report to the President on the activities of the various Bolshevist agencies in this country. Secretary Hoover requested that Americans give to Russian relief through the American Relief Administration. The pamphlets received here ask that funds be sent to the address of the Friends of Soviet Russia in New York.

Included in the advisory committee of the Friends of Soviet Russia are Max Eastman, William Z. Foster, Robert Minor, Rose Pastor Stokes, J. Louis Engdahl, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Albert Rhys Williams and Hulet M. Wells.

The edifice will cost about $60,000, and will be located on a site to be purchased near the present leased quarters of the branch library at 824 West Jefferson street.

The new library will be known as the University branch. The building will have 5000 square feet of floor space, and will have 10,000 books, or double the number in use at the present branch. The funds for the building of the branch library will be provided from the $2,500,000 in bonds voted last June, from which also will be taken the money required to build the new Hollywood branch library.

GERMAIN DIVORCE GRANTED.

Testimony Brief; Property Settlement Approved; Man Tired of Her, Says Wife.

Mrs. Frances Baron Germain, following her brief testimony in Judge McLucas's court, which was corroborated by Dr. Charles Thomas and her maid, was granted a divorce from Marc L. Germain, former president of the Germain Seed and Plant Company. A property settlement approximating $100,000 was approved by the court.

Mr. Germain is the son of Eugene Germain, founder of the Germain company. He married Frances Baron in Arizona in 1905. The separation occurred in September, 1921. Mrs. Germain's suit for divorce was filed recently and advanced on the calendar because Joseph Musgrove, counsel for Mr. Germain, had prepared to go to New York on a business trip.

The suit was not contested, but Mr. Musgrove was in court in the interests of his absent client. Lowenthal & Lowenthal were attorneys for Mrs. Germain.

The testimony was to the effect that Mr. Germain had tired of his wife; did not care for her and absented himself from home. After their rows, Mrs. Germain became hysterical and ill.

FINISHES FORTY-NINE PROHIBITION CASES.

Judge Charles E. Wolverton of Portland, Or., who has been holding a session of the U. S. District Court at Fresno since March 1, will close his term there today. Of the fifty cases he disposed of all but one were for asserted violation of the national prohibition law. The Federal grand jury, which made a partial report ten days ago, will file a full report with the court, this morning.

LOWER PRICES FOR WHITE POTATOES.

ONION MARKET CONTINUES TO ADVANCE; APPLES SHOW LITTLE CHANGE.

Prices dropped for both white and sweet potatoes at the Los Angeles produce market yesterday. The best Burbanks held about steady, but Idaho Russets sold generally at $2.00 to $2.25 for a hundredweight, compared with $2.25 to $2.50 on Tuesday. Supplies of local sweet potatoes are heavy and the demand is light. Stocks are gradually accumulating and tops are selling generally at 60 to 75 cents, with a few high-grade offerings moving at high as $1 cents. There are also liberal supplies of Nancy Hall sweet potatoes and these are selling at a moderate demand at 1½ to 2 cents a pound, or $2 to $2.25 per bushel.

The onion market continues to advance, and there is a strong feeling in regard to brown varieties. Prices range from $7.25 to $7.75 per sack, equivalent for northern growers, with the bulk of the sales being made around $7.50. White onions are firm at $8.50 to $9.00 for good stock.

The citrus market showed little change, yesterday, the most of the buyers are merely filling orders which represent the purchases on round, fairly green stock. Some very good lemon stock, which was still green, sold at 4 cents per pound.

There were liberal offerings of artichokes on the market and the price varied from 75 cents per dozen to as high as $2. Some of the stock is very fine quality and large size. The best hung packed Winter Amber rhubarb sold at $2.25 to $2.50 per box, while some sold in apple boxes ranged from $1.50 to $1.75. A few crates of asparagus came in and sold at 30 to 35 cents per pound.

COTTON LIQUIDATION SENDS LIST LOWER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—Near-month liquidation sent the list lower in the cotton market today. Pressure which in the morning forced prices of 7 to 20 points, increased in the afternoon with an unsettled tone evident, and March declined to 17.75, a loss of 39 points from Tuesday's close. Other than near-month options were off some 20 to 25 points. Wall Street longs as well as the South and New Orleans interests sold. Demand was poor, the market having the appearance of being technically weak. After selling off to 17.52 for May, 24 points under last night, the general list recovered in the late trading under profit-taking by shorts. The close was 2 points net higher on December to 37 points net lower on March.

Spot cotton was quiet, 25 points decline. 18.20c for middling upland.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 15.—A renewal of general liquidation in grains carried prices into new ground on the down turn. There were fewer stop-loss orders caught than generally expected. Local shorts covered toward the last. The finish was on a good rally, but with wheat 1c to 1¼c net lower, corn off 1¼c to 1¾c, oats ⅛c to ¼c, and rye ⅛c to 1c lower.

A sensational break of 500d in Liverpool spot wheat was reported by Brookhall and was responsible for the heavy selling of futures here at the opening. With rather general liquidation, including selling credited to a local professional who has been very bullish of late, the May dropped to $1.29⅝, or 20¼c under the recent high, while July at $1.12¾ was off 18c.

Liverpool futures failed to reflect the weakness in spot grain and closed unchanged, but had little effect. Toward the last, however, Russell's news agent at Liverpool confirmed his earlier report that spot wheat was unchanged, and was the main factor in closing the closing rally.

A decided change in the general character of the news was noticeable during the day. Indian crop was reported as ripening promptly, and while inquiries on ocean freights are very large, Belgium took Manitoba at the seaboard for the first time in several months and there were intimations of business in new crop hard winters via the Gulf with premiums for March loading there up 2 cents.

Official and private reports from the Southwest showed improvement in the outlook for winter wheat. Milling demand was slow, although there are indications that Michigan and Ohio mills will be in the market shortly. Local receipts, 15 cars.

Heavy selling of corn under the lead for May and 60c for July on stop-loss orders carried prices off sharply. Liquidation was on and it was not until May got under 50c that there was any aggressive buying. The finish was on a good rally in sympathy with wheat and on short covering. Export demand was limited and domestic sales were only 35,000 bushels. Cash grain was firmer as compared with the day. Receipts, 114 cars. At the inside figure, prices were off 11@11¾ from the recent high.

Oats at the low point today showed 6½@7½c under the recent top, and around 3½c for May and 30c for July. Commission-house give the market good support and absorbed the liquidating sales by local longs, a strong rally coming toward the last. Receipts, 79 cars, with shipping sales 100,000 bushels.

Houses with seaboard connections were searching buyers of rye futures, while local houses and professionals sold freely. The late strength in other grains made the closing rally. Part of the buying was regarded as against export sales for deferred shipment to Germany.

SIGNAL HILL MIDWAY

Well No. 1 in the circle is, as you see, in the very heart of California's New Wonder Oil Field. The field where Nature, in lavish mood, gives forth oil most freely and abundantly and distributes riches with a free hand. A pioneer field only a year ago—NOW a land of derricks—you will count 67 in the picture. Not derricks alone, but many producing wells. No boom, just sane, common-sense development.

WILL YOU, TOO, HEED THIS CALL?

Many have realized the opportunity afforded them in an investment in the Signal Hill Midway Oil Company and have sent in their orders. It offers not only an opportunity for large dividends, but an increased value of the investment within an exceptionally short time. The well is down more than 2400 feet and will soon cement off. The drill is pounding away night and day. Why shouldn't a big gushing well follow here? One gusher following close on the heels of another—that is the history of this field. Visit the Hill—see this Wonderful field—you will then realize what "Midway's" opportunity means.

The present offering of stock at 10c per share, par value, is so small and the merit of this enterprise so well established that we anticipate no delay in disposing of all the stock. DAILY TRADE TALK.

Another Crisis Passed With Tax Day; Millions Turn to Solace of the Phonograph.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The financial world dearly loves a climax. It is a favorite indoor sport to set aside some future date as the time when things, whatever the term may mean, will be different from what they now are. Sometimes it is a holiday; sometimes a crop report. The event itself does not need to be particularly impressive.

For a month the wiseacres have been predicting that after March 15, the last day for income-tax payments, there would be a readjustment and a settling process which would find reaction in all lines. Well, last midnight marked the tax limit, and now we shall see what we shall see.

No doubt there has been some call shortening, and no doubt some funds have been withheld, but it is not probable that there will be any marked change today in market conditions. However, a barrier has been crossed and business believed of one more worry.

PHONOGRAPH DEVELOPMENT.

The automobile is being crowded by the phonograph in volume of business. The industry last year took a great stride forward, and estimates for 1922 indicate that 1,500,000 machines will be sold to the American public. This would mean one machine for every seventy-two inhabitants. Over 5,000,000 phonographs have been sold in the United States, and there are today about 100 manufacturers.

The average purchase of records is said to be thirty-five to a machine. A few collectors have upwards of 2000 records. There has recently been a price reduction of 10 cents a record on some grades.

It is estimated that 95 per cent of all phonographs are sold on the installment plan. This is a particularly close estimate in Los Angeles which is a white spot in the phonograph market. There are more machines in this city in proportion to population than anywhere else according to estimates of local dealers.

The country average of thirty-five records per machine is exceeded here where it is probably nearer fifty. There are also more large collectors. In the moving picture colonies there are several costly record libraries.

An example of the extent and stability of the installment business is found in the fact that not over 10 per cent of the machines sold are taken back.

The business at large has recently been quiet, but here again local dealers are not on all fours with their brethren in other parts of the country. The reason for the slump is probably to be found in the curtailed income of farmers. National advertising is said to largely govern the industry.

According to a survey by the research department of the National Retail Dry Goods Association 98 per cent of the purchasers on installment plan pay the full amount, and about 30 per cent use the full time. About 10 per cent pay the full amount in four months and around 20 per cent pay in half the allotted time.

Of thirty large stores, net profits of phonograph departments in 1919 averaged around 8½ per cent on sales. Of gross business done by these stores about 70 per cent was average for machines and 30 per cent for records. Certain large stores showed sales in 1919 of phonographs in excess of $300,000 and record sales of over $100,000. Figures collected from 400 farmers in a representative district show about 67 per cent buy phonographs of a local store, 25 per cent at the nearest town and 8 per cent from mail order houses.

Most popular models of phonographs, according to dealers, are selling around $100 to $125. Dealers' profits are not large, as is sometimes supposed. It is figured in the trade that the discount to the dealer is about 40 per cent of the selling price, but it costs around 30 per cent to 32 per cent to do business on the installment plan, under which over nine-tenths of all phonograph sales are made.

BUSINESS NEWS.

Industry Close to the Table Land of Comfort; Los Angeles Carnivorous.

The iron and steel industry is showing a steady improvement that promises stability by the middle of the year, according to John A. Penton, who is at the Hotel Huntington, Pasadena. Mr. Penton is head of the Penton Publishing Company of Cleveland, which publishes the Iron Trade Review, the Daily Metal Trade, and other papers. Although here with Mrs. Penton for a vacation, he is keeping in touch with the iron and steel industry and general conditions of the country.

It is axiomatic that the iron and steel industry is the index of business generally, and Mr. Penton is advised that since he left the East the iron market has shown an unusual degree of quite unexpected uniform improvement. The United States Steel Corporation is reported operating at 60 per cent of capacity, with independent mills not far behind. Since all buying at this time is of hand to mouth character, this condition spells a bright future. The Iron Trade Review has completed statistics showing that a total of 14,000 cars were ordered by the railroads in February, as compared with 11,000 in January; this total of 26,000 cars for the first two months of this year is as many as were ordered in all of 1921.

The pig iron market shows more encouragement and, although prices, especially in the Chicago district, are slightly better, there is generally an improved undertone all over the country and February was noted for having had the largest volume of pig iron sales in any month since early in 1921.

Structure steel has recently been generally advanced $8 a ton at the different mills, and similar advances are being made, or are generally expected in the near future in all grades of iron and steel material.

NEW COST FIGURES.

Mr. Penton is of the opinion that if Lake Superior ore should be reduced in price and coal should be mined cheaper as a result of wage adjustments, that these reductions would not materially affect present prices, as manufacturers were anticipating new cost figures in making present quotations, which every one, who is thoroughly advised concerning present conditions, understands are below cost.

Foundry coke is quoted as being in much greater demand, and the pig iron production in February was at a greater rate than any month since February, 1921, and apparently steadily increasing.

There are a number of indications of such railroads as are favorably situated financially are about to place a number of large orders for cars, rails and other equipment in the near future.

One of Mr. Penton's representatives has been advised in an interview with Secretary Hoover that business generally is feeling the touch of increased demand all over America. The Secretary said that while no boom was in sight, business ranges from 30 to 35 per cent of normal. He thinks spring should put industry generally "on the table land of comfort" and said the amount of red ink written in the business history recently was beyond all belief and that the proper state of mind was to forget the loss and get to work.

MINERS' STRIKE.

Secretary Hoover saw no present hope of avoiding a coal miners' strike. He said that each side felt it could afford to wait. While the miners expect a wage reduction, they felt they should strike and remain out for a time, although their policies' conditions have brought instructions from Indianapolis that indicates they are ready to negotiate a settlement.

Concerning the American merchant marine, the Secretary told the Trade Journalist that he was more hopeful. He said it would be far better for the country to spend $50,000,000 in subsidies to Americans to operate our ships than to pay $150,000,000 a year as a loss in operating government-owned ships; that government operation of a necessity costs from 25 per cent to 35 per cent more than private operation.

MEAT SUPPLY.

It required 962,467 animals of all kinds during 1921 to supply the meat demand of Los Angeles and the tributary territory of Southern California. This figure represents the actual number of Car Loading Statement Favorable; Foreign Trade Report Shows Export Surplus Shrinkage.

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—News with a bearing on the financial situation proved more interesting today than the movement of the financial markets—which was mostly of negative character. This news comprised a car loading statement for the opening week of March, much more favorable than any weekly showing in four months; a report on our foreign trade in February with a remarkable shrinkage in the export surplus, and an estimate of the country's current steel production as 55 to 60 per cent of capacity, against 55 at the end of February, 40 to 50 a month ago, and something like 35 in the early days of January.

The car loading figures were not worthy; aside from their great increase over preceding weeks; the total exceeded the corresponding week of 1921 by 91,888 cars, or nearly 12 per cent, and of 1919 by 127,955, or 19 per cent.

On the stock exchange, where the day's transactions ran well above 1,000,000, further advance in prices on the early trading was followed by reaction. Large selling for the account of professional speculators was in evidence and the stock market ended with irregular net changes. These were mostly downward, especially in the highly manipulative industrial shares; yet there were some net advances to offset them. That was especially true of the railway stocks, several of which rose a point or more while others were declining.

Sterling exchange started the day with another rapid recovery, which carried the rate to $4.35 1-8, or 7 1-8 cents above Monday's lowest, the bottom point of the recent reaction. At this price very nearly half of the loss from the season's high rate of $4.44 3-8 had been recovered. The day's high level was not maintained, however, either for sterling or for the other European exchanges.

There was nothing in the day's political news to affect foreign exchange—unless the Senate's defeat of the first amendment to the four-power treaty should be so considered. But the statement of our foreign trade in January had considerable bearing on that market. That the month's exports should have been $338,000,000 less than in February, 1921, and the smallest of any month since midsummer of 1918, was in line with the experience of other recent months, but it was supplemented this time by an actual increase of imports. As a result the surplus of exports falls to $264,000,000, as against $374,700,000 in the preceding February, and $349,900,000 in February of 1919. So small a surplus has not occurred in the second month of any year since the war began, and it falls far short of the same month's excess of exports in such prewar years, as 1911 to 1913, inclusive. On the other hand, and notwithstanding that trouble had begun last month at the Transvaal mines, we imported more gold than in January. Allowing for $27,000,000 excess of gold imports over exports, and the similar surplus of $2,300,000 in the import of silver, the country's visible outward balance of February was less than $5,000,000.

It was impossible to consider this extraordinary shrinkage from our abnormal export balances of recent years, except in connection with the change in the opposite direction shown by the European countries, which are most heavily indebted to the United States.

This statement of the American foreign trade in February, with an export surplus less than in many prewar years, is published almost simultaneously with England's showing for the same month of the smallest import surplus on record during the war or many years before. France has reported a similar result in several recent months. There are numerous influences contributory to these contrasting changes. A great decline in prices even if all other things were equal would reduce both export and import balances.

The effect of hard times will often be to cut down both imports into consuming countries and exports from producing countries. But what will most impress the mind of people familiar with the history of American trade after other great financial crises is that our oldtime method of rectifying the situation was to cut down imports radically, increase in our exports through reducing prices, and thereby draw on the gold of the outside world.

Oatman United

Consulting Engineer J. F. Turner of the Oatman United Co. stated yesterday that the day is coming when it will be safe to say the Oatman United is due entirely to the advisability of doing some development work. Very nearly impossible and has been satisfactory in results so far; and to making certain mechanical changes in the present battery, including laying of track and the provision of forced ventilation on the level of the present workings, on the 400-foot level is more than 1200 feet from the shaft and as the mine is a hot mine it can be seen that the supply of compressed ventilation necessary for a working crew cannot be installed in a few days time. Further diamond drilling will be done in the property in the west of the present main shaft of the ore body, in order to determine how far to the west pay ore continues. Mr. Turner states that the general condition of the property is no less satisfactory than it was a month or so ago.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—Transactions on the stock exchange today approximated 1,200,000 shares, almost the largest total of the year. A number of specialties rose to highest levels for that period, but there were many noteworthy exceptions to the upward trend.

Great Northern and Northern Pacific were heavily sold in the last half of the session at extreme reactions of about 4 points. The break in Great Northern followed the publication of a statement by Chairman Hill, which was interpreted as casting doubt on the maintenance of the present rate of dividend.

Oils, motors, equipments and steels, especially Mexican Petroleum, Studebaker, and Crucible were carried down 1 to 3 points in the liquidation of rails, the market closing with a heavy tone.

Sentiment was favorably influenced during the morning by the subsidence of labor disturbances in South Africa, the more hopeful tone of European political conditions and the further pronounced recovery of foreign exchange especially the British rate.

Another helpful factor was the relaxed or easier money market. Although this was the final day for payment of the installment of the 1921 Federal income tax, call loans dropped from 4 to 3½ per cent at mid-day and offerings of thirty to ninety-day funds were freely made at 4% per cent.

Additional reports of 1921 operations were submitted by various industrial companies, nearly all reflecting the unfavorable trade conditions of that period. The one striking exception was the American Tobacco Company, which showed largest earnings in its history.

Demand sterling rose to $4.34 on active bidding, partly for London account and Allied exchanges. Belgium excepted, were moderately better. Dutch, Swedish, Danish, Swiss and Spanish quotations also were higher, but the German rate continued heavy.

carcasses passed by city and Federal inspectors and includes 185,646 cattle, 17,940 calves, 454,094 sheep and 270,184 hogs. The animals were drawn to the local market from points as far east as the plains of Kansas, Nebraska and Texas. Conservative estimates place the number of animals which will be required to supply this year's demand at more than 200,000 over 1921 totals.

PREFERRED ISSUE.

The Coast Valleys Gas and Electric Company has recently issued a block of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock which is being offered to the public, by Hunter, Dulin & Co. at 86 to yield 7 per cent. The stock is callable at 110 and is exempt from personal property taxes in California. There is $400,000 par value of this preferred stock outstanding. Dividend requirements were earned 2.333 times last year.

BANKING INSTITUTE.

Members of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Institute of Banking held their monthly dinner at the City Club last night. On the program were addresses by Orra E. Monnette, president of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank; Guy E. Bowerman, former secretary of the American Bankers Association, and Bruce A. Findlay, assistant to the superintendent of the Los Angeles city schools. The subject of trusts was under discussion.

BUY SAN DIEGO BANK.

A change in the control of the United States National Bank of San Diego will take effect today. Duncan MacKinnon, who has been president of the institution for many years has resigned on account of ill health and his position will be taken by James R. Russell of Long Beach, who has recently purchased a controlling interest in the bank. Mr. Russell has been a resident of this State for some time and is a former Nebraska banker. At the present time, he is president of the First National Bank of Fullerton, Neb. J. L. Russell, his son, will be associated with him in the management of the San Diego institution. No changes in the present personnel of the bank are contemplated.

GOODYEAR MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Goodyear Textile Company will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the factory. Stockholders of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company will meet at 4 o'clock. The company's financial record for 1921 will be made public at that time.

DIVIDEND DISTRIBUTED.

The Los Angeles Investment Company yesterday distributed $56,277.72 to its 12,550 stockholders in the form of the seventy-fifth regular quarterly 2 per cent dividend. Distribution was made to the stockholders of record February 28. In the future the books will close thirty days before the dividend date, for the reason that with so large a number of stockholders, it has been found impractical to pay the dividend fifteen days after the closing of the books.

TIRE COMPANIES.

Tire companies and especially the B. F. Goodrich Company, are made the subject of this month's number of the Analytical Review, published by the statistical and research department of A. W. Coots. "The outlook for the tire business and advances in tire prices for 1922 is good," says this review. "The price cuts made in the automobile trade are helping automobile sales. Companies producing trucks are especially showing a better business, because of the growing use of the truck on the farm, and the ability of farmers to purchase them, aided by the increased credits to agricultural producers granted by the farm loan banks. Improvement in automobile and truck sales is reflected naturally in the sales books of the tire companies. In addition, Far Eastern demand for tires is showing considerable strength, export figures indicating a steadily growing volume of shipments to the Orient.

VAN CAMP COMES WEST.

According to announcement yesterday, the Van Camp Packing Company of Indiana, will enter the California field this year, having purchased plants in San Francisco, San Jose and Reedley and having leased a fourth in Oroville.

California fruits will be packed and other products put up outside of the fruit season. The Reedley and San Jose plants are those of G. M. Herbert, while in San Francisco the plant of the Tamal Packing Company is being taken over.

MANY FLUCTUATIONS IN OATMAN UNITED.

Prices for Oatman United were unusually sensitive to shifting market sentiment at the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. The opening was weak and prices rapidly slumped off to a low of 58½ cents during the morning session. This decline evidently brought in a fair volume of buying orders, for the upturn was even sharper than the fall, and the close was at 64½ cents, a gain of 2½ cents over the previous session.

The recovery of Oatman United stiffened the rest of the mining list and fluctuations in these stocks were limited to a narrow range. United Eastern fell off 1 cent to $1.52, and Big Jim, ½ to 8 cents. United American advanced 1 cent to 34, and Gold Ore was unchanged at 7 cents.

Union of California was softer and closed at 163, a 1-point decline. Goodyear preferred sold at its former figure of 75 3-4.

Following are the closing quotations and sales as posted yesterday in the Stock Exchange Building:

TA PAWN of CHANCE

By Bertram Lebhar.

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS.

Janet Fremont, though a loyal wife and mother, is inordinately fond of dancing. While attending a dance a masterly-dressed woman who intimates herself into her good graces. Janet accompanies her new-found friend to the Cafe D'Artagnan. Here she meets a dapper young man, who is introduced as Percy Haldane. While dancing with this supposed dandy man Police Inspector Holden comes in and, addressing her partner as "Velvet Raymond," informs him that he is wanted at headquarters. Janet finds, to her horror, that the too must go. Raymond is searched for weapons, none is found. On the way to the police station Holden is mysteriously shot and Janet and her companion make their escape. Holden tells the papers the woman shot him. He recovers, but is determined to hunt down his assailant.

For over a month Janet, though haunted, lives in mortal terror of discovery and arrest, discovers that the probable loss of her husband and home. Just as she is beginning to feel easier and begins to go out, the Holdens come to live in the same apartment building. In letter Janet persuades her husband to move, but when she tries to find another flat there is nothing to be had within their means. She shuts herself in her flat, worse the hell from which lives the dreaded inspector. Her nerves, greatly jarred by her strange outdoor, can do nothing with her. Then he is called out of town and Janet is left alone with her fears.

FACE TO FACE.

She was in her bedroom combing her hair before the mirror. Little Buddy was in his crib, taking his daily nap. The ring of the dumb-waiter bell took her out to the kitchen for a few minutes. When she returned she made a startling discovery.

The boy had awakened and was in imminent danger of choking to death. He had somehow managed to thrust his little head through the side of the crib, and was stuck there hard and fast with one of the wicker, upright bars pressing against his windpipe.

Frantically Janet strove to extricate him, but she was unable to do so. The only effect her efforts had was to cause him to turn black in the face and to bring from him a blood-chilling gurgle.

Screaming with terror, she ran out into the hall in search of aid. Mrs. John Holden, dressed for the street, was just coming out of the apartment opposite. The latter was one of the last persons whom Janet would have cared to address under other circumstances, but her maternal instincts rose supreme over all other considerations at this critical moment.

"Oh, please come quick!" she cried.

"My little boy, he's being strangled! Please hurry!"

Good-natured Mrs. Holden hesitated only long enough to yell something to somebody within her own apartment, then accompanied the agonized mother to the scene of disaster.

The two women were making desperate efforts to pry apart the stout wicker bars when Inspector Holden joined them. He had responded promptly to his wife's call, and had come there expecting an encounter with a desperate thug or maniac, for he was under the impression that it was at the hands of a human assailant that little Buddy was suffering strangulation.

Therefore, there was a grim scowl on his features and an automatic in his hand when he rushed into the room. His appearance was truly formidable. He pocketed the weapon, however, and his expression relaxed when he saw what was what. In less time than it takes to tell it his strong hands and his cool head had succeeded in bringing about the youthful prisoner's release.

Then he turned with a pleasant smile to Janet.

"The little chap's all right," he said. "Don't be alarmed. It's only the scare he got that's making him bawl like that. If he—Catch her, Maria! She's going to faint."

When Janet opened her eyes again she was lying on her bed, and Mrs. Holden was bending over, mopping her forehead with a wet handkerchief. The inspector was not in the room.

"I told him to beat it, my dear," his good wife explained. "Men are only in the way at such times. Feelin' all right now? Of course you are. You've had a bad scare, but it's all over now. The precious lambkin's none the worse for his experience. Just look at him over there chuckling in his crib."

Gradually an astonishing realization came to Janet Fremont.

She had met the man she feared, face to face, and he had not recognized her.

CHAPTER V.
From Out of the Past.

From that day Janet was a little less perturbed in mind. But she was not yet completely reassured, and she made every effort to avoid a second meeting with the Inspector John Holden.

She had been in negligee at the time of the first encounter. With her wealth of blond hair streaming over her shoulder, and her slender form clad in a kimono, she had looked very different from the woman who had been arrested a year before in the Cafe D'Artagnan. That, combined with the excitement of the moment, was the reason that he had failed to identify her, she decided.

But it would not do to run the risk again, she told herself, with a shudder. Eternal vigilance must still be the price of her safety. So she continued to make furtive exits and entrances from and to the apartment, and was obliged to appear ungrateful by keeping good-natured Mrs. Holden at a distance.

She received a letter from Allan one day announcing that he had finished his business out west and was about to start for home.

"I am sorry you had a scare with the little fellow," her husband wrote. In her last letter to him she had narrated Buddy's narrow escape from strangulation.

"Thank goodness it turned out to be a comedy instead of a tragedy! And thank fortune, too, that our neighbor happened to be so close at hand. I suppose, little woman, the incident has served to make you quite chummy with the Holdens. It must have opened your eyes to the fact that folks can be worth while even if their names don't appear in the social register. How do you like Inspector H.? Agreeable sort of chap, isn't he? Please give him my regards. I look forward to many enjoyable games of bridge with him and his good lady when I return home. You won't object to their visiting us now, of course, girly?"

Janet had just finished reading his letter when the door bell rang. When she responded to the summons she met with an unpleasant shock. A good-looking, dapper young man, in a blue cheviot suit of fashionable cut, stood on the threshold, grinning at her sardonically.

"How do you do?" he said, "I see you haven't forgotten me."

Forgotten him! Even if she lived for the next hundred years the image of that handsome but slightly sinister face would remain indelibly engraved on her brain.

"What do you want?" she demanded breathlessly. "How dared you—why have you come here?"

Mr. Percy Haldane, alias Velvet Raymond, laughed softly.

"You don't act as though you're overjoyed to see me again," he protested.

"I've only just got back to town, and I've lost no time in looking you up. I should think you'd feel flattered."

"What do you want?" Janet demanded again, looking at him in horror.

"Nothing in particular, just a little social call," Raymond replied. "Suppose you ask me inside," he suggested. "I don't much fancy doorway conversations. Make me feel like a book agent, or a soap canvasser."

Disinclined though she was to entertain this visitor, Janet promptly decided to admit him. It would be more prudent than to keep him out there in the hall, where at any moment he might be seen and recognized by Inspector Holden.

The man followed her into the living-room and seated himself uninvited in the most comfortable chair.

"Well, how've you been?" he inquired breezily. "You're looking first-class, considering everything. Don't quite fancy the way you've got your hair fixed, though. Liked the old style better."

His gaze turned from his hostess to the furnishings of the apartment.

"Neat little place you've got here," he approved. "When it comes to good taste, you're certainly there, little one."

Then, after a pause: "You're all alone, of course."

"Certainly not," Janet denied hastily. "I'm a married woman, and my husband—"

"Your husband is out West," Velvet Raymond cut in. "Don't you suppose I went to the bother of getting the dope on you before I came here? I'm too wise a bird, my dear, to work deliberately into trouble. I wouldn't have dropped in if I hadn't been quite sure I'd find nobody here but you."

Mrs. Fremont regarded him with mingled fear and curiosity.

"How did you manage to find me?" she asked. "I didn't tell you where I lived when—er—the last time we met."

"Pshaw! That was easy. It's true you did overlook the little detail of giving me your visiting card that afternoon at the Cafe D'Artagnan. But I didn't need it. Kitty had all the information about you that was necessary."

"Kitty?"

"The dame who brought you to that joint and introduced you to me, you know." Velvet Raymond grinned. "Aren't you wise yet that it was a plant—thaty our meeting with Kitty at the glove counter of the department store that day wasn't entirely accidental? She had spotted you for an easy mark, of course, and deliberately cultivated your acquaintance."

Janet frowned.

"But why?" she demanded. "What did she—what did you want of me? Was it blackmail?"

The man shrugged.

"What a cute little word, little one! I won't deny, though, that we did expect to derive some financial advantage from my acquaintance with you before we got through. Married ladies who have affairs with handsome strangers in such places as the Cafe D'Artagnan can usually be counted on to come across generously when they receive a hint that there is danger of hubby learning of their little indiscretion."

CLASHES BEGIN AT POWER MEET

Arizona Demands for Water Made at Opening.

Agreement to Compromise is Urged by Hoover.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY,
"Times" Staff Correspondent.

PHOENIX, March 15.—"Something more constructive than a demand for every drop of water that falls upon the earth must be presented if the seven Southwest States are to avoid years of litigation," declared Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Colorado River commission, yesterday when George H. Maxwell of the National Reclamation Association asserted that Arizona will not permit water to be taken out of the Colorado River above the northern border of the State.

"We cannot irrigate 2,500,000 acres of arid land if part of the water is taken away from us," declared Mr. Maxwell, "neither can we develop the power we need, and we do not intend to trade our rights away to other States for the mere promise that they will not sue us."

This was the beginning of a conference to reconcile the factions of seven States to a plan for development and control of the Colorado River.

FORCES FAR APART.

Chairman Hoover, after listening to three hours of animated discussion, expressed the opinion that the opposing forces were as far apart as the two poles. He said it would not do for each State to demand all the water in sight.

"Then," exclaimed Mr. Maxwell, "the commission must assume the responsibility of dedicating to desert forever 2,000,000 acres of the finest farm land in the world." Mr. Maxwell held the floor for two hours today, advocating the immediate construction of three dams to safeguard Imperial Valley from floods. He declared that Imperial Valley has hanging over it the most sinister menace in the world.

TWO DAMS URGED.

According to his idea, Imperial could be made safe by building flood control dams at two points. He said he would advise putting in such dams at Bullshead and Bottinet to hold back flash floods [illegible] River, and would strengthen [illegible] a rock-fill dam at Glen Canyon, to be one-third the height of the proposed Boulder

ASK GOVERNOR'S ADVICE.

Arizona Senate Hears Criticism of "Trading off Rights," Hoover Speech Today.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 15.—The Colorado River hearing reached into today's lengthy session of the Legislature.

In the morning President Wilkinson advised the Senate concerning an agreement made with Speaker Keefe, at the latter's suggestion, under which both houses should hold a morning session at the big Shrine Auditorium, near the Capitol, this with appreciation that the shelf-like House gallery would fail to accommodate a tenth of the citizenry that would gather to hear Secretary Hoover's address to the joint legislative session. But there was objection by Senators Elliott and Eddy and the original joint session idea prevailed. Doubt as to where the visitors could be placed was expressed. The visiting guests are to be furnished chairs on the already crowded House floor.

In the afternoon session, there was announcement that while Mr. Hoover would speak briefly to the Legislature at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, he had consented to speak also at the Shrine Auditorium a half hour later.

EXECUTIVE'S ADVICE SOUGHT.

Late in the afternoon more interest in the conference developed in a Senate joint resolution offered by Mr. Simms of Cochise, asking the Governor to inform the Legislature at once what course would be pursued to guard the interests of Arizona in the distribution of the water stored and power generated on the Colorado River, with suggestion that steps should be taken to secure control of the benefits for Arizona. Senator Simms remarked that "this trading off of our rights because some one has the tail of a dam makes me tired." There was Democratic criticism of adverse sort of W. S. Norvell, Arizona's Water Commissioner. There was no objection and the resolutions passed.

STANFORD WELCOME.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 15.—Whatever standing they may have otherwise, Herbert Hoover and wife were welcomed to Phoenix at 10:50 a.m. today mainly as graduates of Stanford. Stanford men and women formed a large part of crowd of several hundred individuals gathered at the Southern Pacific station, a red Stanford banner was the most prominent thing in sight and the Phoenix High School brass band tooted Stanford glees. It might have been the station at Palo Alto, instead of the Arizona capital.

The hotel to which the party was taken is one operated by a Stanford man and the rooms were decorated with crimson flowers. Tomorrow there is to be a luncheon of Stanford alumni, with the Hoovers as honored guests, and in the afternoon a reception and tea for Mrs. Hoover, given by former Stanford co-eds.

REQUESTS WORK FOR VETERANS.

Mayor Sets Next Monday as American Legion Employment Day.

Mayor Cryer issued yesterday this proclamation on American Legion Employment Day:

"The National Commander of the American Legion has designated Monday, March 20, 1922, as American Legion Employment Day, the purpose being to obtain employment for the hundreds of thousands of ex-service men who are without work. The plight of these men is a sorry one, and immediate relief of their condition is necessary.

"Los Angeles is fortunate in having a free employment bureau for ex-service men, operated by the American Legion. It is located at 321 South Main street, where it has been conducted for many months past. Each day finds hundreds of men calling upon this agency for work.

"I, therefore, urge that all citizens of Los Angeles having occasion to employ men communicate with the Legion employment bureau and thus aid this most worthy cause.

"GEORGE E. CRYER,
"Mayor."

No More Free Lunch Served by Volunteers.

The last of the free lunches for 150 men and boys who have been given two meals a day by the Volunteers of America at Mission Hall, 123 East Fourth street, was served yesterday at 3 p.m., thereby establishing a record of 20,751 meals for the past four months. Seven o'clock breakfast consisting of coffee and doughnuts will continue to be served free of charge to the same men or others who show themselves to be worthy of the charity.

The noon-day repast for men out of work has been discontinued because of improving conditions in the labor market and the advent of spring. With warmer weather the men are expected to fare farther afield in search of employment and soon become self-sustaining, according to William Driver, a Volunteer officer in charge of the mission.

Breakfast, which is still being served, consists of two cups of coffee and a plate of rolls or doughnuts. The noon-day meals have consisted of beef stew or beans, with rolls and coffee, prepared in the kitchen of the hall by a chef. The diners themselves have supplied the labor for dish-washing and waiting on table.

Bill Hart Sets Us Right About Bandit Story.

Bill Hart, who is a good deal of a Wild Westerner out of the films as well as in them, has written to direct the attention of The Times to an error in an article printed last Sunday on old-time bandits. In this article it was stated that Wyatt Earp was a member of the Earp gang of bandits and that he was killed at Colton. Mr. Hart, who knows Wyatt Earp very well, states that this Earp was an officer of the law instead of a bandit and that, so far from being killed at Colton or anywhere else, he is still alive. Another statement in the article was that Virgil Earp killed Frank Stilwell, an ex-member of the gang, at Benson. Instead of this it was Wyatt Earp who did the killing.

Inquiry by The Times indicates that Mr. Hart is correct in his version and The Times hastens to print the true facts in justice to all concerned.

HELD IN FRAUD CASE.

Athlete Must Answer Charge of Auto Man.

R. C. Miller, a young athlete, scion of a wealthy Trenton, N. J., family, was held to answer by Justice Follette yesterday on a charge of defrauding Don Lee of an automobile valued at $1600. He was also held on a charge of passing a check for $750 on Don Lee, for which, it was asserted, he had not sufficient funds in the bank. Bail was fixed at $1500. Dep. Dist.-Atty. McDaniel prosecuted the case.

SEEIN' THINGS

[Why not share your chuckle with others? When you see something unusual, drop a note about it to the City Editor of The Times. Then we all can smile.]

T.T. saw this sign yesterday in front of the Central Police Station. "No parking in this block between 4 and 6:15 o'clock, p.m." He also saw, at 4:30 o'clock, a line of autos parked across the street which practically filled the block! Believe in signs?

J.R.C. submits this as an entry in the foolish question contest: He was being shaved in a barber shop yesterday. All the chairs were filled, the snippers were snipping and tonsorial odors were rife. In walked a heavily bearded, long-haired gent who asked: "Do you all cut hair here?"

• • •

J.N.O. saw a Mexican breaking up concrete slabs at Sunset Boulevard and Maltman avenue. His sledge hammer kept slipping off the helve. The Mexican took his pick and made a small hole in the end of the helve in which he hammered, wedge-like, a pointed stone. The hammer slipped no more. Ingenious?

M.P. saw a small boy dragging a sled through yesterday's sunshine in a vacant lot. He wore a red stocking cap, and no coat. Finally he found a strip of grass where the sled would slide about six inches and there he enjoyed himself an hour. Think he was born here?

• • •

A.R.T. saw a Chinese laundryman delivering packages yesterday in a Cadillac coupe in the Westlake district!

JAIL TERMS GIVEN AUTO SPEEDERS.

Three Reckless Drivers Awarded Straight Sentences by Judge Chambers.

Three men convicted of reckless driving in Police Judge Chambers's court yesterday were sentenced to thirty days each in the City Jail, two others were given suspended sentences and another will appear for trial on the same charge the 21st inst.

W. F. Jessop and Fred Schmelzer, arrested Sunday by Patrolman E. E. Brown, were sentenced to thirty days each after being found guilty of reckless driving. According to the testimony Jessop stopped his automobile behind a standing street car on North Broadway without giving any signal. Schmelzer, driving behind him, crashed into the rear of the automobile. Both men, according to testimony given by Patrolman Brown, had been drinking.

Ramon Farron was found guilty of having driven his automobile in a reckless manner on South Main street last Monday evening. Witnesses declared that Farron drove his machine past a standing street car and to the right of several automobiles. He was sentenced to thirty days.

A. Brune of Burbank, arrested Sunday afternoon and charged with reckless driving following a collision with another automobile on the San Fernando Road, was found guilty by Judge Chambers and sentenced to 180 days in the City Jail. The sentence was suspended when it was shown that Brune had a family and that his own child was injured in the accident.

Women's Aid Board to Meet.

The executive board of the Federated Women's Aid Societies of the Los Angeles Presbytery will meet today at 10:30 a.m. in the board rooms, 214 West Third street. Plans will be considered for the annual meeting to be held at Emanuel Presbyterian church in April.

TWISTING LION'S TAIL IS PASSE.

British Ambassador Will Stay Until Saturday.

Senator Johnson's Treaty View Called Radical.

Visiting Statesman Making Study of American West.

"The national pastime of twisting the lion's tail is rapidly becoming a game of the past," said Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador, who, accompanied by Lady Geddes and his personal secretary, Hugh Tennant, arrived yesterday at 3:30 p.m. on the Santa Fe Limited to visit Los Angeles until Saturday morning as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Letts.

"Naturally, I cannot discuss the four-power treaty, for it is held pending the decision of your Senate, but in reading the papers on the train this morning, I was very much pleased with the attitude of the Los Angeles Times on the matter, particularly with relation to the radicalism of Senator Hiram Johnson. No one individual can break down the basic principles of the object to be obtained by this or any other treaty, which must always be friendly adjustment of all differences and the establishment of peace along lines of mutual interest."

Sir Auckland is an assiduous reader of newspapers. In fact, in the course of the interview, he said:

"One of the objects of my western trip is to meet the people back of the newspapers of the West, for I feel that the press is, generally speaking, indicative of public sentiment. I have never been here before and I did not feel that I could properly know America or competently represent my country in America until I had seen the great West. I now am beginning to realize how vital that knowledge is, for we can no longer think of America as New York and Washington."

SUNNY-SKY GREETING.

"Did you order this for us?" asked Sir Auckland of Maj. T. A. Osborne, Acting British Vice-Consul, as he stepped from the train. "I understand that your season's rains have been in proportion to the magnitude of your city water supply or your Colorado River project," he added, with a hearty laugh, as he was welcomed by Mr. and Mr. Letts.

Others who greeted the distinguished visitors were Morris M. Rathbun, W. T. Bishop, A. W. Foote, [illegible] Murray, Thomas Dockweiler and Frank Bristol, representing the Chamber of Commerce. The Misses Mortimer, daughters of the late British Consul C. White Mortimer, extended a warm welcome to Lady Geddes and the party proceeded to the Letts home in Hollywood, closely followed by an automobile bearing representatives of the Department of Justice and the city detective department.

Last night a dinner was given in honor of the distinguished visitors by Mr. and Mrs. Letts, those present being Mr. and Mrs. George I. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Phillips, Miss Hardie and Gen. S. H. Wolf of New York City.

WILL SPEAK TODAY.

Lady Geddes will be entertained today by the local organization of Daughters of the British Empire and Sir Auckland will make his first formal address here at the luncheon of the City Club this noon. Tomorrow directors and committee heads of the Chamber of Commerce will give a luncheon at the California Club after which the visitors will be taken to Lasky's studio. Saturday morning they will leave for Santa Barbara by automobile, where four families are vieing with each other for the honor of entertaining them.

The public will have an opportunity to meet the distinguished guests today from 4 to 7 p.m. at 5739 Harold Way, the home of Mrs. W. C. Koussetts, Past Regent of the Daughters of the Empire. The Sons of St. George, of whom Francis D. Adams is President, also will co-operate in the public reception.

CHARRED ON DEATH BED BY CANDLES.

Body of Grief-Stricken Mexican's Wife Burned as Man Runs for Doctor.

Crouched on the floor of a one-room hovel at 520 Ramirez street, Antonio Gonzales, an aged Mexican laborer, was found late yesterday beside the body of his wife. Gonzales, stricken with grief, was found by Detective Sergeants Cahill and O'Brien who were called to the squalid cabin by neighbors to investigate the death. The body was charred by fire and the persons who notified the police believed the woman had been slain.

In broken English, Gonzales sobbed his story.

"My wife was sick—so sick. I watch over her night and day. I work near my home and can run over every few hours. Last night she was worse. I run for a doctor but the doctor he won't get out of bed. I run to my house and my wife is dead.

"Four little candles I place about her bed. Two at her feet and two at her head. Then I go again to the doctor's house but he won't come. When I get back the little candle at the head of the bed is melted and the bed is afire. I drag the body to the floor and throw water on the burning bed but too late, my wife's body is burned."

The police officers quietly went from the wretched hovel, leaving Antonio Gonzales alone with his dead. Later they reported the death to the Coroner.

ALEXANDRIA GIRL IS NEW ACE O' MAIDS

Miss Lena Brown Wins Bed-Making Contest in Tournament at Huntington

Before galleries of cheering hundreds, including fashionable winter visitors at the Pasadena hotels and many employees, the first annual chambermaids' field day on the lawn of the Hotel Huntington here this afternoon resulted in Miss Frances Green of the Alexandria being proclaimed champion chambermaid.

Miss Green's spectacular bed-making in competition with first-string chambermaids from the Huntington, Green and Maryland of Pasadena, and the Alexandria, won her the title. The judges awarded her the prize cup for the best all-round work.

The best record for speed, however, was won by Miss Lena Brown, also of the Alexandria, who made a bed complete in two minutes and twenty-nine seconds. This is said to break all world records.

The pillow-carrying contest was won by Miss Mathilde Dreskewitz of the Huntington, who carried twelve pillows at one time without dropping any. The Maryland and Green chambermaids showed lots of speed and control, also, but they were nosed out by the slightly keener dexterity of the Alexandria and Huntington contestants.

The Vista del Arroyo team was prevented from appearing by illness of its stars.

The lawn of the Huntington, surrounded by the terrace, formed a wonderful amphitheater for the field day. Hundreds of fashionable guests from the resort hotels watched the events from the terraces. Bank presidents, steamship magnates, financiers, oil kings, merchant princes and society women applauded the work of the contestants from the hotels where they are guests.

But the rooting section was occupied by hotel employees to the numbers of several hundred. The Ambassador of Los Angeles sent a big delegation of rooters to cheer the team from the Alexandria.

All the contestants looked fit. There were no signs of overtraining. The weather was clear and the lawn fast and the test beds were set up in the center of the lawn.

Each contestants in the bed-making contest, the chief event of the day, used fresh linen in making the beds. This was according to rules. The referees were prominent winter guests, but the actual judging of the technique of the competing chambermaids was done by a committee of hotel men. Fred M. Crosby, resident manager of the Huntington and the originator of the field day, was honorary chairman. Miss Green was awarded the all-round championship on points. The points considered were speed, neatness and thoroughness.

Far from being disheartened by the result, the Pasadena teams are already planning to wrest the championship from Los Angeles next year.

STRONG DEFENSE OF MADALYNNE.

Woman is Shaken by Sobs in Courtroom.

Attorneys Slash at Evidence of Prosecution.

Rush Quotes Bible in Plea for Mrs. Obenchain.

Slashing and cutting the arguments, theories and testimony of the prosecution's witnesses, the defense in the case of Mrs. Madalynne C. Obenchain yesterday began its most determined and vicious attack upon the net the State has attempted to weave about the woman for her asserted part in the killing of J. Belton Kennedy. Insinuations were hurled, bitter sarcasm was rampant.

A. F. MacDonald, of the defense, continued the address begun the day before. He plunged into the midst of everything, upsetting the carefully constructed evidence the State had piled up. Then came Jud R. Rush, dean of defense counsel. The things Mr. MacDonald did not say, the tears which were not raised before, all came out when at noon yesterday Mr. Rush began.

At times the pleas of Mr. Rush were impassioned, at others they verged on the bitter. There were moments when he could hardly be heard, his voice was so low. But in a few minutes, perhaps, his tones would reach that pitch when each word he uttered was easily heard on the street below.

Passage after passage from the scriptures was quoted. Mr. MacDonald ended his address with a quotation. Almost the first thing Mr. Rush did when he began to speak was to quote the Bible.

SPECTATORS IN TEARS.

Mr. Rush's words brought tears to the eyes of the spectators and once Madalynne brushed her brow with a handkerchief. But no member of the jury was observed to weep. Some had done that when Madalynne told her story. But yesterday they sat unmoved.

Mr. MacDonald confined himself, in the most part, to casual onslaughts upon the testimony. It was his business, he said, to show by the State's own witnesses that two roughly dressed men and not Madalynne and Burch killed Kennedy. So it was to this that he devoted his attention. While he branded many of the statements of witnesses as "ridiculous" he was more inclined to use them as a step for his client to climb to freedom.

Mr. Rush began at 2:05. In just thirteen minutes he was in the heat of his argument. He rarely relaxed throughout the afternoon. While at times he would calm down, it was always the calm that preceded a storm. He would burst forth immediately after and awaken the jurors who almost dozed on several occasions.

RUSH PLAYS STATE.

As Mr. Rush began his address his voice was so low as to be scarcely discernible to those sitting in the spectators' rows. They provides an ideal accompaniment. Mr. Fanning sang "I Did Not Know," accompanied by the Ampico, and the vast audience was thrilled with the artistry of the singer and the "humanness" of the Ampico accompaniment.

The Ampico is the only instrument in the world, without exception, which reproduces without human guidance the exact technique, tone coloring, individualistic expression and thematic phrasing of the greatest living pianists.

The Ampico comes in but few pianos. We recommend it in the Chickering and in the Marshall and Wendell.

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

What Shall She Do?

BY DOROTHY DIX.

Never a week rolls around that I do not get a tear-sodden letter in which some middle-aged woman tells me that her husband is tired of her and wants to be rid of her and asks me what shall she do.

Always the story is the same. The woman writes that she and her husband married when they were young and poor; that she slaved and saved to help him get along, and that they were happy for a good many years. Then the husband began to philander around and neglect her and his home. There was an affair with some pretty, young girl. She forgave him that and he was sorry, and it was like old times for a while.

Then some other woman, young and stunning-looking, came into his life, as they say in the movies, a painted, slim, impudent-faced thing, but he is infatuated with her and he tells his wife frankly that he doesn't love her any more; that she is old and fat, and ugly, and that he is tired of her, and that the only thing on earth that she can do to please him is to get a divorce.

And the woman asks piteously, what shall she do?

I think there is no other story on earth so tragic as this of the wife who has given the best years of her life to a man, and who, when he wearies of her, is turned out like a worn-out old horse to shift for herself, and live her life, as it chances. For her tragedy is not only the tragedy of a broken heart and the loss of the man who has been all in all to her, it is the tragedy of financial ruin, the loss of the support to which she is entitled.

The woman has invested the labor of her life in her husband. She has worked as hard as he has, but the fruit of her toil has gone to him. He owns the dollars and cents she has saved by walking to save carfare, by paring the potatoes a little thinner, by dressing shabbily and doing without the million little things that women crave. He owns the home that her hands have helped earn, and that is as dear to her as a part of her own life.

To take her home away from such a woman is to tear her very soul out of her body. To throw her out in the world to make a living is like casting a child out into a jungle in the night. The very thought of it makes her turn faint with terror. She would not know which way to turn. She is as ignorant as a babe of commercial usages, and the gainful professions that younger women follow. She could not even be a servant, for the woman who has been mistress of her own house finds it hard to adapt herself to another woman's whims.

And yet this woman's husband is trying to get rid of her, and she asks what shall she do? There are those who would tell her to wait patiently, and her husband, in the end, will come back to her faithful love after he has tired of lighter loves. I do not believe this is true. I am not one of the optimists who hold that there is any resurrection of affection. I think that a dead love is the deadest of all dead things, and that when a fire has burned itself out there is no rekindling of the gray ashes.

When a woman finds out she has lost her allure for a man; when he no longer thrills at her touch, or yearns for her presence; when he sees her as a burden upon his back instead of the object of his desires, then she is wise if she kisses love good-by, and nails the coffin down over its face, and goes about seeking her happiness in some other direction, instead of wasting time vainly trying to galvanize a corpse into some semblance of life.

Of course it is true that if a woman is Job-like enough to wait patiently through the years, keeping the home fires burning, the wandering husband may come back at last to have his rheumatism nursed in his old age, but it isn't worth waiting for, and a woman should do something better with her life than make of it a house of refuge for a dilapidated old rounder.

"But what shall I do?" asks the woman. "I don't want a divorce."

Yet it seems to me that the only thing that a woman can do under the circumstance is to sell her husband a divorce, and to make him buy his freedom of her at the very highest price that she can possibly wring out of him. And get cash on the nail. Unless a man has real estate it is practically impossible to collect alimony. There are a hundred ways in which he can avoid paying that, and, besides, she saves friction if she has done with him, once and for all.

The man who is tired enough of his wife to tell her so, and that he wants to be rid of her, will pay all that he can for his freedom, and prudence as well as pride, should make her close out her interest in him, as making the best of a bad bargain. She had as well face the facts that her matrimonial partnership is bankrupt, anyway, and that she had better salvage what she can.

Then let her turn her back upon the past and start a new life. Let her take stock of her own capabilities and develop what seems to her her most promising talent. No woman can live to be middle-aged without discovering that she has an aptitude for some one particular line of work, or developing a special interest in some particular subject.

Sewing, running a boarding-house, keeping lodgers, raising chickens, or pigs, or flowers, all of these open up profitable avenues of occupation to the middle-aged woman who is too old to become a book-keeper or stenographer or clerk, and who has no gift for the professions.

And the deserted wife who cuts the Gordian knot by definitely breaking off relationship with her husband who wants to be rid of her, will find that there is a great peace in finality. The thing is ended. She is no longer tortured by watching and waiting for his return. His insults have ceased to stab her. She is no more a cringing dog, begging for a kind word. She has regained her self-respect and dignity by being with people who want her, instead of a hanger-on of one who was tired of her.

There are so many things in the world for women besides love. Two of them are work and money, and they are a pretty good substitute for a renegade husband.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Snare the Crooks.

LOS ANGELES March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am writing this letter after seeing a strong headline in one of our papers regarding the activities of crooked contractors who are operating here and fleecing thousands of home builders.

My office has five cases all involving houses built under contract where the contractor has either abandoned the work after drawing an amount of money much greater than he has used in paying labor and material bills, or has finished the house and been paid all of the contract price and there are unpaid bills amounting to from 20 to 50 per cent of the contract price.

Most of these troubles arise where people deal directly with the contractor without employing an architect or paying any attention to the requirements of the law which safeguard those who have houses erected on contracts with builders. While the failure of the property owner to exercise ordinary care does not excuse the fraud on the part of the contractor, it might be well to use every effort to advise people against entering into contracts for the erection of houses until the proper requirements of the law have been fulfilled in the matter of legal provisions in the terms of payment of the contract, recording of the contract, bond to be filed by the contractor, etc.

The method by which the crooked contractor snares his victims is by making a bid that is lower than the house can be legitimately erected for and then urging that no architect be employed and that it will only cause needless expense to see that the legal requirements are fulfilled and that he will attend to everything.

The unfortunate part of the matter is that under our law it is impossible to place any criminal responsibility. The contractor simply says "I have made a contract and have not been able to fulfill it and there is nothing criminal about failing to meet one's obligations. You can sue me if you want to but I have nothing."

The usual result is that the victim is forced to accept whatever compromise the contractor may propose and the reputation of Los Angeles for fair dealing is gone with one more citizen.

MARSHALL STIMSON.

Why Do They Do It?

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Will somebody please inform me through these columns why Los Angeles barbers always want to shave my neck? Or anybody's neck? Or why anybody should want his neck shaved? Or why barbers should shave it if anybody did?

I have been compelled to use polite persuasion, noisy threats and profane bombast to keep my neck from being scraped up to the quick every time I have my hair cut. Next time I am going to take a six-shooter and lay it over my knee.

Cannot one of the citizenship leagues or the civic something-or-other draft an appropriate ordinance.

JOHN W. WILLIAMSON.

Beautiful Beauty.

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is refreshingly encouraging to know that those judges in the "Beauty Contest" had the courage and fine judgment to select for first place (Miss Alice Wilson, Bisbee, Ariz., District No. 4,) a face typifying a sweetly modest character, with a hint of the old-fashioned graces, love of home, etc., dignified and courteous in manner, with aspirations along the lines of helpfulness and usefulness in this busy world. One whose innate goodness looks up at you undisguised by rouge or lip stick.

It is indeed a fearsome problem these days to bring up a girl, sweet and true, "amidst all the spilt saltpeter of the world," but that it can be done, is being done, though rarely, is hopeful, with the sidewalks crowded with overconfident flappers, emphasizing the utterances of apparel or rather the lack of it and the papers full of the "charming attractiveness" of a certain other type, whose only claim of recognition from the public is the fact that nature favored her with a few physical advantages in face and figure, and knowing this full well has borrowed upon these assets, far beyond their face value, the privilege to go about breaking up homes and hearts, and making trouble generally.

Beauty, to be real, must come from the soul. There is a brightness of the eye and a flush of the cheek, which comes from the true worth of the heart that no beauty specialist can imitate or reproduce.

There must be an honest sense of the virtues of life and a willingness to strive for and attain goals of usefulness which make for the betterment of humanity, for womanliness made up out of worth constitutes the real charm of woman, and the girl who thinks more of these old-fashioned homey virtues and is more concerned for the happiness of others than for her own selfish pleasures is again coming into her own.

Then pendulum which started swinging with the advent of women in the business world, and has swung so perilously near to the edge of the chasm, is now gradually swinging back to "normalcy."

MRS. EMMA BUTLER.

Insists on Privacy.

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In The Times of March 7, you printed an article I wrote in regard to canvassers; now on March 13, one, Winifred White answered very huffily and worked herself up over nothing, for I was not referring to either her or her sister or brother agents personally, but to the nuisance it is in general to have to constantly answer the doorbell throughout busy days. I still maintain that the general run of housewives much prefer to do their trading at stores when it is necessary, than to be bothered continually, for, you must remember, it is not just one agent a day that calls but practically a dozen or so. No, we're not the least bit narrow-minded, and if people own property of their own, surely they have a right to being "let alone," without having to enter a casket to do so. I won't retaliate by wordy warfare. I don't believe in wrangling, but I do know this much, that there are other means of livelihood available than door-to-door canvassing.

People always have bought and always will buy just what they want and need, but they do not wish to be coerced into purchases. If they do not buy as much at certain times, it is because they feel they cannot do so, and it's not up to an agent to beg them to. Of course, we're all brothers and sisters, and I love everybody but I'm just asking for fair play for the housewives, with no offense to anyone.

R. ROBINETTE.

Drastic Punishment.

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have read with interest the report of the American Bar Association upon crime, which corresponds with my own observations in several countries. May I once again reiterate that the only way to stop crimes of violence is a sentence of not less than five years' hard labor, and in addition, sixty strokes with the cat o' nine tails on commencing sentence and another sixty strokes upon completion of sentence (lest the cold-blooded brutes forget.) This stamped out violence in England, during the Boer war in less than two weeks. At present, as far as I can see, there is no attempt here to "make the punishment fit the crime."

FOR A CONSTIPATED CHILD

A small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will bring quick relief.

MOTHER, when one of the children is constipated are you going to give the first laxative within reach? It is dangerous to do so. Some have been known to rupture the intestines of little children. Don't be beguiled by the outside sugary appearance. Look into the formula. Calomel is seldom necessary; salts, minerals, cool tea, never!

Unlike these, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is admirable for children, as it is for grown people, for Mothers have been giving it to children for 40 years. They know it does not gripe, and is free from narcotics. The formula is on every package, and you can see it is vegetable, just a combination of Egyptian Senna and other laxative herbs with pepsin. Use it yourself and you will find it is not necessary to take it every day, nor to increase the dose, and that it is pleasant to the taste. Bottles can be had at all drug stores, and the cost is only about a cent a dose. Have no hesitancy giving it to a baby in arms. It is absolutely safe.

CLOWNS .. FEATURE .. OF .. CIRCUS.

Fifty Chalk-Faced Funny Men Billed by Al. Barnes.

THERE'S never been a circus without a clown. "Wildcat" shows have gone on the road without an elephant, but each one had a clown, even if the owner had to double as one.

With the Al G. Barnes wild animal circus coming on Sunday for a seven days' stand at Grand and Washington streets, there are fifty clowns. And they have keen competition, for the animal funmakers include bears, monkeys, poodles, goats, burros, kangaroos, midget elephants and ponies. These fellows in chalk face always dread the standard circus joke, "the animal clowns were funny, but they had poor support."

So the Joeys—circus patter for clowns—are said to have developed some original tomfoolery this year. It also is announced that the Barnes main tent is four times as large as usual, with a proportionately greater show. In addition to their animal associates, the Joeys this year will have many kinds of fowl aiding them—parrots, cockatoos, roosters, ducks, turkeys and ostriches.

PRAISE PRINCIPLES OF OTIS.

Commercial Board Members Laud Late Publisher for Upholding Constitution.

The late Gen. Harrison Gray Otis as upholder of the Constitution was applauded vigorously and long yesterday at the luncheon of the Commercial Board of Los Angeles in the Alexandria. Harry F. Atwood of Chicago was about to make his address on the Constitution when E. G. Judah, chairman, in introducing the speaker, mentioned Gen. Otis.

"I am glad to introduce the speaker on this subject," Mr. Judah began, "because I already am wrapped up in the teachings of a man who stood for stalwart Americanism, and the never-to-be-forgotten teachings of the Constitution as it pertains to the rights of the people; one who learned them and took them to heart so as always to be in the right, and who always stood for law and order in all ways. This great teacher who is known all over the world for his staunch upholding of these principles was Gen. Harrison Gray Otis.

"He put before the people what the Constitution of the United States meant to them. His teachings, the message that it was his hope to awaken in the hearts of the people, was that the Constitution was not dead.

"He felt that the Constitution we adhered to in the first hundred-year period of our history was a pretty good document, and that we have outgrown it in no way whatsoever.

"We want men, not systems; we want character. Mr. Atwood is awakening in the minds of the people the same sound theories so long advanced by Gen. Otis."

Mr. Atwood's talk on the Constitution was similar to others he has made before civic organizations here, where he has been appearing under auspices of the Better America Association. He brings out sharply the distinction between a democracy and a republic, declaring that the United States is the latter and is founded upon representative government through delegated authority and not direct action, which in essence is democracy. He is author of several books of wide circulation, notably, "Back to the Republic."

SELECTION OF SITTEL ASSURED.

California's Two Senators Agree on Nominee for Federal Marshal.

Chief Dep. U. S. Marshal Albert C. Sittel received the following telegram yesterday from U. S. Senator Shortridge:

Albert C. Sittel

"We have joined in recommending you for appointment as United States Marshal."

That means that after months of delay, both of the Senators have agreed to the appointment of Mr. Sittel to succeed C. T. Walton, and that it will follow today or tomorrow. Then will come confirmation by the Senate, the filing of a bond and qualification of the new official. The appointment will likely take effect April 1.

Mr. Sittel is a native son, and has lived in Los Angeles all his life. He has been connected with the office of United States Marshal almost twenty years, the last sixteen as chief deputy. He lives with his wife and daughter at 2730 South Main street.

Mr. Sittel has been a Republican all his life, and he belongs to the local Old Guard. His appointment will be a source of satisfaction not only to his friends, but to the Republicans of Southern California, among whom he has been a leader for many years.

FILM SUITS SETTLED.

Star and Writer Withdraw Cases When Called.

When two suits against the Spencer Productions, Inc., brought by Helen Gibson, cinema star, and Helen van Upp, involving services said to have been rendered by them, were called in Judge Hewitt's court yesterday, it was announced that they had been settled out of court. Miss Gibson asked $9500 for purported breach of contract. Helen van Upp sought to recover $1850 for writing continuity of Bluebeard, Jr., and cutting and preparing for distribution several film plays.

VETERANS NEED JOBS.

Pastors to Ask Congregations to Help Campaign.

Pastors of Los Angeles churches have been asked to bring before congregations next Sunday the subject of unemployment of ex-service men. The executive committee of the Church Federation of Los Angeles discussed the subject with LeRoy F. Smith, chairman of the City Interpost Council Employment Committee, and Walter K. The federation indorsed the campaign and letters were sent to each pastor in the city asking his cooperation. Church members who have work are requested to call up the Legion's free employment bureau, 321 South Main street, Main 9060 station 17, on American Legion employment day, next Monday. "Say it with a job" is the slogan.

Three tests for INVESTORS

Apply these principles to your investments!

Whether you own stocks, bonds, land, or put your money in the bank, these three factors will teach you how well you are getting along:

Is your investment secure?
What returns does it pay you?
Could you sell it quickly and profitably?

To meet these tests is the whole science of investment. It is the way fortunes are made. Apply them for yourself and decide what you should do. Here are the facts:

Title Insurance & Trust Company Is Trustee of Palos Verdes Estates

1. SAFETY. Palos Verdes Estates, twenty-five square miles in the center of the Los Angeles coast seashore line, is now being underwritten for development as an ideal park-city by the sea for 160,000 residents, with subscriptions open to the public. All subscriptions are payable to and held by the Title Insurance and Trust Company as Trustee.

How Land Values Increase

2. RETURNS. Los Angeles County land values are increasing at the rate of Fifty Million Dollars a year. You should be sharing in this vast new wealth. In Long Beach, close to Palos Verdes Estates, downtown 50-foot lots have an average value of Thirty-three Thousand Dollars each, or $660 a front foot. The average cost of developed land to Palos Verdes underwriters will be fifteen dollars a front foot. At an average estimated selling price of only Fifty Dollars a front foot, returns to the investors will exceed Two Hundred per cent profit. This profit is in no way unusual in Los Angeles real estate development, and the Management of Palos Verdes considers the probable profits to be more nearly double this amount. Ask yourself if you are doing as well with your money.

929 South Broadway

You are invited to inspect the great Relief Model of Palos Verdes and Greater Los Angeles, on exhibit daily except Sunday from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. at the General Offices, 929 South Broadway.

When You Need Money

3. CONVERTIBILITY. Suppose you need funds beyond your ready cash. You can sell your securities, possibly on a falling market. You can sell your automobile for what it will bring. You can borrow money when everyone else is trying to borrow at high interest. BUT the selling value of every first-class desirable residential or business property in Long Beach or Los Angeles is today from ten times to a thousand times what it cost the man who bought it at the cost of unimproved land. Can you imagine a better investment than that from the standpoint of getting your money out when you need it? And that is exactly the nature of your opportunity in Palos Verdes development.

Regarding Public Subscriptions

In your subscription to Palos Verdes development, only ten per cent of the subscription is required as first payment. The remainder is spread over thirty-six months, with interest at seven per cent. Thus you may subscribe for subscription for One Thousand Dollars, which requires an initial payment of only One Hundred Dollars down, with any other amounts in the same proportion.

UNDERHANDED.

It is now impossible to get straight whisky except by crooked methods, so 'tis best to leave the stuff alone.

THUMB PRINTS.

The courts have decided that a thumb print is a legal signature. It is given under a man's hand and seal, as it were. Nevertheless, this opens up new avenues for obtaining signatures of the illiterate by fraud. Keep on your rubber gloves.

HIS LONG SUIT.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., says he has been wearing the same suit of clothes for eleven years. Things keep well in oil. Maybe it is a good thing for the rest of us that John is not a gaudy dresser. This must be what the junior magnate would call his long suit.

TEAMWORK.

The active and industrious ex-Gov. Bartlett of New Hampshire has been appointed Assistant Postmaster-General under the energetic and tireless Dr. Hubert Work. Whether this is a Work team or a Bartlett pair, it should make an effective combination for the postal service.

STRONG MEASURES.

Maj. Haynes is demanding the use of government bombing planes in hunting the rum runners plying between the Bahamas, Cuba and the United States. If the smugglers were blown up by bombs from the skies they would realize that the day of judgment was upon them. Nothing less seems able to make a dent in their hides.

SWEET STUFF.

Candy-making is now said to have developed into the sixth industry of the nation in value and volume of product. This is one of the things that may safely be laid to prohibition. As an industry candy-making already surpasses home brewing. The fact that sugar contains more alcohol than any other common product may have its bearing on the situation.

IN DARKEST GOTHAM.

New York reporters have found a man who never saw a movie. No; he wasn't a blind man. It just happened that he never called for that sort of stuff and so he had never beheld a moving picture of any kind. He never heard of Charlie Chaplin and he thinks Fairbanks is the party who made the platform scales. Folks will have to make dice to decide whether he is to be pitied or envied.

CAN NEVER RETURN.

A lady writer of fashion gossip says that attempt is made to revive the hoopskirt. It is to be brought back by degrees. First, a dinky little thing like a bustle and finally the whole billowy works. But we venture the assertion that there is positively nothing to it. The hoopskirt cannot be brought back any more than sheet armor can be revived. Space has become too valuable and real estate too high. With full-fledged hoops five or six women would fill an ordinary street car. The State Railway Commission wouldn't stand for it. When a woman in hoops sits down her lap goes up. This is rather embarrassing in mixed audiences. Crowds would gather to see a dame enter an elevator or ride a horse. We do not look for a return of the hoopskirt until all the men go blind.

APRIL FOOLISHNESS.

The German Crown Prince has written a book. Almost everybody is writing memoirs. Frederick William's effort will be published in April and a critic who has seen the advance sheets says that the book is very frank and personal. Most of the blame for the war and its mistakes—so far as Germany is concerned—is placed on the shoulders of the former Chancellor. It seems that the Prince was trying to find peace quite early in the game and might have had it but for the Kaiser's acceptance of the plans for unrestrained submarine warfare. According to his own admissions, the young Prince was overruled and all his kindly and benevolent intentions were brought to naught. By rights this book should come out on April 1. Possibly the publishers have this in mind.

MONKEY FURS.

An eminent actor is suing a film company for $4000 damages under the claim that he must thereafter go through life with a mattress on his bosom. For a while he had to play gorilla parts and in the preparation for them he stimulated his natural hirsute growth by shaving. Through using a razor on his chest he soon acquired a brush effect that makes a bear cub look like a pony by comparison. The crop is so dense that when he loses a collar button he has to use a currycomb to recover it. If he visits the beach he frightens the bathers. They either think some hairy monster is after them or that a mass of seaweed is choking somebody. It is very embarrassing when he puts on evening clothes to have a heavy fringe showing over the neckband of his shirt. The actor has completed his work as a gorilla. There is no immediate demand for work in that line, but the fuzz continues to grow and is now a distinct liability instead of an asset. He simply must have fresh recompense for the tragedy that has come into his life. When a man has to shave all over every day to keep from being trailed as the wild man of Borneo he does need sympathy or its equivalent. Of course, he brings his suit on hirsute grounds.

O. F. BRANT.

When a plume from the wing of death brushed the cheek of O. F. Brant as he stood almost in the prime of life in a Bakersfield courtroom on Tuesday afternoon a noble heart and a great spirit passed. It has been given to few men to strew their path through life with so many flowers of unselfish service to others; to extend a helping hand, unostentatiously and without parade, to so many deserving of assistance and to leave behind such a record of personal achievement.

The Title Insurance and Trust Company, a great business institution builded largely through his genius, was converted into a house of mourning; for his death meant to almost every member of that institution the loss of a personal adviser and confidential friend. The hearts of those closely associated with him in his many business enterprises are heavy with grief; for it was permitted to them to know something of the real man, of the tremendous, intense loyalty to his friends and of the high purpose by which his every act was motived.

While he had been associated with almost every effort for the upbuilding of Los Angeles during the last twenty-five years and had contributed generously of his time and his money to charitable and public welfare enterprises, he never delivered a public address, his picture never appeared in any publication and he never held a personal membership in any lodge, club or society. Nothing was to him more distasteful than self-exploitation.

Keenly alive to the public interest, he never hesitated to make a personal sacrifice to advance what he considered to be the best interests of the community. But he was always willing that someone else should have the credit and the glory, reserving for himself only the knowledge that he had done his part.

Frequently friends found him, detected him as it were, giving his time and money to relieve persons in distress, to the neglect of his personal affairs. In Los Angeles today there are many benefactors of his business acumen and kindly heart. For his council in business affairs was always disinterested and his judgment was very rarely at fault.

He found life a service and he never shrank from the performance of his part. He never faltered, never swerved from what he considered the strict path of his duty. He never made a compromise with his conscience and was always willing to accept the full consequences, to pay the price of living up to his convictions.

Every man who knew Mr. Brant clear down to the depths of his heart must always cherish his memory as long as life lasts.

Every man who believes that there is a future reward for duty well done and who has had the opportunity to know of the great good done by Mr. Brant in a multitude of directions, could not hope to earn a brighter crown than that earned by this man who lived among us and has died.

HARRY CHANDLER.

THE BRITISH CABINET CRISIS.

British politics has apparently reached a condition so chaotic that there is likely to be a change of government between sun and sun. When the fortunes of the Allies were at their lowest ebb in the early years of the World War party government was abandoned for a government en bloc. Liberals and Unionists joined in forming a coalition that gave about equal representation in the Cabinet to each party. Now there appears to be a break between the Liberals and Unionists in Parliament. Neither will consent that the other shall be in control of the machinery of government. The Unionists are much stronger than the Liberals in the country and some of the Unionist leaders insist that their party should make an attempt to exercise control over the government.

Lloyd George's position is perhaps secure if he would care to make a fight to retain the Prime Minister's portfolio. When his government was attacked during the war and immediately after he was always the first in the breach to defend the coalition's position. But he has fought all comers for seven years and has wearied of the continuous strife. He finds himself in a position where there are no new honors to be won, no new worlds to conquer; and he prefers resigning his place to making another fight to retain it.

Curiously enough, the very reticence which he displays about leading another coalition defense has brought him a support which his political enemies expected to see directed against him. Arthur Balfour, a Unionist with unsullied record, has appeared in the political arena as an ardent defender of the coalition. He is telling his countrymen that the present is no time for a change in policy or administration; that there never was a time when unity was more imperative. He has proclaimed Lloyd George as the one man in all England most likely to bring order out of the present European confusion and he has appealed to the Conservatives of the country to rally to the support of the Prime Minister, to fight his battles for him and to lighten his burdens, in place of adding to the load.

Other veteran Unionists have followed Balfour's lead. But there are a group of "bitter-enders" in the old Conservative ranks who will not forgive Lloyd George for what they term his cowardly surrender to the enemies of Great Britain in Ireland. As the price of government unity they demand the head of the Prime Minister. This group is led by Sir George Younger, the titular head of the Unionist organization. Balfour and Chamberlain addressed a meeting of the conservative element in the Unionist party Tuesday night in an effort to win a vote of confidence in the Lloyd George government. Despite all their eloquence, they failed. And a rumor is in circulation that Lloyd George has declared that, without the support of the Conservatives, he will not continue to serve as Prime Minister.

If Lloyd George should resign, the fight for control of the government would be on between the Conservatives and a Liberal-Labor coalition. If the Conservatives should be beaten, the Labor party would have two or three Cabinet seats and its power in the government would be quadrupled. It looks from this distance as though Chamberlain and Balfour fear that the resignation of Lloyd George would result in the formation of a government more inclined to radicalism than the present one.

One of the angles in the political free-for-all is apt to be confusing to American readers. The conservative element in British politics has been represented for several years by the Unionist party organization and the term Conservative as a party name has been abandoned. There is now a disposition, however, to drop the term Unionist and form a Conservative party organization. At the present time the terms Conservative and Unionist are synonymous. Chamberlain uses the term Conservative, while Balfour still says he is a Unionist.

In ordinary times there would be little interest, and less concern, in this country over the rise and fall of governments in Great Britain. But European conditions are so chaotic that what otherwise would only be an incident is likely to assume an epochal character. The menace to government in Great Britain at the present time is radicalism and the Labor party is little else than Communism slightly camouflaged. Great Britain lives by trading. The British Isles do not produce enough food to make them self-supporting, and trade can thrive only under stable world conditions. It is essential to British industry that the rest of the world shall have confidence in the stability of the British government. Every encroachment of radicalism weakens that confidence and makes credit more difficult to secure.

Ten years ago Lloyd George was inclined to radicalism; but the responsibility of government which he has carried since the early years of the World War has converted him to conservatism. If his government were to be dissolved and a Liberal-Labor group were to secure control, British trade and industry would be certain to suffer. Our only concern about the government of Great Britain is that it should be in safe and strong hands, that it shall stand as a rock against the tides of radicalism; for the economic and commercial interests of the two countries are so interwoven that even the partial collapse of the one would be a serious blow to the other.

THE SPIRIT OF LENT.

In a recent address on "The Meaning of Lent," given at the Morosco Theater, Rev. Robert B. Gooden, headmaster of the Harvard Military School, said that one great danger to democracy lies in the attitude and actions of those individuals and organizations that consider only their own desires and interests, regardless of the welfare of the majority.

The speaker deplored the lack of self-discipline among old and young, in all ranks of society, and quoted Judge Bledsoe's remark to the effect that the people of the United States are trying to govern the country, yet are apparently unable to do it.

There is little room for argument against the statements of Mr. Gooden, whose speech was not a cynical tirade against society and conditions, but a constructive address, since he pointed the way to higher individual and social standards which he said are possible of attainment through self-restraint.

As a matter of fact, there can be no true independence without self-discipline, which is the foundation upon which all great governments and achievements have been built. Tyrants are seldom self-governed, but leaders have always been so and always will be, and, other things being equal, the greater the self-discipline the greater is the leadership.

Government of the people and for the people is always preferable to misgovernment by the people. Government by the people may be said to still be in an experimental stage, although it must be conceded that America has been doing pretty well. A pure democracy, which, so far in the world's history, has always proved an impure democracy, is not the standard of America which long ago recognized the wisdom of a representative form of government—which means, in effect, the recognition of a need for leaders.

However, even the leaders of a great nation, who are almost invariably conservative (and rightly so) often fail to see the need for, or to stress the passage of, those measures which the people themselves feel to be necessary for their protection. That an entire nation should have to suffer chastisement at its own hands would be deplorable were it not for the fact that such punishment is remedial. Drastic laws, imposed by the people upon themselves, are good if for no other reason than the effect they have in calling a halt on the intemperance, the extremities of thought and conduct which made them necessary.

Lent, therefore, the season of discipline and self-denial, should be welcomed by sound-thinking people, regardless of religious affiliations. The need for self-control is evident on all sides, among individuals and organizations. Not all of us may agree that physical, mental and spiritual benefits are to be derived from refraining from eating meat or the giving up, for a time, of certain other pleasures of the senses, but few will deny the fact that strength of will and character can be developed through the practice of self-discipline.

Perhaps it is not such a far cry from the Hindu fanatic who stands in one spot and holds his arm in a strained position until it withers to the Puritan who trembles in fear of hell when he so far forgets himself as to kiss his wife on Sunday. However, neither Hindu nor Puritan could lay claim to that degree of sanity that is born of wholesome self-discipline which is essential to health of body and peace of mind.

THE BIRTH OF A PROFESSION.

Unostentatiously and scarcely observed by the masses, a movement has been in progress in this country which has been transforming a business into a profession. The profession may, in fact, now be said to have "arrived," but its name is yet unfamiliar to a large portion of the public, to whom its service is bound to be vital. The fact that the objective of the new profession is the care of visual defects of the eye, one of the most delicate and imortant organs of the body, makes it of real and universal interest.

Not so many years ago the person suffering from defective vision went to an optician, who carried a stock of spectacles, selected a pair that seemed adapted to his case and let it go at that. But scientific study of the anatomy and the functions of the eye disclosed many delicate and differing conditions that tend to impair vision. This revealed a chance for usefulness in a practically new and exclusive field. The challenge was taken up and the profession of OPTOMETRY has been born and named.

It is by intensive specialization that modern science is making such marked progress. Optometrists are intensive specialists in caring for the eye. They devote years to the earnest study of this organ and its constituent parts. They render their service by prescribing and adjusting lenses adapted to the needs of each individual eye and by directing ocular calisthenics to correct muscular defects. They do not treat diseased conditions where medicine is needed, but refer such cases to the oculist, who belongs to an allied profession, that of ophthalmology. The construction of lenses is left to the optician, who is a skilled artisan.

It is to the credit of California that it was one of the first States to protect its citizens by a law providing for the examination and licensing of those who are to be permitted to practice optometry. And it is to the further credit of the State that its standards of qualification are recognized as among the highest in the country and are being steadily advanced.

It is also a credit to California, and particularly to Los Angeles, that this city has the largest association of optometrists and the largest school of optometry in the world.

PUSSYFOOT AS IS.

Detectives have posed as all sorts of things. They are familiar with all the disguises in the repertoire of our old friend Hairbreadth Harry. But the sleuths who broke up a roulette mill of fashionable gentry in New York pulled a new one. They scratched and miaowed at the door. Whereupon someone with a heart said, "Poor pussy!" and in opening the door of the apartment to admit the supposed feline vagrant let the cat out of the bag.

That kind of stunt is older than the trick of the Greeks who got the Trojans to let in what they thought was a horse, which turned out to be a band of armed men. It is older than the ass cavorting about in the lion's skin or the wolf wearing the bonnet and specs of Red Riding Hood's granny. But these pussyfooters in a real, true sense did not even have to possess themselves of the pelt of the creature they impersonated. They merely made the familiar music of the back fence. Which proves that for a detective it is perhaps better to be cat-voiced than to be lynx-eyed.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Bitter Render.

DEAD LETTERS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

George Saintsbury has just written another delightful book deploring the vanished art of letter writing. He gives some fascinating examples of the famous letter writers of the past, which what our regrets; but he doesn't convince us that that sort of letter writing is essential in our lives today.

Of course, it is true that our modern social letters are hasty, scrappy and lacking in most of the literary graces. Even the love letters read in court cases, except in rare instances, are mushy, hurried, cheap—but commendably brief. Business letters are often long-winded and boresome, but happily they are written on typewriters, so we can skim them without undue fatigue.

But we mustn't forget that in those old days of long, chatty letters, critical, commentary and informative, there weren't many newspapers; communications were slow and irregular; there weren't any telephones and people did not travel about so much as they do now.

But if we sit down, pen in hand, and lay ourselves out to write long, chatty letters nowadays, the chances are that our correspondent will be infinitely better informed on the subjects we tackle through his daily newspaper; if he lives in out-of-the-way places he would greatly prefer a brief note from us giving him the high spots of the family news and mailing a few newspapers along with it.

It is also true that the people who are living the most interesting lives in the busy centers are usually much too busy for much letter writing. The only people who have time for these social literary efforts are those who are living humdrum lives in remote places and have precious little to write about. The busy people haven't much time to read them when they are written.

Those charming and precious letters written by the great men of their day in the past were chiefly delightful because news and comment were so scarce. But today our great men give interviews to the newspapers or write signed articles, and our interesting females write reckless memoirs or contribute weekly letters to the magazines—and it isn't so very regrettable, since many thousands more people can enjoy them than if they were written to one friend and perhaps, at best, circulated in a limited circle.

As for those charming, secluded dames who used to write such volumes of sentiment and gossip to their friends—their chief charm was that their correspondents had little else to read. Those same long letters written today would not be appreciated, except by lonesome souls in remote places—and even then a few newspapers and a short, cheerful letter fill the bill more successfully.

I have just received a gem of a letter, six weeks old, and positively lacking in all literary merit, from my brother in South Africa. But if he had devoted hours to its composition it could not have had nearly so heartening and happy an effect.

"Dear old girl, all well here. The new baby a peach—naming her after you. Strikes brewing on the Rand, don't worry about us if they develop seriously. The little ranch will tide us over. Hope all well with you. If not, pack up and come over here—you bet you'd all be welcome. Sending newspapers same mail. Lots of love from us all, old dear."

That's all. They are mostly just like that. And we haven't seen each other for twenty years, we don't know of each other's friends, not even each other's spouses or children, but we know each other's general news, we read each other's newspapers, and those brief, little, personal glimpses suffice to keep the blood tie strong. In a crisis we cable. I recall one pregnant cable which was worth pages of letters, "God bless you, dear. All happiness," that helped to start a marriage on the right road.

But I have another dear relative who writes me pages and pages about people I don't know, never will know. Who makes trite comments on political conditions that have changed or passed since she wrote. Who tells me volumes about her little social affairs. Who advises me what to read. And expects equally lengthy replies and suitable comments. This sort of letter can be very exacting, no matter how dear the writer—but she, bless her heart, is keeping up the old tradition valiantly, and I am just an unpleasant, modern person not to be more appreciative. I have several friends like this in distant places, and if I had any more of them I shouldn't have time to do anything else but write to them.

In the old days every educated person wrote good letters. But we need not necessarily deplore the fact that they do not today. Other times, other manners. The best letters today are brief, cheery, concise and preferably typewritten. In an age of compulsory education and when everybody has views on everything, correspondence might well become a nightmare. I am willing to pay those vanishing letters the tribute of a passing sigh, but I don't want them back.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM.

BY HERMAN J. STICH.

Take Your Time—It Belongs to You.

Rome was not built in a day is an old gem which slips snugly into Time's ever-shifting setting.

It will bear repeated reiteration that everything that is great is the product of slow growth; usually, the greater the achievement the slower its growth, and the more lasting its value.

The mighty oak requires years and years to become so; mushrooms spring up overnight to shrivel again as quickly.

Men hurry to get riches, and in hurrying sacrifice things far more precious—health, frequently honor, and almost always happiness, which, after all is said and done, is what everyone of us, without exception, desires most.

Sometimes, in man's haste to achieve ambition and win fortune, truth, generosity, friendship and a host of other things that fortune cannot buy, are thrown to the winds or go by the board.

This seems to be the hurrying age. We gulp breakfast in the morning, rush through the forenoon's work, snatch a bite at the nearest quick-lunch counter, hustle through the afternoon's grind, scan a newspaper or tabloid on the "express" home and probably squander the end of a perfect day dispatching our hard-earned surplus to get-rich-quick fly-by-nights who urge us to remit right away lest "the opportunity of a lifetime" speed past us.

We have forgotten how to wait—forgotten that the greatest force in the world is time, that it is the most powerful curative agent given man to combat lurking and oppressive ills, that about nine out of ten of life's tangles are best unravelled by just—waiting.

Of course, working, too; but when you want success, when you have done and are doing your best, and you don't understand why it is your efforts do not avail and you become impatient and maybe bitter, why—WAIT! Realize that work is one one-half of the price, the other half is time.

Time has been truly called the eternal mother who knits and turns and weaves away, forever fixing up her children's patches, covering the gnarled tree with lichens and the old walls with ivy, bringing green grass and daisies to flourish above the graves, closing all wounds, hiding all deformities, veiling all ugliness with beauty, settling all quarrels, ending all wars and hiding at last all scars with mothering love.

So, whatever you are doing, do your best and leave the rest to Time.

The years are your allies. Destiny's omniscient looms provided you to weave the fabric of your triumph.

You cannot force things without spoiling them; in the long run, about the only thing you can get in a hurry is trouble; only hell, it has been pointed out, can be accelerated, not heaven.

Contentment is not the tape at the finish of a short, sudden spurt; speed precipitates only sorrow and remorse—ask any New York traffic "cop."

"Festina lente"—hurry up slow, says the Latin proverb; the Germans say "Eile mit Weile"—hasten slowly; ours is best of all, "Take your time—it belongs to you!"

THE WORM IS TURNING.

News comes from Florida that the once-crowded hotels at famous pleasure resorts have been all but deserted during the past winter. One hotel of 600 rooms had an average of but twenty patrons during January—the month in which northerners who can afford to travel like to go South. Another hotel with accommodations for 500 had only six. The experience is typical. It is still remembered that Atlantic City not long ago lost an important national convention because of the rapacity of its bonifaces. The sledding is getting increasingly hard for the profiteers.

It is a sign of returning normalcy when people refuse longer to be gouged. The tendency once more to ask the price before buying and then to ponder whether the article is worth the price is an indication not only of thrift, but also of independence and good sense. The Florida slump is not the sole product of "hard times," for California reports a heavier tourist travel than ever. It probably means that people henceforth are going to try harder than they have been trying to get their money's worth.

The consumer's strike operates gradually, but nevertheless with a good deal of certainty in the long run. Competition—also in the long run—can be depended on to bring about the ultimate restoration, if not of the prewar basis, at least of reasonable profits and good quality of goods.—[Portland Oregonian.

WHERE THE POPPIES PLAY.

Where the western wind is waving
The wonderful fields of gold,
The glorious realm of poppies,
Dream-kingdoms of fancy enfold!
The waving blooms of blessed wealth
Salute the land of fruit and health,
Where fragrant violets, yellow, blue,
Are painting a charm unchanging, true.

They breathe, California, their love for you!
But the love-time seems to linger
Where the golden poppies play.
When the blossoms wave glad kisses
The dreams and faith forget their clay,
For the angels must weave poems
Where the waving poppies play.

GREAT DAY PLANNED AT EL MONTE.

Franciscan Friars, Prairie Schooners and Pioneers Will Feature Parade.

Thirty mission players from San Gabriel, in the garb of the Franciscan friars, will march at the head of the historical parade at the El Monte celebration, next Saturday.

The friars will typify the coming of the Spaniards to California in 1771. They will march bareheaded and barefooted, carrying rude crosses, as they came to California more than 150 years ago.

Following them will come the prairie schooners, drawn by horses and mules, and filled with the descendants of the old pioneers who made the first trip over the Santa Fe trail to El Monte, end of the trail, in 1852.

The celebration was planned in honor of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the American occupation of California, as well as in honor of the completion of the bridge across the Lexington Wash, which has closed the valley road, formerly the Santa Fe trail, for months.

John Steven McGroarty will be one of the speakers at the evening meeting at the El Monte High School. Daniel Jones, president of the California All-Year Club, is billed as the other speaker.

In the afternoon, the El Monte baseball team, reinforced by a battery from the Chicago Cubs, will play Killefer's Coast League team.

Following the meeting at the schoolhouse, there will be an open-air dance on the school tennis courts, with several feature dances by Spanish dancers from the Mission Play. The "kiddies" band from Page Military School will also be on the program.

Every tourist who passes through El Monte Saturday will be tagged with a souvenir by one of a band of the thirty prettiest girls of the El Monte district, dressed in Spanish costume. The girls will also hand out literature advertising the merchants' bargain week, which will begin Saturday.

Wives Prepare to Battle for Miner's Estate

Legal and financial problems growing out of the death of Edward (Earl) J. Gilbert, mining man and owner of an apartment at 1236 Crown Hill avenue, were being arranged yesterday by Mrs. Belle Gilbert, the widow, in anticipation, of the arrival of Mrs. Le Claire Gilbert of Chicago, who says that she was the dead man's first wife.

Mrs. Belle Gilbert is asserted to have said her husband kept secret his first marriage for many years and later stated he had been divorced. Mrs. Le Claire Gilbert is quoted as saying that there never had been any divorce. She was expected to arrive in Los Angeles yesterday with her son, age 10 years, to lay claims to the estate.

Mrs. Belle Gilbert refused to discuss the case for publication.

HOOVER URGES COMPROMISE.

Canyon dam, and to hold back one year's flow of the Colorado River.

These improvements, or at least the Bullshead and Sentinel dams, could be built in a single year, he asserted, and would forever safeguard Imperial against floods.

Mr. Maxwell's idea is that the Bullshead and Sentinel projects should be put in by Army engineers, thus keeping at least that much of the Colorado River problem out of interstate controversy and insuring quick action.

Several times Mr. Hoover intimated to Mr. Maxwell that he was not talking on the question of a States' pact, but was rambling from the point.

Mr. Maxwell's reply was that no pact is possible under present conditions, because the whole subject has not been investigated thoroughly. He intimated that it would take at least another year to determine the amount of acreage each State would be able to irrigate from the Colorado River, and that the commission is in too big a hurry to close up the matter.

DELAY ADVISED.

"I think the commission should make haste slowly," intimated Mr. Maxwell. "That being the case," retorted Mr. Hoover, "I don't see how you can ask it to accept in this brief period your recommendations on three practically new propositions."

There is considerable difference of opinion among Arizonans as to how much Colorado River water they want or need for irrigation purposes. Some think that half a million acres is all that can be watered by gravity flow. Governor Campbell is said to hold this opinion. But Mr. Maxwell is sure he can water 2,500,000 acres by taking the Colorado flow down to Ehrenburg and shooting it through a tunnel and running it out over the land, via a high-line canal. While there was a great deal of difference regarding the practicability of his plan, he was loudly applauded at the close of his address.

BOULDER PROJECT.

A. G. McGregor of Bisbee told the commission he considers the Boulder Canyon project more of a power than an irrigation plan. He expressed the belief that California has been more aggressive than Arizona regarding Colorado River development because her flood danger is greater. He agreed with Mr. Maxwell that the river's flow should be regulated to safeguard Imperial Valley. In his opinion, after all disputes are settled, priority rights and economic use will be the points upon which the apportionment of water and power will probably be made.

He said he thought that Arizona and California had a right to expect that their needs, industrially and economically, would be seriously considered. He would measure the benefits allocated to each State by the State's ability to make profitable use of such benefits. He expressed the belief that Arizona and California will eventually have to pay most of the bills.

"If there ever was a resource that the people should own, it is this one," he asserted. If we must have public ownership I think California and Arizona should put this through." A. P. Davis, chief engineer of the United States Reclamation Service, gave it as his opinion that the Boulder Canyon project dam, plant and transmission lines, would cost $90,000,000.

Leslie Saunders of the Las Vegas (Nev.) Chamber of Commerce took exception to the report that the Reclamation Service said only 2000 acres in Nevada could be irrigated from Virgin River. He asserted that fully 35,000 acres could be watered in that region. Engineer Davis replied by saying that none of his opinions were conclusive, and that his figures were unquestionably subject to change on any such undertaking. He pointed out, however, that the Virgin River rises in Utah, and gave that as an explanation for having allocated most of its water to Utah.

GIRL SEES HER SUITOR WHIPPED

Gripping Situation in "Dreams Afire," Novel Starting in "Times" Sunday.

While the woman he loved looked on with blanched face, Ward Armstrong, a young engineer, was publicly horsewhipped by his business opponent—and merely walked away. Was he a coward, or a strong man who controlled himself so as not to be diverted from a big task ahead? What did the girl think?

That is but one of the big situations in "Dreams Afire," a pulsating tale of a struggle for love and success, of the matching of American courage against foreign cunning, written by Loring Brent. It will begin Sunday in The Times Magazine, and be continued in the daily issues during the week. Don't miss this stirring novel! Be sure to read the first installment.

Mural Designs on Display at Public Library

Henry Lovins, whose decorative panels in the California Building at the San Diego Exposition attracted wide attention, has on exhibition at the Public Library, a display of designs for mural decorations and panels in oils and water colors.

Mr. Lovins, who was formerly art instructor at the University of Southern California, is reviving the art of ancient America, by modeling from designs on sculptures and architectural carvings found in the crumbling ruins of the Maya Indian temples and palaces, which date back to the twelfth century, B. C.

The artist has evolved a new technique by which the colors, made from pigments, are applied by the fingers, instead of with the customary brush, and by this method, it is asserted, he has made the civilization of the ancient Americans live again in glowing colors as it did when the ancient cities flourished. The exhibition is under the auspices of the local chapter of the American Association of Architects.

FACES TWO CHARGES OF LAND FRAUD

Alfred Violette Answers; French Canadian Farmers Fleeced, is Assertion.

When Alfred Violette, charged with obtaining money and notes from certain French Canadian farmers in the vicinity of Edmonton, Alta, appeared in United States Commissioner Long's court yesterday for a preliminary hearing, he was faced with an additional complaint charging false representations in a contract of sale of eighty acres of land in San Bernardino county. The complainant in the second case was Francois LeBlanc, who bought eighty acres of the asserted poor quality land, at the rate of $35 an acre, for which he paid $250 in cash and gave his notes due annually at the Royal Canadian Bank at Edmonton, at 8 per cent interest.

Hearing was given the first case filed against Violette, in which Joseph St. Martin was the important victim, he having purchased eighty acres of land in the Coachella Valley, for which he paid $1050 in cash and gave notes for the unpaid portion of the contract price.

A strong effort is being made to defeat the extradition by the Canadian authorities.

The charges in both cases are identical. It is charged that Violette asserted the land was suitable for fruit growing.

Burbank Order for Annexation Election Denied

Department No. 2, District Court of Appeal, yesterday denied the petition for a mandate compelling the city of Burbank to call a special election having for its object the annexation of the city to Los Angeles. Irregularities in the election held on Nov. 14, 1920, that resulted in the defeat of the proposition were among the reasons urged for the mandate. The petition was filed by J. W. Fawkes, a taxpayer of Burbank.

The court said: "In the face of the paramount sentiment against the consolidation we do not think the courts should proceed to the length of issuing a writ of mandate to call a special election."

MOTHER'S PLEA WINS.

Son's Prison Sentence Remitted; to Work on Road Gang.

In response to the pleas of his mother, Mrs. Jettie Shelby, 1544 Glendale Boulevard, Superior Judge Shenk has altered the sentence he imposed Tuesday on Charles H. Shelby of one year in the penitentiary. Instead, Shelby will serve one year on the county road gang. He was convicted of theft.

Mrs. Shelby contradicted yesterday a published statement that her son's wife had made the statement that she would never live with her husband again. "On the contrary," Mrs. Shelby said, "she wrote an urgent appeal from San Diego asking that her husband be permitted to return to her and their baby."

You can prevent Pyorrhea, or arrest its course, by the consistent use of Forhan's For the Gums in sufficient time.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's twice a day or oftener. It will keep your teeth and gums in a healthy condition.

EBELL HEARS TULLY'S YARN.

Self-Educated Writer is "for" the Kiddies.

Course in University of Hard Knocks Revealed.

Temperance Union Criticises Senator Johnson.

BY MYRA NYE.

Jim—he means James as affectionate—Tully, Los Angeles, self-educated man, editor of "Bandbox Leader" of the town—only a short time ago and now in its second edition, a book that has brought fame to its author almost over night; spoke before a public gathering for the first time in his life yesterday at the Ebell Club's guest luncheon. He ended his talk abruptly, naively by saying, "That'll be all."

He revealed a remarkable story of human interest, of inspiration of a philosophy evolved from a life of woe, loneliness and hunger both physical and spiritual. He received an ovation from the women at the conclusion of his talk.

"I got a present that I liked last Christmas," he related near the end of his talk. "It was from the fellows I'd come up with. Most of them are completely whipped by life. They didn't have a chance and, like me, they had no one who cared enough about them to help them get a start. But they don't grudge me my little success. They was a candle in a strange candlestick and one of the fellows who knew how to write scribbled on a card tied to the candle, 'May the light of truth never be put out by material success and don't forget your old pals.'"

"I never will forget them. They needn't worry. They and little children who are orphans—as I was—are what I live for now. I've been a heater of links in a chain gang, a gunlist, a hobo, a vagrant in New York City when I walked up Fifth avenue not daring to go to the municipal aid station for it would be the third time and that meant arrest, seeing dogs in limousines with pink ribbons around their necks and I with my place I dared to sleep, much less to sleep. I got this book in my head six years ago and couldn't get it out. I wrote verse for the Cleveland Plain Dealer and I used to punish those fellows by reading my verse to them before it was printed. I surely owe them something now.

RUPERT HUGHES HELPS.

"I thought I had my book finished but it only had 8000 words. I worked fourteen hours a day to bring it up to 80,000 and then I fell in with Rupert Hughes. He encouraged me a lot and helped me. At last I dared to send it to a publisher and in ten days I got a telegram accepting it.

"I believe in my country. It's great. But something is wrong when there are so many who want to work and there is nothing for them to do. Perhaps it was my fault back in those days when I was a vagrant. But long before that I'd resolved with all the strength I had that I wouldn't crush myself. And surely the little children who are terribly hungry today are not to blame. There is a vast army of them in whom no one is interested. With them there were 1666. Jane Addams, Environment of children counts for so much more than heredity. We must help them now.

"There are 3,000,000 of them at this moment in America just like me. When I was a little shaver fresh from the orphans' home and made a slave to some one who had no use for me except as I worked. These millions under 16 years of age work and 70 per cent are crippled from the work they have to do.

"I like to read Browning, but I get real mad at him when he says 'God's in his heaven, all's right with the world.' Maybe it is all right in his heaven and in his world, but Browning never went to bed kicked by some brute until he was sore and without anything to eat maybe for two days. That's what some of us have done. And we didn't grow on it either. But it isn't the hunger for bread that goes as hard, but just the fact that no one cares for us. I'm going to give my life, the rest of it, to seeing that sort of hunger just a little less among children.

"Oh, yes, we find help after we reach the shore. People are good to me now and I thank them for it. But I am one in 1000. The other 999 are completely crushed. They never look up at the stars. They never find love. Let's you women and I help them to find it. I thank God for women like you."

STONER IS SPEAKER.

Prof. H. J. Stoner the young professor of business economics in the State University, Southern Branch, was a splendid contrast and foil to Mr. Tully. Of the same approximate age, gifted, educated, also using his talents for the amelioration of the unemployment problem. Having just returned from the East where he made a survey of unemployment, he evidenced the same eager desire to help in economic problems as Mr. Tully had shown in his more intimate and personal talk.

Prof. Stoner said that there was no better free employment bureau in the United States than the municipal one in the Tajo Building, corner of First and Broadway. He ventured the opinion that its efficient work was one of the factors that makes Los Angeles "the white spot industrially" in the United States. He also highly commended the Women's Vocational Placement Bureau in Pasadena, run for women by women with no charge for the applicant.

Miss Laura Paxton, member of the advisory board of the Junior Auxiliary was toastmistress, and Mrs. Charles H. Toll announced that during the visit of Herbert Hoover in Los Angeles next week he would give one-half day to the club women of the city when tickets of admission would be allotted pro rata, according to membership to each club in the city. The plan, she stated, is only partially worked out and full announcement of it will be made next Monday. So much she had learned from Mr. Hoover in a reply to her letter asking him to address Ebell.

Co-operative Council For Better Films.

"Scenarios" will be the subject of Frederick Palmer, president of the Palmer Photoplay Company, speaking before the Los Angeles Co-operative Council for Better Films which will meet today beginning at 10:30 a.m. in the Friday Morning clubhouse. Mrs. Fred Kuck is president. Any woman who is interested in scenario writing or in better films is invited to attend.

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

I saw Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith give and receive twenty-seven kisses in the space of less than half an hour at the P. and C. Club the other day. Nearly a kiss a minute. On this occasion she had been ill and was making her first reappearance. I don't believe she always indulges in so much kissing at every club meeting. But quite a lot of kissing goes on at that club. Lillian seemed to like it. Everybody just naturally kissed her and she kissed back. But if that is part of a club's president's duty, it must be a bit exacting.

Now I come to think of it, I don't believe Mrs. Andrew Stewart Lobingier ever kissed any members of the Friday Morning Club. Don't believe Mrs. C. H. Toll of Ebell does much kissing either. Can't remember Mrs. J. B. Stearns of the Woman's City Club doing much of it. But Mrs. E. H. Brooks of the University Club indulges once in a day.

All the same, there is any amount of kissing done at the clubs. Little Faith Chevalier is an enthusiastic kisser. Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt favors the practice. Mrs. John Kahn and Mrs. Charles Lewin both believe in it. Mrs. Peter McClellan is an expert. Mrs. Agnes Ross Hardy often indulges. Mrs. Wakeman has her special kisses. Dr. Lulu Peters can be caught at it on occasion. Mrs. E. R. Brainerd is an occasional devotee. Mrs. Carrie Jacobs-Bond favors it with some discrimination. Even Orfa Jean Shents is not immune. Neither is Mrs. Van Graham. And as for Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Heustis, I believe she conscientiously kisses every Penwoman at every meeting.

It isn't peculiar to the Americans, either. Kissing is quite as popular among the British Daughters of the Empire, not excepting the practical Canadians.

In fact, those hectic fifteen minutes or so before any club meeting of women anywhere, usually once kissing in the lobbies. Everybody seems to be kissing everybody else in every direction, a I rarely get through without swapping half a dozen or so.

Of course, there is no special harm in it. I don't see why they shouldn't kiss if they really want to. But do they really want to? Isn't it just a queer habit?

I have observed that most of the kisses hit the air behind the left ear. They usually put hats out of adjustment, but they never disturb the make-up. The doctors couldn't quibble, for they rarely touch lips. Just a quiet little smack round the corner at nothing in particular. It is a kiss reserved for this particular kind of an occasion—a trifle awkward, and only effective as a mark of effervescent esteem. It isn't like any other kind of a kiss. It would be quite fatal to attach any significance to it. It doesn't prevent the kisser seriously regretting the faults of the kissee. That sort of love is never blind. It is a neat, tepid little semi-intellectual kiss peculiar to club women. Sunny, cordial, but not warm.

But it isn't artistic, it isn't musical, it isn't poetic. And, quite often, it can be very tiresome. Lillian looked quite pale and frazzled after her twenty-seventh.

Numerous society dames were quite indignant because they had been asked to pose for fashion models for publication. Quite insulted.

It is evidently quite subtle, this distinction between wearing 'em to advertise one's self, or to cull money for a charity, and wearing them to advertise a business firm.

But I can remember a fashion show at one of the country clubs that was not for charity. And, of course, we can all remember the Red Cross fashion shows in which the society models were quite enthusiastic.

And the Children's Hospital fund appears to be a bona fide purpose. Veils, if the business firms were only sagacious enough to stage their fashion show for charity, they could win their point without insult — and do some worthy charity a good turn as well. One must be subtle about these little matters.

This, by the way, is Lent. The season for Lenten sacrifices. A short period during the Christian year in which we are expected to forego those sacred constitutional rights of ours to the "pursuit of happiness."

Rather old-fashioned, of course, so "it isn't being done."

But it might be interesting to try a revival some year. Just to see how it feels. But perhaps it would make us feel too "righteous"—and that is bad form.

"If I had my way no woman would be allowed to drive an automobile," said Judge Davin of San Diego.

Well, if I had my way the Judge Davies of this world would never be elected.

But we are probably both a little prejudiced.

A prominent picture star is giving advice to her sex. She says we want flattery and compliments, whereas we should prefer to hear the truth. Men, she says, can stand the truth, but women can't.

She may be right, of course, but personally I would never risk telling a man the truth unless it was pleasant; or unless I was prepared to lose his friendship forever.

"The average strong man prefers cold facts to fairy tales," says this lady.

Oh, I wonder if she is right. It is so dangerous to pioneer in those uncharted channels.

'Tis a maxim of the schools that flattery is food for fools,
But now and then your men of wit will condescend to take a bit.

For the stout woman, this is the most desirable style because its straight lines tend to take away the roundness of figure; and this style is suggested also for women of medium build who wish to have the appearance of slimness.

For material, we suggest serge, canton crepe, crepe de chine or poplin. The pattern cuts in sizes 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure; size 46 requires 5¾ yards of 36-inch material.

THE NEW.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-date!

To multiply the capes, either up and downward or, this failing, to attach two of them to the shoulders. The latter feature is more likely to prevail in the evening gown than for practical wear, since the capes are merely ornamental and often of filmiest fabric.

The low heel upon the black satin pump which is more often than otherwise of the sandal character.

The lingerie gown for summer, to be of finest, softest material, hand-wrought in embroidery, plotted in real lace and dependent for its dash of color upon the sash or girdle and the handmade corsage bouquet which must be of daintiness and of exactitude to the blossoms simulated.

Rainbow's End.

The new scarves of knitted wool or fiber silk simulate the rainbow in colors and, flung athwart the shoulder of the sports coat or the sweater, lend an air inspiringly gay.

A Dandy Shade.

One of the so-called "new" colors is dandelion and yet as Ann has said, dandelions were doubtless a pest in the Garden of Eden. However, that was before the days of Madame la Mode who, it may be, has just discovered how becoming to certain types of beauty, is the greenish yellow of this first spring flower.

Flag It!

One of the new colors in red is called "drapeau rouge." Of course it originated in Paris and of course, as you have already said, unless your French is all eliminated, it means flag red. That it will become popular goes without saying, since red is so greatly in the mode.

The Stay-on Hat.

How persistent is the stay-on hat and no wonder! Think back to that time when one needs must pin and pin again—half the time securely skewering one's head as well as hat and hair! If, as some have averred, the motor car is responsible for the closely fitted hat, then thanks be to the motorcar.

Up Again Down.

Second only to the shortening or lengthening of the skirt, is the lowering or the highering of the waist-line. Just as we were beginning to hear murmurs of an upward ascending waist, comes word from Paris that the aforementioned line is to be lowered. Lowered far below anything hitherto known to waist-lines, is the word, forsooth.

Mignonette In Tube.

For making slip-overs or for underwear, comes a tubed silk knitted weave which is most convenient. Some of this tubed fabric is in width sufficient to make a sleeveless dress. One may match the garment in long silk fringe and with but a trifle of work, one will possess a late mode lovely dress.

Color Sophistication.

Some one has discovered that the color green is one of sophistication. It is a term not recognized by primitive peoples, it seems. Possibly this is because green was all around them in their out-door homes and humanity is prone to ignore that which is most obvious.

Another color student has declared that red is a color of discord, and that the use of it in the home gives rise to bickering and divorce. Oh-h-h! One did not think there had been enough red in all the world to be responsible for the divorces in California alone! Or merely in Los Angeles, one might say.

Stocking Mender.

They do say it actually sticks all through the process difficile of laundering. I refer to that new stocking cement which takes all the "da—mn" out of hosiery mending. You cut a piece from an old stocking, cement its edge and paste it on and it does the rest. So the girl declares, and I mean to try it next time a pair needs cursing—er I mean—mending.

Whither Points the Mode?

French sports hats are soft untrimmed affair, always of color, unless the wearer is in mourning.

The all-black costume is given a single dash of brilliancy by the long necklace of heavy jade beads.

Flannel in delicate shades of rose, gray, pastel green and lavender will be used for sports capes and skirts.

A draped gown of black satin has Japanese sleeves and a girdle of black grosgrain roses edged with silver.

The short jacket, with high collar and outstanding cuffs, is usually embroidered elaborately along the borders.

A frock of moire has pointed bodice and pointed tunic, with wide sleeves of chiffon trimmed with jet nailheads.

A suit of gray sedge, entirely tucked, and belted at a low waistline, is worn with a vest-like blouse of pale yellow silk.

White silk mummy - crepe makes charming blouses for the spring suit. Organdie in bisque is used for collars and cuffs.

Gold brocade for evening gowns takes for its patterns Chinese designs of pagodas and trees in red, blue, green and black.

A sports blouse of white flannel striped in blue or green has collars and cuffs of white flannel edged with colored rickrack braid.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

For St. Louis Debutante.

Miss Audrey Faust, charming St. Louis debutante, was cause for a delightful break in the social inactivity of Lent last evening when Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jessup Marshall and their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Marshall, entertained 250 guests at a brilliantly arranged supper dance.

The ball was held in the elder Marshall's mansion on Bellefontaine avenue in Pasadena. The rooms were all beautifully adorned with masses of acacia, flowering potted plants and many palms. Supper was served at midnight in the billiard room and around the swimming pool. Max Fischer and his orchestra furnished the music.

Assisting the hosts in entertaining were Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, Mrs. Henry E. Huntington, Mrs. Harold Cooke, Mrs. John S. Cravens, Mrs. John Barnes Miller, Mrs. Granville MacGowan, Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mrs. Adolphus Busch, Mrs. Allan C. Balch, Mrs. Ernest A. Bryant, Mrs. Robert Meyler Mrs. Stewart O'Melveny, Mrs. Donald O'Melveny, Mrs. Van Buren Jarvis, Mrs. Garrettson Dulin, Mrs. Jack Bucklin, Mrs. E. A. Faust, Mrs. John B. Miller, Jr., Mrs. Edgar Gale Miller, Mrs. Lawrence Burck, and Miss Crissie McLemore.

Luncheons and Matinee Parties.

Mrs. Hugh Livingstone Macnall is to give a breakfast party on Friday preceding the Symphony concert where she will entertain her guests afterward. Mrs. Alfred Wilcox and Mrs. Michael J. Connell each are to give luncheons at their homes with matinee parties later. Mrs. Richard Jewett Schwappa, Mrs. Secondo Guasti and Mrs. Isaac Jones will have luncheons at the California Club with loge parties at the concert afterward. Dr. and Mrs. Jones by the way are charming folk who have come here from Philadelphia to reside and have taken a house on Arden Boulevard.

Entertains at Ranch.

Henry Grandon, who came here from the East a year ago, gave a very enjoyable dinner party at his ranch home near Monrovia on Tuesday evening. Among the girls who attended the party were Miss Florence Marsh and her house guest, Miss Ruth Huston; Miss Margaret Kellogg, and Miss Corine Eisenmayer.

Going to San Francisco.

Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt of Pasadena and her daughter, Mrs. Wade Everett Griswold of San Pedro, are to leave early next week for San Francisco where they will remain a week or so. Mrs. Hoyt's other daughter, Mrs. Leroy Sanders and Mr. Sanders are now on their ranch near Seattle but will return in two weeks and it is possible they will all meet in the Bay City and come home together.

At Country Club.

Mrs. Ray L. Riley is hostess for a tea at which Mrs. Erwin Pater Werner and Miss Elizabeth Kenney are to entertain several hundred guests on Monday at the Wilshire Country Club.

Write from Monte Carlo.

Letters from Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Johnson who have been traveling abroad for several months, describe some wonderful and most interesting experiences in Monte Carlo. They will travel around Europe several months more before returning home in the summer.

They had a most exciting trip over. They were on the ocean in the most terrific storm the Steamer Olympic, on which they sailed, had ever experienced, and there were many tense moments for the passengers before they reached shore.

To Give Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Cochran Armour are to entertain at dinner Saturday evening at the Valley Hunt Club.

Mah-Jongg Party.

One of the enjoyable parties of the week was the Mah-Jongg supper party at which Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hook, Jr., entertained eighteen guests. This game which was played in China centuries ago, has become in the past few months the rage in America and abroad. Miss Katherine Mellus introduced it in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Matthews of Beverly Hills, however, had learned the game while in the Orient last fall.

Enjoy Honolulu Society.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnstone (Lysle Babcock) of Los Angeles and San Francisco are enjoying a very wonderful trip in Honolulu, entertaining and being entertained every day. The former Miss Babcock was well known here and in Pasadena in social and art circles and just before her marriage was art director for Clara Kimball Young. Mr. Johnston is the Pacific Coast representative for a Paris firm of art dealers.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone gave a tea the 3rd inst. in honor of Mrs. Mary Hance of this city, mother of Mrs. Douglass Radford of Los Angeles and for Mrs. Hance's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens of Philadelphia, who are on their way on a three-year's trip around the world. While in Honolulu Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone have met the former Mrs. Leroy Linnard and her husband, Capt. Eberle. Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone will come to Los Angeles next month.

Visitors at Del Monte.

Among the Los Angeles and Pasadena folk now in Del Monte who are awaiting the annual spring polo tournament are Mrs. Albert Llewellyn Cheney, Mrs. George B. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. John Treanor of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vreeland of Pasadena.

DEFRAUDS HOTEL.

Robert Monte Rawlins, 30 years of age, who says he was a captain in the American Army, obtained food and quarters in the Alexandria for some weeks and failed to pay for the same. Now he is boarding in the City Jail, where he will remain for 100 days. According to testimony in Police Judge Chesebro's court, Rawlins defrauded the Alexandria Hotel out of about $100.

KrepeKnit
The Incomparable

A word of caution

from the Banner Silk Knitting Mills Inc., originators to purchasers of KrepeKnit, fashion's premier silk fabric for women's apparel

The tremendous vogue of KrepeKnit has inevitably led to the appearance on the market of many imitations both of the name KrepeKnit and of the fabric itself, by the yard and in made-up garments.

None of these substitutes can in any way compare in character and quality with the genuine Banner KrepeKnit. All of these attempts have failed because the imitations lack the lustre, the distinctive surface finish, and most important of all, lack the durability of the genuine KrepeKnit. Therefore, a word of warning from the makers to purchasers has become imperative.

For your protection and to avoid imitations, look that the name KrepeKnit in exactly this spelling and trademark form is stamped on the reverse side of every yard you buy.

MILLER-IKEDA TILT DEFERRED.

The proposed wrestling match between Walter Miller, world's champion middleweight matman, and Kinjo Ikeda, which was scheduled to be staged tonight at the Los Angeles Athletic Club has been postponed until March 30. Miller injured his shoulder while training which necessitated the postponement. This marks the second time the date of the contest has been switched. The first time it was deferred when the Japanese contracted the "flu."

SAYS GRID GAME IS AN EDUCATION

Dean of Harvard Views Football in New Light in Report to College.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) March 15. The view of college football, held by Dean Le Baron R. Briggs, of Harvard University, was outlined today in his annual report as chairman of the Harvard athletic committee.

"For better or worse what was designed as a game has become to the players discipline of body and mind (education of a sort) rather than fun, though not all the fun has been eliminated from it," he said. "Having become discipline, it demands highly developed skill, which can be acquired through nothing but severer and costly training and which people who admire skill in athletics will pay to see."

This reference to the present-day gridiron sport, Dean Briggs's first contribution to the current exchange of views on the subject by leading educators, was incidental to a consideration by the chairman of the subject of requests for the soliciting of charity at the big games. Almost invariably these requests have had to be refused, he said, in order to protect the purchasers of tickets from "confusion that interferes with their seeing what they have paid to see."

Dean Briggs's report was for the year, 1920-21. In the principal intercollegiate sports of that year, he said Harvard teams had a good share of success with the exception of the crew, "which met a series of defeats ending with the loss of a close race at New London. Yale and Harvard, which should have by right, the best amateur rowing in America, seem to have lost all claim to the distinction; and among colleges Harvard was at the bottom of the list.

SPEED WAGON

This Reo Speed Wagon Displaces Heavy Trucks

That is the actual experience of one concern—and in carrying heavy steel forgings, too!

The concern was using 3-ton trucks, but finding them only slightly more efficient than horses, had almost decided to go back a step when this idea occurred to try a Speed Wagon.

Results were astounding. It proved the solution of the problem.

This is only one of hundreds of similar cases that prove the same thing.

GOAKES VICTOR ON GOLF LINKS.

Easterner Wins Qualifying Round at Midwick.

Scores Net of 70 in Annual Tourney for Vets.

Dr. Cameron Carries Off Second Honors.

The veterans had their day at Midwick yesterday, and when the last golf ball had trickled into the eighteenth hole it was found that F. W. Goakes, an easterner, had walked off with the new honors of the qualifying round. His gross 84 on a 14 handicap gave him a net 70, nothing at all to be ashamed of.

Up to the time Goakes reached the clubhouse Dr. A. N. Cameron of the Annandale club was leading the brigade with a handsome net 73, and he was forced to accept second honors when Goake's score went up.

This was in Class A, H. S. Fuller capturing the net honors in the next class with a net 72. Hugh Halsell of Annandale recorded the best gross score of the day, when he made his lap in 81.

PADDOCK THROUGH AT U.S.C.

Charles W. Paddock, world's premier sprinter, has run his last race under the colors of the University of Southern California, according to the official announcement by the faculty athletic committee of U.S.C. made public last night. In the great contest between those who said that Paddock would run for the Trojans and those who said he wouldn't the noes have it by one vote, and the contest is hereby declared closed. All who voted "no" are entitled to say, "I told you so."

With the cancellation of the Occidental-U.S.C. meet, Paddock announced his intention of visiting the Hawaiian Islands to compete against a celestial said to be capable of ten seconds. His absence prevents his attendance at classes at the university, and he is therefore ineligible, according to the announcement of the faculty. If he competes in the A.A.U. meet upon his return he will wear the colors of the L.A.A.C. It is sincerely to be hoped that the above announcement definitely settles the question of Mr. Paddock's competition, as much valuable space in the newspapers has been consumed in various allegations and denials on both sides.

One of the Moments When Your Heart Goes Pitapat, Just Like That.

When two courageous men, mounted on two fleet steeds, come thundering down the field with mallets poised for an awful swat at the little bamboo pill, that's a time when you begin to realize that polo is a real he-man's game. This is a glimpse of one of the matches at Coronado for the Pacific Coast championship.

Chicago newspaper men here with the Cubs all are present with a stiff boost for players turned over to Los Angeles by the Cubs—Charley Deal, Tom Daly, Elmer Ponder, Clarence Twombly and John L. Sullivan.

All of these, they opine, should make good in the Coast League and add much strength to the Angels. Bill Killefer heartily joins in on these recommendations. Possibly Bill may wish that he had them back before the June leaf is uncovered on the calendar.

These men, of course, are more than mere prospects. All of them have been in the majors for some years, and yet none of them hardly long enough to perceptibly strike the downgrade.

Ponder's health is asserted to be the only debatable point in the entire list. He is said to have been handicapped somewhat in the East by bronchial trouble. Elsinore, with its dry, beneficial air, should rectify that matter before the season starts.

All the athletes are strong for that place. They go down to the depot and see them carried in on stretchers, and then walk out after subsequently shedding their stretchers. Let us hope, though, that none of our ball teams will ever become so aged that it is necessary to tote them down to that town on stretchers.

Sam Crawford's voluntary departure from the Angels remains a matter of some mystery. It was at first believed that the Angels, so well fortified with hitters in the outfield, offered Crawford little encouragement in the way of an attractive contract.

This theory is exploded by President Joe Patrick. Joe says that the contract poked at Sam this year was only $250 less than Sam's combined salary and bonus for 1921. Apparently Sam had a hunch that he would be shelved or employed only for pinch-hitting and utility duties, and these things did not conform to his ideas of playing the great national pastime.

John O. Seys, secretary of the Cubs, says one and all of us who have Clarence Twombly tagged as a poor fielder of fly ball, or any other kind, are due for disillusionment. A report to the effect that this player is inclined to goof them in the field preceded him to the Coast.

Twombly, it is averred by Seys, gained this really unearned reputation by dropping a couple of wind-twisted flies in the right field at Cub Park. Winds which frequently sweep in from Lake Michigan and across this park are far too boisterous to be placed in the zephyr class. We have seen some of the best right fielders in the National League misjudge and then muff them out there under these conditions.

RECORD ENTRY FOR TENNIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—Fourteen nations, including the United States, will compete this year in the Davis cup tennis tournament, entries for which closed today. This is said to be the largest entry list ever recorded in an international athletic contest, not excepting the Olympic Games.

Challenges have been received from Australasia, Belgium, British Isles, Canada, Czecho-Slovakia, Denmark, France, Hawaii, India, Italy, Japan, Rumania and Spain. The draw will be made public Friday noon at the office of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. Each of the competing countries then will be cabled the name of its opponent and the date on which the first round match must be finished.

Four rounds will be required to select the combination that will oppose the title-holding players of the United States. The challenge round will be played on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, L. I., on September 1, 2 and 4. The final round will be played at Newport for the week of August 14 and the semifinal matches will be scheduled for the week preceding.

MANILA, March 15.—The challenge of the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation for the Davis cup was forwarded to the American committee today through the Governor-General's office. Two Philippine players will be selected through elimination matches and sent to the United States as attaches of the independence mission sailing April 30.

TWO COLLEGE MEETS ON TAP.

Conference Struggle Feature Event Saturday.

Stroud and Ellsworth Hook Up in Half-Mile.

U.S.C. Due for Trouncing by California.

A rare treat is in store for local cinderpath enthusiasts Saturday when two intercollegiate track meets of considerable importance will be pulled off in the immediate neighborhood. First and foremost in the eyes of Southern California fans is the annual conference meet, to be held this season on Occidental's million-dollar oval, while U.S.C.'s rumpus with the invading California Bears at Bovard Field is kicking up no little interest among the bugs.

Although both affairs are practically settled before the first event is called, snappy competition is in order in a number of contests, which will furnish plenty of excitement for all concerned.

ON PAPER.

Pipal's well-balanced collection of partially-clad athletes is conceded the biggest share of points in Saturday's conference meet. The versatile Argue, who is certain of points in half a dozen events, Buckman, Garey and Johnny Powers, in the 440; Ellsworth in the middle distances, and Chandler and Sloan in the long-winded events are practically certain of grabbing enough points to cinch the affair.

Stroud of Pomona and Phil Ellsworth of Oxy will undoubtedly provide assorted thrills for the spectators in the half-mile run. When these two 880 wizards got together at Claremont in the annual Occidental-Pomona meet, Ellsworth beat Stroud to the finish by a mere fraction of an inch in 2m. 1s.—time that has not been equalled in the south this year. If the expected happens, one of the greatest races in the history of Southern California sport will result when Ellsworth and Stroud leave their marks Saturday.

But while Oxy is a heavy favorite for the conference title R.B.U.C., Pomona and Redlands will grab enough medals to keep the Tigers on the hop. Some even go so far as to say that Pomona might win, with the help of the rest of the conference colleges, but such an occurrence is very unlikely.

What California will do to U.S.C. is a matter of speculation, but most of the speculators are of the opinion that the Trojans are in for a thorough trouncing. The Bears boast of such sparklers as Saunders, former Pasadena High performer, who has traveled the 880 well under two minutes this season, and who Walter Christie declares is the best miler the Coast has ever produced; Kitts, formerly of Hollywood, demon two miler; Jack Merchant, all-around star in the field events; Oxy Hendricks, quarter miler, and Hutchison, sprinter, who will probably bury Cromwell's hopes under an awful total of points.

Two events will make Saturday's slaughter of the Trojans worth going across the street to see. These are the 440, which will bring together Oxy Hendricks, and Spec Shiller, and the sprints, featuring Hutchison of California and Bialock of U.S.C.

For the past couple of seasons Hendricks has had the Indian sign on Shiller, having defeated him twice by a matter of inches in the quarter-mile event. However, Shiller has been tearing off the one-lap event in around 50 seconds flat all season, and is expected to get ample revenge from the California crack Saturday.

Hutchison is favored to win over Bialock, being officially credited with 9.4 in the 100 and 22 flat in the 220. Bialock is said to have equaled these performances, but he will have to do some terrific sprinting if he precedes the Berkeley flash to the tape.

HOLLAND KNOCKED OUT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—Fred Fulton, Minnesota heavyweight, last night knocked out Jim Holland, Baltimore, in the sixth round of a scheduled eight-round bout. Fulton floored Holland four times in the first round.

SUZANNE WINS DOUBLES MATCH.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

NICE, March 15.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen today played her first tournament tennis since she was defeated by Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory last summer. She was paired with Count Michael Soumarokov-Elston, former Russian champion, in the mixed doubles and with Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California in the women's doubles.

While the Lenglen teams won both matches, 6-0, 6-2, and 6-1, 6-1, respectively, the French star failed to display her best form and kept away from the net, being content with a back-court game. She appears to be still short of the necessary training for a hard singles match.

PREPARE FOR THE CHAMPION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HONONLULU (T. H.) March 14. Men who have held watches in all kinds and varieties of athletic events will do the timing when Charles Paddock, world's champion sprinter, runs in the spring A.A.U. games here, so if the fleet Californian busts a couple of records they will be properly recognized. The games are to be held on the field of the Kamehameha School for Boys, a school named after the "Napoleon of the Pacific," Kamehameha the Great, the chieftain of old who first brought the islands under one dominion.

Paddock will not have to run in competition here. There is no one in the islands in his class. He could give any of them big handicaps.

The plan is to put up special prizes for him. Thousands of track fans would go to the games just to see him jog over a 100-yard course.

PLAN HUGE STADIUM FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Decision of a committee of the Board of Supervisors, to include the proposed Golden Gate stadium site in the park lands of the 1922-1923 budget, yesterday, virtually assured San Francisco of an athletic field capable of taking care of the International Olympic meet, or other contests of that size. The supervisors approved of the stadium project two months ago.

DALY CLINCHES CATCHER'S JOB.

Red Killefer Gives Out Some Inside Stuff.

Mack Wheat also Slated for Regular Berth.

Angel Outfield Trio Selected by Boss.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ELSINORE, March 15.—There is one thing positively settled about the Los Angeles club, and that is Tom Daly will be the first string catcher.

Of course, there are other matters certain concerning the composition of the 1922 Angels as, for instance, it is now known that Twombly, Sullivan and Carrol will comprise the outfield. Sandow Grigsa, of course, is slated for first base, with McCabe at second and McAuley at short, and third base in charge of Chief Lindemer until such time as Charley Dean sees fit to report.

But the Daly matter is a new development and one which had been difficult to predict, as in the ex-Cub, Mack Wheat and Red Baldwin, Killefer had three first string catchers, and two unusually good youngsters in Tony Rego and John Johnson, or Yen Yonson, as she is spoken along the water front here. Yea be, Elsinore has a water front. A guy can sit right on his front porch and spit in the lake on moonlight nights. This lad is said to be none other than the heroic Yen Yonson who jumped from the yibboom into the yollyboat down at San Pedro one stormy day. Killefer really seems to have taken quite a shine to Yen.

PRAISES DALY.

"No such thing as keeping Daly out of the front line," declared Red today. "He is a great catcher, apparently right up to major league standard. Couldn't ask for a better one. Mack Wheat also is showing a world of pep and hustle."

Although Red hasn't said as much, one might infer from his remarks that Daly and Wheat are to be the regulars. Also, he intends to carry either Rego or Johnson all season. However, there is no haste in reaching a decision as there is no rule requiring him to cut down before May 15. Aside from Daly, this dope is purely conjecture. Baldwin, rather than Wheat, might be the other regular, for all that Red has positively uttered. This catcher is a high-class backstop, and probably wouldn't be allowed to get out of the Coast League.

WILL FACE ELKS.

Following today's practice game with the Sherman Indians, the Angels will play the Riverside Elks in that city tomorrow, followed by a feed at the well-known Mission Inn.

The Angels are to meet the Cubs at Washington Park in Los Angeles Friday, and will engage in Manual Slated to Take Trimming From Lincoln Cinder-Pushers Tomorrow.

RAILSPLITTERS HAVE BIG EDGE.

Should Wallop Tollers by Horrible Score.

Pioneers Tangle With U.S.C. Frosh at Home Field.

Hollywood and Polytechnic Lock Competition.

BY CHARLES WEST.

Our esteemed Board of Education certainly put a crimp in prep cinderpath activities for this week by canceling the scheduled meet between the city league schools and Stanford's freshman crew. Tommy Davis, track mentor of Lincoln, and Coach Ed Foster of Manual Arts, filled in this open date very satisfactorily by matching their respective teams for a contest tomorrow on the Tollers' oval, while L. A. High was able to sign up the U.S.C. frosh for same competition, but the rest of the city league schools are out in the cold.

NO LUCK.

Doc Skinner, who has coached Poly's track celebrities since the year 1, is emoting about for some kind of a meet to keep his athletes in trim for future competition, and Bob Strohle of Hollywood is still looking around for victims, but as yet their efforts have not been rewarded.

So Manual's disagreement with Lincoln seems to be about the biggest thing on the program for tomorrow, although the result is so decidedly a foregone conclusion that the fans can't get very excited about it. Lincoln will undoubtedly trip up Foster's kids with a lofty total of points, and only a few events will be close enough to be interesting.

One of these will be the shot put, in which that husky pupil of Tommy Davis, Scott, will be matched against Manual's pride and joy, Lynch. So far this season Lynch has tossed the weight about a foot farther than Scott, and is hence favored to win the event, but under the spur of competition great things are possible, and it may be that Scott will surprise 'em.

SOME SCRAP.

The hottest contest of the afternoon will undoubtedly be the high hurdles. Manual Arts will be ably represented by Towle and Blewett, while Boles and Shever will wear Lincoln's colors. Boles is considered a fraction of a second faster than Rick Blewett in the barrier-surmounting business, but will have to hustle to keep ahead of the ranger Toller. Shever and Towle will probably put on a hot scrap for the remaining place.

Blewett and Washington have a tough time ahead of them representing Manual and Lincoln, respectively, in the high jump. Blewett has been cruising around five feet nine inches this season, while Washington has been hopping about the same height. Capt. Somerville of Lincoln is also slated to garner a few points in this event.

Thomas is sure of first places in the 880 and mile, which will help make the Tollers' score respectable. Bald Rain of Manual should add five points in the pole vault, but aside from these events Lincoln has about everything cinched.

SPALDING'S WHITES WIN IN POLO MATCH.

The Whites headed by Keith Spalding defeated the Purples led by J. B. Miller, Jr., 7 to 4 in the polo match at the Midwick Country Club yesterday afternoon before a fair sized crowd. Only six periods were played. The work of Dr. Worcester and Keith Spalding of the Whites was particularly good. Team work was lacking in the playing on both sides. The men did well, however, in individual work. The line-up follows:

LE HANE TO CAPTAIN U. OF C. BASKETEERS.

CRUCIAL CASABA DOINGS TODAY.

Manual Arts and Alhambra will mingle this afternoon in the semifinal game of the Southern California prep basketball title race. The contest was originally scheduled for U.S.C.'s new pavilion, but it was found impossible to stage it there at the last moment. It probably will be held in Jefferson's gym.

Dope gives the Tollers a slight edge, although the heavy Alhambra five will give them plenty to think about.

Coach Wallis Makes Several Changes in Bear Crew for April Race.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, March 15.—Several changes have been made by Coach Ben Wallis in the University of California crew which is practicing daily on the Oakland estuary, near here, for its race against the University of Washington at Seattle April 22.

Wallis switched Capt. Dan McMillan from No. 4 to stroke, sent Bolding from the stroke seat to No. 4, and moved Gardner from the second varsity boat into No. 3. The new combination in its first trial sent the shell over the three-mile course in the fastest time made yet this year.

Early this week the varsity and freshman crews covered about twenty-five miles, rowing completely around the island on which Alameda is located. Wallis a few days ago stepped into the varsity shell himself, sitting a stroke, a position he held on the Yale shell several years ago.

Saturday the California intercollege races will be held on the estuary. This will be the first and last public exhibition of the Bear crews here this year.

Bengal Frosh Trim Bulldogs on Cinderpath

Pasadena High lost a close cinderpath struggle to Occidental's brilliant collection of freshmen yesterday afternoon on the Crown City oval, 64 to 47. Pollock of the Bulldog squad walked off with both sprints as expected, while Carter of Oxy, took the mile in snappy time. The relay went to Pasadena after a wild contest.

The Oxy babes journey to Santa Barbara, where they will meet the high school team of that city, Saturday afternoon.

OAKLAND SHOOTERS CLAIM NEW RECORD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, March 15.—Claims have been made by the Oakland Revolver Club of this city that its mark of 1168 out of a possible 1250, recently established, is a new world's record. The mark was made in competing in a tournament in which fifty-five teams from all parts of the United States were entered. Several days ago the Springfield (Mass.) team announced a mark of 1164, one point behind Oakland.

New Tiger Outfielder, Nelson Hawkes.

Chicken Hawkes has proved a sensation in the Vernon practice games this spring. He is one of the fastest gardeners ever seen at Washington Park and can sure lean on the lumber. He bids fair to draw a regular outfield position with the Bengals this year.

this organization in the East and found it a big help, particularly when traveling with a club.

It concerns itself chiefly with securing satisfactory and prompt wire service, making the press box safe for working newspaper men and dealing with managers or club owners who give out interviews and then repudiate them. Beyond these objects it is purely fraternal.

Here in Los Angeles the press-box situation has become unbearable. With the early editions now in vogue, baseball scribes are compelled to do some of their writing during the game. Yet toward the close of last season the regular writers frequently found it impossible to get a seat in the press box, and when they did succeed in edging in there hardly was elbow room for manipulating a typewriter.

Some of these visitors are possibly very remotely connected with some newspaper. About the second visit they bring a friend with them; that friend brings another friend, and so on. It is an endless chain. In the major leagues the Baseball Writers' Association has dealt effectively with this problem. Each press box is in charge of a representative of the association, who passes on the credentials of every person seeking admission to it. As a result the bona fide newspaper men have better than a fighting chance to do their work.

Some visitors to the press box at Washington Park have even abused the courtesy to the extent of not conforming even slightly to the ethics of the position by hurling insulting remarks at certain players.

Should the report prove true that Charley Pick is only on probation as manager of the Sacramento club, and will be relieved if he fails to have the team one-two at the end of two months, one will be compelled to conclude that baseball is headed for strange shoals in that town.

Never before has the great national pastime produced anything quite so quaint and fantastic as this proposition. That a manager would be placed under the handicap of such a threat is inconceivable. We know of no arrangement which would seem to insure more certain failure. Frequently a ball team gets away poorly. Most of them do not strike their real stride within two months. Teams have been in last place at that period, only to finish in front.

According to this report, the Morenigs feel they must have their team in the race at all times in order to realize on the money which they expended on enlarging and rehabilitating their park. To the average man placing a manager on two months' probation would appear the most certain method of not realizing on this investment.

TIJUANA RESULTS.

[RECEIVED DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, March 15.—Doctor Corbett, running in the height of good form, won over a fast lot of sprinters in the fifth race here this afternoon, with Billy Lane second and Arctic King third. The time for five and one-half furlongs was 1:07 2-5, very fast considering the slow state of the track. Doctor Corbett was rated back of the pace by Jockey Huntamer and when given his head, rapidly went to the front, opened up two lengths and won easily.

Walter Whitaker won the fourth, a six-furlong sprint, just lasting to stall off the closing rush of Josie Gorman. Diviand was the winner of the third at a mile, coming from behind to beat Little Pointer and Hot Foot in a close finish. Breeze, one of the leading contenders for the Coffroth handicap, took his final workout this afternoon, going the full mile and a quarter route in 2:14, the first mile in 1:47. Results:

First race, five furlongs: Mat Johnson, won; Fred Brough, second; Velma, third. Time, 1:02 2-5.

Second race, five furlongs: Ash Junie, won; Lady Gardner, second; Sandy Mack, third. Time, 1:02.

Third race, one mile: Diviand, won; Little Pointer, second; Hot Foot, third. Time, 1:44 2-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs: Walter Whitaker, won; Josie Gorman, second; Miss Spider, third. Time, 1:18 4-5.

Fifth race, five and one-half furlongs: Doctor Corbett, won; Billy Lane, second; Arctic King, third. Time, 1:07 2-5.

Sixth race, one mile and seventy yards: Sunlock, won; Wieland, second; Tom Brooks, third. Time, 1:47 2-5.

Seventh race, one mile and seventy-yards: Polly Wale, won; Nettie Bryant, second; Southern Green, third. Time, 1:48 3-5.

Eighth race, six furlongs: Kalbetzer Battle, won; Hay Stanley, second; Tony, third. Time, 1:14 4-5.

GYPSY WINS TWO.

Gypsy Kid defeated Cliff Gillan, 75 to 54, and Stanley Seymour, 75 to 62, in two billiard matches at the Mathies-Brunswick billiard parlors yesterday. This afternoon he will meet "Fuzzy" Wilcox and tonight will face Dave Bartlett.

OUTFIELD GIVES BILL BRAIN FAG.

Too Many Gardeners Have Eusick in Quandary.

Chadbourne May be Forced to the Bench.

Pitcher Humphries Given Release by Vernon.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Bill Essick is suffering from brain fag superinduced by constant speculation on his outfield proposition. Now that it is fair to presume that Ping Bodie will be reinstated by Judge Landis, and will report in the near future for a Bengal uniform, the situation becomes still more complicated. Essick has six cracking good gardeners in Hyatt, Chadbourne, Schneider, Hawkes and Bodie. Of the sextet, all are in good shape, except Bodie, who will need a little practice spell to bring him into playing form when he reports. The consensus of opinion of a number of wiseacres that witnessed the game yesterday at Washington Park was that Vernon will start in the season with High in left, Hawkes in center and Schneider in right.

If this proves to be a fact, it will see Chadbourne on the bench, and Chadbourne on the bench doesn't look good to the rank and file of Tiger rooters. The veteran is playing his usual swell game and is full of pep. Confidently he is the best carrier hitter in the league today, and this means much strength to any team. Now here is where Essick's troubles come in.

HOW COME?

What is he going to do with Bodie and Chat? Besides all this, Hank Hyatt was being banked on to alternate with Schneider in right field when a left or right-handed pitcher on the enemy's mound warranted the switch. However, should First Sacker Dressen prove a real hold-out, Hyatt could be placed at his old stand-by, the initial sack.

Vernon's infield—bar Dressen—is complete with Smith at third, French at short and Sawyer at second. This infield should prove more formidable than it did last year from the fact that Sawyer all winter long and in the spring practice games thus far, has been mauling the old onion good and hard, and promises to have a good year with the stick.

UP TO SHEEL.

If Frank Shellenback's good right arm holds good after the operation he underwent on it last winter, Vernon will have about the best three pitchers in the league in Doll, Pruitt and Shellenback. The Tigers may lack a little in speed on the bases, but they are well fortified in all the other branches of the game and barring accidents should make a great bid for the 1922 pennant.

Robert Humphries, southpaw pitcher of the Vernon club, was yesterday given his unconditional release by Boss Bill Essick.

Hughie High won another game from Rollie Zeider yesterday at Washington Park, 4 to 2. This makes the series now stand, High 4, Zeider 2 and 2 tie. The same two teams play again this afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. The score:

Zeider	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	2
High	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	4

Batteries—Zeider and Hunter; High and Devormer.

Planning New Ball League for Bay City.

[RECEIVED DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—In order to supply San Francisco fans with continuous baseball a subsidiary league is being planned here. The new league will also serve to develop youngsters, as well as to keep local fans happy while the Seals are on the road.

Last season Oakland and San Francisco both had their home grounds on this side of the bay, but a disagreement resulted in the Oaks returning to their old stamping ground, leaving local fans baseball-less for half the time.

PIONEERS NOSED OUT BY TAR BASEBALLERS.

U.S.S. Mercy and Los Angeles High tangled on the Pioneers' diamond yesterday afternoon in one of the closest games that have been played this season. The gobs put over the only marker that was made, but it was not until the first half of the seventh inning that they clinched the contest by a score of 1 to 0.

The game was a battle of pitchers throughout and in the whole game only seven scattered hits were allowed. Four of the hits were to the credit of the Pioneers while the remaining three went to the gobs. Only three errors were chalked up and only one of these went to the fleet team.

Reynolds, the Pioneer pitcher, played a wonderful game. His control was perfect, and he stopped a big bunch of hot ones that showed off to advantage his length of limb. On the mound for the Mercy boys was Bussman, who played as good a game of ball as anyone could desire.

ELLIOTT DECIDES TO QUIT.

Leaves Cub Training Camp; Boils and Discouragement Figure in Exodus.

[RECEIVED DISPATCH.]

AVALON, March 15.—Carter Elliott, a rookie from the International League, who has been training with the Chicago Cubs here, packed his duds and pulled out on the afternoon heat today, having decided that he was not cut out for a career as a major league star. Elliott had been trying for the second sack position, and had become slightly discouraged because Bill Killefer had not pushed him in the first line-up. He had been troubled with boils, which prevented him from displaying his best brand of ball.

The Tassajaras defeated the Regulars today in a seven-inning practice tilt, 7 to 1. The hitting of Hack Miller, former Coast League player, featured the Tassajaras' victory.

Max Flack, who was hazed in practice yesterday, is much better today, but will not accompany the team to Los Angeles tomorrow for a series of games over the week-end.

REGRESO RULED OFF TRACK AT TIJUANA.

[RECEIVED DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, March 15.—Regreso, belonging to the C. B. Irwin stable, was ruled off the Tijuana track by the Jockey Club stewards today. This drastic action on the part of the stewards resulted from Regreso's inconsistent racing of late.

Yesterday, Regreso, after several bad races, came out and defeated Pink Blossom and several other good ones. So inconsistent was this action on the part of Regreso, that the stewards decided that further entry of the horse would be refused.

DUNDEE-LEONARD BOUT POSTPONED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—The ten-round bout between Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, and Johnny Dundee, scheduled for March 27 at Milwaukee, has been postponed until late in April, the exact date as yet undecided, it was announced today from Dundee's headquarters here.

Postponement is declared due to Promoter Frank Mulkern's inability to obtain a permit from the Wisconsin State Boxing Commission for a March 27 bout, as another fight is scheduled near the Mulkern arena for that date.

Justice Taft Would Curtail Varsity Sports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Chief Justice Taft, speaking at a meeting here last night of the Yale Alumni Association, of which he is honorary president, said he believed the growth of big collegiate athletic exhibitions was militating against the intellectual life of the institutions and should be curtailed. Athletic contests in the form of great public exhibitions, he said, were not helping the educational purposes for which the institutions were founded.

"These games for the entertainment and edification of the people are not really for the good of the universities," the Chief Justice said. "I would be glad to see a step put to them and rejoice to see several institutions leading to that end. That will bring about a proper sense of proportion of what a university is for. Its object is to promote learning, and athletics are drawing the attention of students away from this. I am hopeful the tendency is the other way now."

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RELY ON WEIGHT HEAVER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 15.—Glenn Hartranft, weight entrant for the Stanford varsity tracksters, whose performances in the shot and discus last Saturday created a sensation in Northern California, will be the leading actor of Coach (Dink) Templeton's aggregation which plans a tour to Los Angeles for a meet with the University of Southern California, March 25.

In the interclass competition Saturday Hartranft, who hails from Fullerton, Cal., registered 43 ft. 6 in. with the 16-lb. shot, and 144 feet in the discus. Templeton states the youngster is just beginning to show what he can do in these events. To complete the day's work the tall, blond youth came hooping in right behind Eddie Sudden in the 100-yard dash, which was won by Sudden in 10 flat.

Capt. Hanner, national intercollegiate champion in the javelin, and Righetti will represent the Cards in this event.

Morris Kirksey, star sprinter for the Cards, will not be with the team, but the short dashes will be taken care of by Eddie Sudden, whose marks of 10 flat in the century and 21:1 in the furlong on a slow track last Saturday will stamp him as a likely contender against any southern runner but Paddock.

Howell did six feet in the high jump in Saturday's interclass competition, and should improve, as he has just come off the basketball floor. Stanford will have no likely contender in the broad jump. Minsky is probably the best possibility.

WELL FIXED.

Guy Dennis, Bill Black and Art Wilcox are the Card representatives in the pole vault. Dennis and Black have been doing around twelve feet.

In the middle and long distances the Stanford outfit is not strong this year. McIntosh, half-miler, is about the only performer of merit though Daily, a freshman, will be eligible for the varsity April 1.

Eddleman stands alone as a probable point winner in the two-mile.

Templeton expects his trackmen to make up for lost points in the distances with clean-ups in the barrier races. Polk, Hays and Davis are all reputed to be clever artists in the stick dashes.

Two fairly capable quarter-milers will oppose Schiller. Williamson and Clark have both been recorded in times around 51 seconds this year. Sudden, the sprinter, won the "Irish Marathon" from a field of ninety-six entrants last Thursday, and was caught completing a quarter at 50:2. Templeton states that Sudden will be kept in the sprints, however.

Fresno Lands in San Joaquin Valley League.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HANFORD, March 15.—Fresno, in the hearts of whose baseball fans has lived and died a hope this season that a berth in the Pacific Coast Baseball League might some way be secured, today was admitted as a member of the San Joaquin Valley League, the strongest league on the Pacific Coast outside of organized baseball.

The firemen of that city have launched a move to procure a $25,000 park which may be added to later and there are two other park propositions available.

The Fresno park will be ready May 7 and Fresno will play on the road until that date. Play begins on April 2. The league has in it such well-known baseball material as Ralph Stroud, Ray Keating, Art Mueller, Clyde Wares, Daddy Rohrer, Walter Boles, Frank Guigni and many other well-known leaguers. The teams now comprising the league are Madera, Dinuba, Hanford, Visalia, Coalinga and Fresno. Practice has started in all cities of the circuit.

TITULAR RIFLE SHOOT OPEN TO CIVILIANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Riflemen to defend the world's marksmanship title for the United States in the 1922 international matches at Milan, June 3, will be selected by open competition among Army, Navy, Marine Corps, National Guard and civilian contestants, the national board for the promotion of rifle practice announced today.

The try-out shoot will be held on the Marine Corps rifle range at Quantico, Va., May 2, 4, 5 and 6, and the scores made there will determine the personnel of the American team, which is expected to leave for Cherbourg May 16.

an exhibition with the El Monte team on the latter's grounds Saturday, while the crack team is playing Hemet. Killefer's first team will battle San Bernardino on Sunday. Then all hands will return here to remain until March 24, when they will return to Los Angeles for a series with the Cubs, and thence to Catalina, where they will log off their training with a few days on Wrigley's well-manicured meadow.

It takes an expert to follow the itinerary of the Angels these days, let alone routing them. They are beginning to need a transportation expert such as is carried by the average big league club. Hank Ray would be a good man for the job, as he is one of the few men to whom a railroad time-table is an open book. Failing to land Hank, we would suggest an Indian from the Pala reservation for the position. Indians are great pathfinders, and that is what is needed to follow this spiral railroad out of Elsinore. Should any of these Indians refuse to take the place, we would suggest a tramp as transportation officer. Not a rookie tramp, but an experienced, educated hobo, who has touched every tie this side of Denver. Otherwise, the home of our several Angel ball teams will be found wandering around in circles like the lost babes in the woods.

THE LINE-UP.

Against the Cubs on Friday, Killefer will present the following battle array: Carroll, center field; McAuley or Beck, short stop; Twohby, right field; Griggs, first base; Sullivan or Hass, left field; McCabe, second base; Lindimore, third base; Wheat and Daly, catchers; Thomas, Hughes, Lerona, Dumovich, Robertson and Bennelly, pitchers; Caffey, utility.

The second team which plays Hemet will be a mixture of regulars and rookies as follows: Hall and Ponder, pitchers; Baldwin, Rego and Johnson, catchers; Cook, first base; Doc Crandall, second base; Winterton, short stop; Greene, third base; Olive, Griffin and Barnett, outfielders.

Bud Ponder, brother of Elmer, was today started back to his parents in Oklahoma. Killefer avers that if Bud ever had a ball in his hand before he came here it was one of those celluloid balls located on the end of a rattle with which babies develop their teeth.

LIKE THE RAIN.

The farmers here are greatly pleased with the rain, it seems. The moisture, it is said, will be good for the bee pasture. There are many large bee pastures near here, but none of them are fenced in as yet. When these pastures are fenced, a large number of bee keepers will find themselves out of employment.

NAVY NOTES.

Within two hours of the arrival of six big dreadnaughts of the Pacific Fleet at the local harbor yesterday morning there was a brisk demand in the harbor district for furnished apartments. Officers and enlisted men attached to the various ships, were making the rounds of the various apartment-houses, rental agencies and bungalow courts, seeking quarters for themselves and their families for the long stay of the fleet at the local base. Before evening practically every furnished apartment and suite in the harbor district had been taken and scores of Navy families were still seeking quarters.

"We're mighty glad to be back in Los Angeles Harbor again," said Lieut.-Commander Rufus King, flag lieutenant on the staff of the commander-in-chief of the fleet, soon after the flagship California took up her old anchorage inside the breakwater. "All the ships have undergone machinery overhaul at San Francisco and now we're back again for target practice and routine drills."

Lieut.-Commander King declared the voyage down had been unusually pleasant and that the ships had maneuvered in drill all the way.

Scores of women lined the wharves at the foot of Fifth street yesterday noon when news came that the big ships of the Pacific Fleet had come to anchor. They were sweethearts, sisters and wives of officers and enlisted men of the fleet, waiting for the men to come ashore and greet them after an absence of a month.

The giant anchors of the six battleships had hardly struck the mud in the bottom of the outer harbor yesterday when scores of enlisted men changed their blue uniforms for the regulation blouse, knickers and cap of their respective baseball teams and hurried ashore to the Navy athletic grounds for baseball practice. The season is on in earnest among the ships of the fleet and each ship is striving to develop the team that will carry off the fleet's championship honors.

Baseball is not commanding the entire attention of the officers and men of the fleet, however. Race boat crews are literally on their toes in anticipation of the forthcoming pulling races, scheduled to be held at the harbor before the close of the month. A world of interest is also being shown by every ship in the fleet in the scheduled spring sailing regatta, in which every ship will be required under the rules to enter at least two boats. The Los Angeles Times sailing race regatta trophy and the championship of the Pacific Fleet are the stakes for which the sailing crews will strive.

Exide BATTERIES

In the Van

Since the days of primitive ox-carts, men have delivered goods to other men in all sorts and manners of vehicles. The modern city found the need of a conveyance that could make short hauls and many stops quickly and at low cost.

To meet this need, the electric truck was developed. Propelled by rugged Exide Batteries, these trucks are solving the transportation problem for firms of all kinds the nation over. So, also, the electric passenger automobile, driven by Exides, fits the exacting requirements of thousands of city dwellers.

In mine locomotives, factory trucks, submarines, airplanes and railroads Exide Batteries play an important part in the movement of men and merchandise. But the commonest use of Exides, and perhaps of most interest to you, is in starting and lighting gasoline automobiles.

In this field as in others, Exide was the pioneer battery, and is standard equipment on a greater number of automobiles built today than any other battery.

When you put an Exide in your automobile you have power that you can depend on — and you can depend on it lasting so long that it proves a genuine economy.

CHANGE URGED IN PORT BOARD.

Letter Sent by Merchants and Manufacturers.

Three New Commissioners Favored by Association.

Action Advised to Obtain Department Harmony.

Declaring that President McKee, of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, "is unfit to perform the duties of this important position satisfactorily" and expressing "the utmost confidence in the ability and integrity of Commissioners Kibele and Richards," the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association yesterday forwarded a communication to Mayor Cryer urging that, in the interest of harmony, all three should step out and their places be taken by Commander Frederick J. Loomis, U.S.N. (retired) as president, and George I. Cochran and William Lacy as the other two board members.

LETTER TO MAYOR.

The letter of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association follows:

"Los Angeles, March 15, 1922.

"Hon. George E. Cryer,
"Mayor, City of Los Angeles,
"Los Angeles, Cal.

"Dear Sir: The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, being a nonpolitical organization, whose efforts are devoted to the development and prosperity of this community, begs to submit to you the following:

"The failure of the harbor commissioners to act as a unit in the administration of its affairs that are so vital to the development and commerce of this community, has created a most serious situation.

"We are strongly of the opinion that Mr. McKee, the president of the commission, is unfit to perform the duties of this important position satisfactorily, and while we have the utmost confidence in the ability and integrity of Messrs. Kibele and Richards, the other commissioners, we believe that in the interests of this community and for the sake of harmony, that the offices of the entire commission should be declared vacant and that your selection of Messrs. Loomis, Cochran and Lacy as a new board would be of tremendous benefit to this city and the harbor development, and meet with the approval of the commercial and industrial interests.

"Respectfully yours,
[Signed]
"MERCHANTS' AND MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION,
"By Irwin H. Rice,
"President.
"By F. J. Zeehandelaar,
"Secretary."

NOTICE TO CRYER.

The formal notice of Mr. Richards and Mr. Kibele in which they announced their intention of staying on the job and refusing to resign, was received at the Mayor's home on Tuesday evening. A messenger boy rang the doorbell at the Mayor's house. Mrs. Cryer went to the door.

"Message," said the boy. "Collect 75 cents." Mrs. Cryer paid the 75 cents and handed the message to the Mayor. It was Commissioners Richards's and Kibele's reply to the effect that they did not intend to resign.

"It cost me 75 cents," said the Mayor, "to learn officially that the commissioners refuse to quit."

Mr. McKee had sent no formal answer to the Mayor's request up to last evening, but he has indicated that if Mr. Kibele and Mr. Richards resign, he will do likewise.

COUNCIL'S STAND.

The Council stands ready to confirm Mr. McKee's removal and the appointment to his place of Commander Loomis, but the Councilmen believe that Mr. Kibele and Mr. Richards should be retained. While Mayor Cryer has stated that he would appoint Efficiency Commissioners Cochran and Lacy to the Harbor Board in the event that the decks were cleared, the Councilmen have been informed that neither Mr. Cochran nor Mr. Lacy desires a place on the Harbor Board and they are in no sense candidates for those places. Both Mr. Cochran and Mr. Lacy have extensive business interests and while they are willing to co-operate with the Mayor and the Council and give their time without compensation as efficiency commissioners and carry on the work of this board, including the extensive and detailed proposed survey of the harbor department, they would not be willing, so the Council is informed, to move over to the Harbor Board, especially in view of the present circumstances. The Mayor is hoping, however, that Mr. Cochran and Mr. Lacy can be prevailed upon to accept places.

House Looked Swell but It Leaked All Over

"It was a swell house to look at, judge, but when it rained—"

Harry A. Andrews, a Southern Pacific switchman, made a suggestive gesture yesterday and Judge Willis drew his own conclusion that the swell new house leaked.

Mr. Andrews sued Louis J. La Bonte for return of $350 advance payment on the $4150 house in West Ninety-sixth street, and $400 damages to his furniture and household goods.

Mr. Andrews testified that during the hard rain of February 8, last, the water came through the roof, seeped through the walls, puddles of water collected on the floors; the wallboard sweated, the floors sagged and the windows and doors jammed. The Board of Health inspected the house and advised Mr. Andrews to abandon the premises, otherwise sickness would break out.

Judge Willis gave judgment in favor of Mr. Andrews, rescinding the contract and allowing him the money he asked.

Defense Lawyers Attack State's Case.

Jud R. Rush (top) and A. F. MacDonald.
Mr. Rush is saying: "It is a matter of evidence." Mr. MacDonald was snapped as he said: "It is proven absolutely that no one connected with this case had anything to do with the killing."

MADALYNNE'S DEFENSE HITS.

sat, leaning forward with hands cupped on ears in an effort to catch every word of what was heralded as the greatest burst of oratory during the trial.

He began, not so much in defense of Madalynne as in derision of the attempts of the State to fasten the crime on her, to trace the progress of the love of Madalynne and Belton Kennedy.

His first statement was to charge that the prosecution had violated the first principle of justice by assuming that Madalynne is guilty of the murder of Kennedy and making everything point toward that end. He said that it was the law to assume the woman innocent of everything until she has been proven guilty.

He derided the theory of the State that the woman was guilty. He condemned those who condemned her. In one of his frequent bursts which brought tears to the eyes of those who listened he said:

"It seems that this defendant here can't have a thought so high nor so holy, an inspiration so pure nor so exalted, that somebody doesn't reach out and impute to it some sort of base motive, just like a fiend reaching out of the blackest depths of hell and with scoted fingers pulling the white curtains from the windows of heaven.

"Isn't it true? Has it been admitted by the prosecution that this poor woman in her lifetime ever had a high or holy thought, or an honest inspiration? She is charged with crime, that is all."

A few minutes later Mr. Rush took up the marriage of the defendant to Ralph Obenchain. He said that perhaps it had been a mistake. He said that perhaps the woman had erred in this wedding.

"But," he cried, "if you hang a woman everytime she makes a mistake in marrying one of us hoob men, there would be very few left."

Mr. Kennedy sat between Mr. Keyes and the court railing. His face was set. He was looking at a point on the wall between the judge and the jury. Occasionally his jaws would shut tight on the gum he frequently chews and he would seem at ease. Then he would become motionless again and stare. At times, too, he would lean forward and whisper some suggestion to Mr. Keyes.

Mr. Rush's talk concerned the emotional side of the trial to a great extent. He dealt with facts when it was advisable, but his principal gains were made by word pictures; pictures of white-robed women without a taint, pictures of hideous gallows, pictures of sordidness, pictures of love.

LAUGHTER IN COURT.

While Mr. Rush's speech was terrific in its deliverance, there were lighter moments when ripples of laughter would go through the room. At these Bailiff Reeder would arise almost mechanically from his seat behind Clerk Rugby Ross's desk and as he appeared the laughter would subside.

Although Mr. Rush would diverge from time to time to some other subject, his tale of the love of Kennedy for Madalynne was uppermost in his mind and to this he would return. His address was broken between the questions he asked the jurors and the assertions he made to them.

"Do you believe this woman to be a murderess with a heart as black as Satan's?" he demanded.

Then again, but this question was answered. "What woman in this world is the best? Why, the one who loves the best."

After the afternoon recess Mr. Rush began a more determined onslaught upon the testimony and evidence produced by the prosecution. He began with Madalynne's telegram to Burch to come to California and "bring the friend I had last summer." This friend, it is the contention of the State, was Burch's shotgun.

"Could anything be more far-fetched?" Mr. Rush demanded. "Why the friend she spoke of was Selma Cullender, her old nurse! The insinuation of the prosecution is absurd."

The last thing in the afternoon was Mr. Rush's vicious assault upon the testimony of Thomas Haley. He left nothing unsaid, no insinuation unmade about the witness.

He declared that Mr. Haley runs a downtown hotel, that he may appreciate having friends among the officials, that he has not been in trouble yet and "at the rate he is going it is doubtful that he is going to get into trouble." Such were the insinuations he hurled.

It was entirely a defense day. The prosecution had not a word to say. Mr. MacDonald began in the morning and talked almost until noon. Then recess was taken and Mr. Rush began in the afternoon.

On the day previous Mr. MacDonald had announced that he was going to prove to the jury by the testimony of the State's witnesses that two roughly-dressed men killed Kennedy. His plan, it was gathered as he talked, was not so much to discredit the statements of the prosecution witnesses as to prove facts by them. He did, however, call attention to certain discrepancies in the evidence and on one occasion charged that a State witness had "deliberately lied."

He called attention first to the statements of Sanderson, the negro porter on the train that brought Burch from Chicago. Sanderson had said that Burch brought a shotgun in a case with him. Mr. MacDonald called attention to the fact that the porter admitted that he never saw Burch with the gun and that the gun was under the seat of the man who occupied Lower Six.

He recalled the testimony of Thomas Haley, proprietor of the Russell Hotel, where Burch stopped and learned that the accused man had brought no gun when he rented the room. He reviewed the testimony of Blanche Rogers, maid at the hotel who cleaned the suspect's room, and she said that she had never seen a gun there.

REVIEWS GLEN INCIDENTS.

Then Mr. MacDonald switched to the glen. He endeavored, by the State's evidence, to ascertain the exact time of the shooting. This, by comparing the various statements, occurred between 9:05 and 9:10. Then Mr. MacDonald's main attack began.

He referred to the testimony of Ralph Cummings and E. W. Cummings, which stated that there was a car, supposedly Burch's in the gravel pit road shortly before 9 o'clock. Then he pointed to the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kantor, who said they saw Kennedy's car at the scene of the shooting some minutes before the killing took place. They stated positively that they looked as they came up the road and no car was in the pit road at that time. The car, then, that the Cummings boys saw left the scene of the tragedy, according to Mr. MacDonald, before the killing took place.

The testimony of Mrs. Elizabeth Bemanty was then analyzed. She testified that after the shooting when she was going back to her cabin to get dressed, she heard a rustling in the brush on the hillside which frightened her. She ran to the house. Mr. Liefert, who lived below the Kennedy cabin, ran immediately to the outside when he heard the shooting. He remained out there half an hour. During this period Mrs. Obenchain had been taken away by Mr. Deering. Mrs. Bemanty had gone to her house, and Mr. Bemanty was left alone with the body of Kennedy.

DOG IN BUSHES?

It was at that time, according to Mr. MacDonald's review of the testimony, that Mr. Liefert's dog attempted to get into the brush above the Kennedy cabin and that Mr. Liefert heard two voices on the hill.

"These facts absolutely prove that Mrs. Obenchain's statement that she saw two roughly dressed men run from the scene of the crime is correct," shouted the attorney. "Everything points toward it. Nobody saw Burch. The test trip of the prosecution to try and check up the mileage Burch made in his car that night was a feat of imagination. It is proven absolutely that no one connected with this case had anything to do with the killing."

"FAN" SPEAKS OUT.

During Mr. MacDonald's address to the jury a near-riot was almost staged in the rear of the courtroom when a woman, a murder trial fan, who was in attendance at every session of the Burch trial and has been one of the most persevering at Madalynne's siege, declared in an audible voice:

"Why he's making a better defense for Burch than he got in his own trial."

The case will, in all probability, go to the jury tomorow morning. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Keyes will begin his argument today at the close of Mr. Rush's address. He will close tonight or in the morning. Then the instructions will be handed the jury and they will retire to deliberate.

PLAN LAST RITES FOR O. F. BRANT.

Funeral to be Conducted Tomorrow from Family Residence.

Funeral services for Otto F. Brant, vice-president and general manager of the Title Insurance and Trust Company, who died suddenly in Bakersfield Tuesday afternoon, will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the residence, 3131 South Figueroa street. Burial will be private.

The body of the widely known business man was brought to Los Angeles last night by his relatives. They left Bakersfield at noon following the signing of a certificate by Coroner Helm that death was caused by heart disease.

Accompanying the body were two sons, David and Alfred T. Brant, the widow, Mrs. Susan Elizabeth Brant, and a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bayly. The last three named were present in the courtroom at Bakersfield when Mr. Brant died after testifying in a civil suit.

Mr. Brant was 63 years old and had been prominently identified in many large business undertakings in Southern California. He had lived in Los Angeles since 1886 and had been manager of the Title Insurance and Trust Company since its incorporation in 1893.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, bring back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Six Rules for Making GOOD COFFEE

1. Keep your coffee air tight
It loses its strength and aroma when exposed to air. Keep it in an air-tight container.

2. Measure carefully
Experiment until you find just the proportions of Coffee and water that suit your taste. Then stick to them! Guessing usually means a poor cup of Coffee.

3. Use grounds only once
Don't leave the Coffee grounds in the pot and re-steep for the next meal. Used Coffee grounds are of no more value in making Coffee than ashes in building a fire.

4. Use boiling water
Boil your water, but don't boil your Coffee; don't let the water and the ground bean boil together after they are mixed.

5. Serve at once
Many a pot of perfect Coffee has been ruined by letting it cool. If you must wait, keep the Coffee piping hot, but never let it boil. Re-cooking injures the flavor.

6. Scour the coffee pot
It is not enough to give the pot a hurried rinse and set it away to dry. Scour it even more carefully than other cooking utensils.

HER AILMENTS ALL GONE NOW

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. M. SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing its merit.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound?

GAS COMPANIES EXPLAIN PLANS.

Equipment to Increase Service Outlined.

Railroad Commission Told of New Projects.

Additional Mains, Plants to be Constructed.

Projected improvements and extensions to be made during the present year to the three companies supplying fuel and lighting gas to Southern California cities and outlying territory were explained in detail at yesterday's inquiry of the State Railroad Commission, into the class of service being rendered consumers by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, the Southern California Gas Company and the Southern Counties Gas Company.

Representatives and attorneys of the corporations concerned, in addition to gas experts of the commission's engineering department, participated in the hearing before President Brundage and Commissioner Benedict of the State governing body. City Attorney Stephens represented the interests of the municipality and Chief Engineer Osborne those of the Board of Public Utilities.

In the testimony of H. L. Masser of the commission's gas engineering division, who occupied the witness stand most of the day, was embodied the statement that, during the months before next winter 100 miles of commercial gas mains will be laid by the Los Angeles Gas Company.

EXTEND TRUNK LINES.

Three principal trunk lines, he said, will be extended to districts where shortage of gas occurred during the severe weather of January, last. A gas holder with a capacity of 2,000,000 cubic feet will be installed by the Southern Counties Gas Company for the benefit of users in the Santa Monica district.

Greater storage provision for Pasadena consumers will also be made. According to the estimate of Mr. Masser there should be available for a peak-day consumption in the territory served by the three companies, next winter, 96,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

In the exhibits filed by Engineer Osborne of the Utilities Board, the maximum figure for daily gas consumption in the same area was set at 83,000,000 cubic feet.

ADDITIONS URGED.

The Board of Public Utilities recommended increased facilities for gas consumption, compression and storing and also declared the belief that large consumers, including operators of hotels, apartment-houses and homes where a considerabl quantity of gas is required for heating should be required by a municipal ordinance, if necessary, to provide for a substitute fuel to be used in emergency. The increase in gas consumption of this type of patronage this year over 1921, according to Mr. Osborne's figures, is 11½ per cent.

Attorney Paul Overton of the Los Angeles Gas Company sought to show, in his interrogation of Engineer Masser, that the gas requirements of January past were abnormal, due to colder weather than Southern California has experienced in a period of eight winters. The witness concurred in this point, but thought provision for a population growth greater in percentage even than the present one should be made in extensions by the companies of gas service.

WIFE'S WAIL HELPS MAN GET DIVORCE

Child Tells Father About Hugging Episode in Home While Husband is Away.

There was a wail in the letter which Mrs. Lucile Semnacher wrote her husband, Alfred Semnacher, after she left him and their three children for love of another man. She said she was sick of everything. She told her husband she wanted to go where she did not know anybody, work and forget everything. Realizing, perhaps, that she had lost her children, she admonished Mr. Semnacher to be good to them "as I shall know as sure as anything, if you are not."

Mr. Semnacher, manager for Virginia Rappe and other cinema people, who was granted a divorce in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday, told the court that one of his children informed him that her mama and Carrol Fleming had been hugging and kissing. Fleming, it appeared, usurped Mr. Semnacher's right as head of the house. The complaint, prepared by Attorney Frank A. McDonald, mentioned that Fleming washed the dishes and wound the clock.

"And put out the cat, locked up the house and everything, eh?" queried the court.

"That's about it," was the response of Mr. Semnacher.

The hugging and kissing episode broke up the home. Mrs. Semnacher went away with Fleming, it was stated, and she has not communicated with her children since, Mr. Semnacher stated.

According to the testimony of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Joos, Mrs. Semnacher admitted her infatuation for Fleming. She said she was sorry and would try to do better.

Fleming is said to be wanted by the Federal authorities, Mr. Semnacher, the Burns Detective Agency and two hotels. He worked in the cinemas as an extra. He posed as an ex-millionaire, racer, boxer, aviator, champion shipyard riveter and former British officer.

PATIO CLUB PROGRAM.

The Patio Players Club last night and Tuesday night gave scenes from "Hamlet," "Richard III" and a one-act play by Alfred Hollingsworth at the clubhouse, 411 North Kenmore avenue. The players were Alfred and Jeanne Hollingsworth, Melva Bruck, E. Thomas, Joan Warren, Dorothy Shindler, P. D. Roberts, Nina Di Carrara, Joyce Leach, William MacLaughlin and Miss E. V. Monahan. The program will be repeated tonight.

EXPOSITION .. PLAN .. EXPANDED.

Vocational Department to Prepare School Exhibit.

Miss Elizabeth Bromley and Nero.

The canine is to be an entry in the pet-stock division of the Children's Exposition.

THE vocational department of the city schools yesterday launched a campaign among teachers and pupils to assist the Children's Exposition, which has been started by the Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations and the Assistance League of Southern California.

W. S. Kienholz, head of the department, Mrs. Marie Larkey and J. B. Corcoran have been appointed by Superintendent of Schools Dorsey to co-operate with the two organizations and take active charge of preparing the exhibits which will be entered.

Mrs. Larkey declared that the exposition undoubtedly will be the most comprehensive and entertaining ever staged anywhere in the United States. The nine original departments of the exposition have been extended to twenty-six, as follows:

Toys, arts and crafts, domestic art, wood work, electrical and mechanical, domestic science, agriculture, horticulture and landscape, millinery, pets and live stock, penmanship, modern languages, nature study, psychology, physical training, music, drawing, cardboard construction, child welfare, part-time education, corrective physical education, health and development, school clinic, kindergarten and primary grades, library, Americanization and citizenship and primary manual arts.

Mrs. Larkey states that pupils, parents or teachers desiring further information may telephone 15167, the headquarters of the vocation department.

BEST LIFE EVER LIVED DESCRIBED.

Christ's Doctrine to Lead World to Better Things, Minister Declares.

"War will be abolished only when individuals and nations shall have accepted Christ as their leader and begin to practice the doctrine of love that He taught," said Dr. George Davidson, pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, preaching at the noon Lenten service at the Morosco Theater yesterday.

Speaking on the subject, "What Think Ye of Jesus?" Dr. Davidson said that the Man of Nazareth was the greatest philosopher, scientist and psychologist the world has ever known. He pointed to the fact that Christ's influence for good in the world is more powerful today than it was 2000 years ago.

"Our Savior's life was the best life ever lived on earth," said Dr. Davidson. "He gave to the race its highest ideals, its deepest convictions of truth and of life eternal. He gave us our best hopes and the best dynamic for our daily living. Man becomes like the thing he loves. He who loves Christ will grow in His likeness and it is a blessed thing to know that this Christ can inspire us to strive to make our lives like his own.

"Finally, Jesus gave to man the best revelation of God, the deepest insight into the spiritual realm. Science gives us a partial insight into the operation of the laws governing phenomena, but Jesus opens our eyes to see and know things beyond the narrow confines of the material world. Above all and best of all, He teaches us the meaning of love, pointing us to the Father's love for man. Nature, beautiful and grand as she is, speaks only to the mind of man, declaring God's majesty and wisdom, but Jesus speaks out of the very bosom of the Father. In Jesus Christ we have the heart and loving will of God."

MRS. ELSIE J. WENDT IS CALLED BY DEATH.

At the point of recovery from a serious attack of pneumonia, Mrs. Elsie J. Wendt, 702 North Grand avenue, suffered a relapse Tuesday which caused her death. Funeral services will be held today at 2 p.m. in the Pierce Brothers' undertaking chapel. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery. Mrs. Wendt is the daughter of Edward B. Felts, captain of the Lincoln Heights police division. She has been a resident of Los Angeles for nineteen years. She leaves her husband, Ezra F. Wendt, a sister, Grace D. Jeffery of San Francisco, two brothers, Fletcher E. and Webster Felcs of Los Angeles, and two children.

Action Delayed in Clash Over Police Places.

Decision of the controversy between Chief of Police Everington and the Board of Civil Service Commissioners was put over one week by the City Council yesterday. The difference of opinion now before the Council centers on the abolishing of the positions of assistant chief of police and inspector, both of which places the chief refuses to fill from the Civil Service lists.

Councilman Conway objected to suspending the rules so that action could be taken yesterday, preventing action until next Wednesday. Councilman Mushet said, during the Council's discussion, that it was the original intention of the finance committee, when the places were created, to exempt them from civil service.

FILMS ABROAD.

W. F. ALDER WILL MAKE THREE IN THE ORIENT.

By Grace Kingsley.

W. F. Alder is to make further productions of his stories, according to word just received. These productions are to be made in the Orient, and will include among other stories, "The Flying Fez."

Edwin Carewe is to direct, and Noah Beery will have the character leads. One story is to be made in China, another in India, and still another in Japan.

Noah Beery will have a double role in the Chinese story which will afford him one of the biggest opportunities of his film career. In fact, all the roles he will play in the Alder productions will give him an opportunity to portray real characterizations, instead of the high-power villain roles which we are used to seeing him play.

The first picture of the Alder stories was made by the Far East production, being "The Lagoon of Desire," filmed in Tahiti last summer, with Ruth Renick in the leading feminine role, and with Art Rosson directing. The others will be as carefully and elaborately done as the first one, and interesting spots in little-traveled localities will be filmed.

Mr. Alder and Far East Productions deserve tremendous credit for doing pioneer work in making pictures abroad. While others have been talking about it, Alder is actually doing it. It is understood that Alder's success with "The Lagoon of Desire" is the cause of his decision to go forward with other productions of his works to be made in the actual locales in which his stories are laid.

Harry Carey With R-C.

Harry Carey is to desert the simple life on his ranch for the devious ways of art. Once more he is to appear on the screen, this time under contract with Robertson-Cole.

The first production in which Carey will appear will be, "The Battle," adapted from an original story.

Lon Chaney in Oliver Twist.

That arch villain, Lon Chaney, is to have a fine opportunity in "Oliver Twist," Jackie Coogan's next production. In it Chaney will play the role of Fagin, the master pickpocket.

Lon Chaney as Fagin.

When "Oliver Twist" is flashed on the screen with Jackie Coogan as the kid hero, the production will have as its Fagin the master pickpocket, no less clever a villain than Lon Chaney. It is possible that Noah Beery may play Bill Sykes.

Constance Binney in It.

It was announced yesterday by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, that Constance Binney, known for her Realart starring pictures, is to be featured in "Pink Gods and Blue Demons," by Cynthia Stockley, a forthcoming Penrhyn Stanlaws special. Anna Q. Nilsson, just back from a starring engagement in Sweden, will be a prominent member of the cast.

Miss Nilsson has just been cast as Dona Sol in "Blood and Sand," the Rudolph Valentino starring vehicle, but the Stanlaws story offered a role so much more fitting that she will be replaced by Nita Naldi, who is to arrive from the East the latter part of the week.

Miss Binney also soon will arrive here. For the past six weeks she has been enjoying a vacation at her New York home.

Claire Windsor Studies Art.

One artistic outlet is not enough for the soul of Claire Windsor, who at present is appearing in a Goldwyn film. Miss Windsor, who at present is posing for Russell Iredell for a magazine cover, is to study painting with that young artist.

Miss Windsor has always had a talent for drawing, inherited from her mother, who is recognized as a painter in oils. But she has never before taken the art seriously. Now, however, she is to devote real study to the subject.

Jack Ford Comes Home.

They all come back to Hollywood and Jack Ford, Fox director, is no exception to the rule. Mr. Ford has just arrived home with his wife after a trip to London and other points in Europe, where, though it sounds paradoxical, judging from the title, he made a number of scenes for his new picture, "Kentucky Days." Mr. Ford has been absent for the last five months.

Anna Nichols's New One.

The irrepressible authoress, Anna Nichols, just can't make her typewriter behave, once she gets a new idea for a comedy. Now she has finished "Myra Breaks Loose."

And Oliver Morosco, who is all smiles these days over the success of Miss Nichols's "Abie's Irish Rose," is more than pleased to produce it.

"Myra Breaks Loose" has to do with a farmer's wife, who invades Fifth avenue with a beautifier of her own invention.

Bruntons Sail.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brunton have sailed for Europe, according to word just received. Mr. Brunton won't desert the picture business, however, as he is to enter production in England. His plans are to be announced later.

Ruth Renick's Kind Heart.

If you hear a sound as of thunder, proceeding from out Sawtelle way, next Wednesday night, don't be surprised or alarmed. It will be merely the veterans living at the Soldiers' Home applauding Ruth Renick, who is to sing for them.

Ruth Roland Busy.

After only one short week's vacation, in which to heal her bruises, won in her last serial, Ruth Roland has rolled up her sleeves and gone back to work in the black-and-blue drama. She has a new director. He is none other than Ernest Warde, who formerly directed J. Warren Kerrigan and Dustin Farnum. Miss Roland will work at United studios.

Marjorie Rambeau in Comedy.

Marjorie Rambeau is to go into comedy for a change. She is to appear under the Shubert management in a new laugh-getter called "Up." The piece is adapted from the French comedy, "L'Ecole de Cocottes."

The original comedy was very risque, but Gladys Unger, who has made the English adaptation, is said to have toned it down.

The Follies Will Soon be With Us Again.

"SPIRIT OF CHIVALRY."

DOUG WOULD BATTLE FOR GOOD OF PICTURES.

By Edwin Schallert.

Actual shooting for the production of "The Spirit of Chivalry," which Douglas Fairbanks is to make in his next feature, will be started in about two weeks. The cast is practically completed, with Enid Bennett in the role of Maid Marian, Wallace Beery as Richard, the Lion-hearted; Sam De Grasse as King John, the usurper; Paul Dickey as Guy of Gisborne, the archvillain. Fairbanks himself will play the hero as Robin Hood, the man who became a bandit for the defense of his country.

Doug has been at the studio every day supervising many of the details. Allan Dwan is also a busy man, as director.

The sets for the feature represent the largest that have been built in Hollywood, I believe, since "Intolerance." They cover even more ground than the famous Griffith settings. A portion of the studio lot is to be turned into a tournament field. Members of the cast are also familiarizing themselves with the technique of archery.

"The Spirit of Chivalry," will be far and away a greater spectacular feature than "The Three Musketeers." It will be Doug's most pretentious undertaking during his career. He has been working on the feature for all of five months, with the assistance of his scenario writer, his technical men, and Mr. Dwan, his director.

Doug is putting his whole heart and soul into the feature. He is living every detail of it.

"While I was in New York recently I made up my mind that there was only one way effectually to defend the pictures from their defamers," said Doug. "I decided that that way was not through preaching or talking, or becoming an attorney for the defense. I made up my mind that the best way to further the cause of pictures was by making good pictures."

Mabel Changes Program.

A sudden change in Mabel Normand's plans for a vacation were announced yesterday from the Bennett studios. Instead of going to the Hawaiian Islands, she will travel to Europe, visiting London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, Naples, Madrid and other large cities. She will leave for abroad as soon as her picture "Suzanna" is completed, it is stated. She will return in the fall to start work on a new production.

Hampden in Repertoire.

Immediately following David Warfield's engagement next week in "The Return of Peter Grimm," Walter Hampden is to appear in classic repertoire at the Mason. The program for the engagement is as follows: Monday night, "Hamlet;" Tuesday night, "Macbeth;" Wednesday matinee, "Romeo and Juliet;" Wednesday night, "Taming of the Shrew;" Thursday night, "Othello;" Friday night, "The Servant in the House," by Charles Rann Kennedy; Saturday matinee, "Merchant of Venice," and Saturday night, repetition of "Hamlet."

Mary Hall is leading woman for the star.

Post and Tully Away.

Richard Walton Tully, the playwright and producer, who is now in New York, will return to California the end of April.

Work has been completed on "The Masquerader," and Guy Bates Post, the star, is now in San Francisco, visiting his mother.

On his return to the Coast, Mr. Tully will prepare to produce another feature.

Even Dozen Busy.

No less than twelve companies will be busy on the Universal lot within the next week, whereas the schedule lately has been about six.

These units include the Priscilla Dean, Marie Prevost, Frank Mayo, Gladys Walton, Herbert Rawlinson and Hoot Gibson starring companies, three making serials, two comedy and one short-reel Western. Eric Von Stroheim's new picture will soon also be added to the list.

Frank Mayo is already busy shooting on location in Truckee. Others are beginning work, or are practically ready to start.

This is the largest spurt of activity at the U plant in several months.

STARS SHIMMER AT FROLIC.

Filmdom Assembles at Ambassador in First Annual Wampus Fete; Three Thousand Attend.

Had the cinema assembly call sounded last night most of the stars and producers could have hollered "Present" from the Ambassador ballroom, where the first annual Wampus frolic was staged.

Even a conservative man might be tempted to rub superlatives in describing the event, for the motion-picture publicity agents can be credited with giving one of the most successful entertainment-dance programs in years. The box-office estimate was that approximately 3000 persons attended.

There was a predominance of feminine loveliness in evidence. Silks and jewels, dazzling lights, throbbing music and gay laughter.

The ballroom was arranged to represent the interior of a motion-picture studio. Two home sun arcs and several studio arc spots provided the illumination. Typical movie signs and slogans littered the walls. At 10 o'clock Lewis Lewyn and a flock of camera men took motion pictures of sections of the ballroom and the crowds. These were rushed through the developing process and thrown on the screen shortly after midnight.

Prominent in these flashes were the thirteen "baby stars," selected by the Wampus as the stars of tomorrow. Among the best known in filmdom who occupied box seats were Charles Chaplin, Cecil B. DeMille, Sid Grauman, Tom Mix, Ruth Roland and Jesse Lasky. Fred Niblo was master of ceremonies.

The entertainment features drew sound applause, and included the following numbers:

Larry Semon and Lucille Carlisle in a skit, Jackie Coogan in a tomboy dance; Wallace Reid in a saxophone solo; Jacqueline Logan in a Follies Roof offering; Bebe Daniels and Wanda Hawley in a sketch, "Black and White;" Maryon Aye in a novel presentation of "Mammy," with Kitty Bradbury; Lupino Lane, English eccentric comedian, in his first American appearance; Lena Baskette in a solo dance; Dorothy Lambdin in Danse Acrobatique, and Jimmie Martin, jazz drummer from Texas, in his new song, "Deep South." Margaret Monson sang an aria from "Mignon," Ruth Roland sang and Rupert Hughes, novelist, gave a witty talk on the definition of the word "Wampus."

GIRL VICTIM OF MYSTERY BLOW.

but could say no more. Then we reported to the police. We believe that a burglar must have been hidden in the closet of Virginia's bedroom when she entered and that when he attempted to escape she saw him. Before she could scream he must have struck her over the head with a club. Virginia's long hair probably saved her life."

Police who investigated discovered that nothing had been taken from the Davis home by the intruder and declared that the person who struck down Miss Davis probably did not enter the house with the view of looting it. They were unable last night to establish any motive for the attack or for the intruder to have left the note behind him.

Efforts will be made today to learn from Miss Davis just what took place in her bedroom before the attack and the description of the intruder. Late last night she was still unable to describe her experience.

PROFITS IN PEAS HINGE ON VERDICT

Carlsbad Growers Demand Asserted Discrepancy in Market Prices.

Damage suits approximating many thousands of dollars hinge on the decision Judge Valentine will hand down in the suit of F. H. Tolle against Cohen, Mann & Cohen, involving shipment of peas from Carlsbad, the great pea district in the lower part of this State. The trial is now on.

Years ago this section was taken up by real estate speculators. The boom failed because there was barely enough water to drink. Some of the residents held on. They organized an irrigation district, raised the money and pumped water from the river to the mesa and this former arid section became wonderfully productive, especially in raising peas and other garden truck.

The crop of peas raised at Carlsbad in 1920 and 1921 had an approximate value of $400,000. Peas from the district sold for 50 cents a pound. Its prosperity was a tremendous argument for irrigation and enterprise.

Mr. Tolle and seventy-three other growers contracted with the defendants to market the peas at the best prices. They were to give an accounting for the peas sold, expenses and 10 per cent commission. It appears that the defendants borrowed the money in New York to extend their business and, it was contended, had to send the peas to the New York market, regardless of the price that could be obtained elsewhere. It was held that the peas could have sold for better prices here than in New York and the suit is to recover the purported profit the plaintiff might have received, or about $17,000.

The defense asserts that the peas were frozen, of inferior quality, and were sold at the best prices obtainable. A decision will be reached this week.

Missing Man is Believed to be Suicide.

Suicide was accepted yesterday as the only solution to the mysterious disappearance of P. C. Bates, a chocolate salesman, from the steamship Yale during its trip from San Francisco to Los Angeles Harbor.

The missing man boarded the Yale last Tuesday. At a late hour he was seen entering his stateroom. Upon the vessel's arrival at San Pedro Bates failed to check off. His stateroom was searched and all his clothing and a suitcase were found. Jewelry and letters, but no money, were found in the clothing.

A thorough search of the ship failed to develop any trace of Bates, and the theory was accepted that he had leaped into the sea attired in his nightclothes. Bates lived at 326½ South Vendome street.

Written Story of Mrs. Peete Brought Here

A conference between Mrs. Angela Kaufman, social worker, who has stated she was given a signed confession by Mrs. Lolie Louise Peete, in which a prominent man is named as the slayer of Jacob C. Denton, and Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Doran will probably be held today, according to Attorney S. S. Hahn, counsel for Mrs. Kaufman.

Mrs. Kaufman returned to Los Angeles yesterday. Though admitting she was an accomplice to the murder, Mrs. Peete has declared that her 6-year-old daughter can corroborate the confession and identify the actual slayer, Mrs. Kaufman said.

As soon as certain affidavits can be had from four persons said to have direct knowledge of the killing, Mrs. Kaufman will surrender her information to the District Attorney, she added.

CHURCH LEADER WILL WED HIS SECRETARY.

SUPERINTENDENT OF BIBLE INSTITUTE TO CLAIM BRIDE TODAY.

A friendship of eight years will reach its romantic climax this morning when Dr. T. C. Horton, superintendent of the Bible Institute, is united in wedlock to his secretary, Miss Harriet L. Ransom. The wedding ceremony will be performed by Dr. R. A. Hadden, head of the Christian Fundamental League, at 9 a.m. at the summer home of Dr. Horton's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walker, Manhattan Beach.

Following the marriage Dr. Horton and his bride will leave Los Angeles for an unknown destination on a brief honeymoon and upon their return will occupy apartments in the Bible Institute Hotel.

Dr. Horton is one of the most widely-known leaders in church work of Southern California. He came to Los Angeles sixteen years ago and organized the Fisherman's Club for young men and from that organization has grown the Bible Institute with property valued at more than $2,500,000 and plans completed for the erection of a building to cost another million dollars.

Miss Ransom has been Dr. Horton's secretary for the last eight years.

Dr. Horton gave his age in taking out the marriage license as 72 years and that of his bride as 44.

No Sleeves

—search as you may through the ens of styles in silk and in and everywhere one finds and again that new waists are practically sleeveless—of lace—fabric—or "bolero" lines.

Lace Pockets

So convenient and effective for sore throat

With gargles or sprays it is impossible to keep a sore throat under anything like continuous treatment. With Formamint, it makes no difference where you are—at work, in crowded car, shop, theatre or church—you can dissolve one of these delicious, almost candy-like tablets in your mouth once an hour or so. An effective yet harmless antiseptic is released and, carried by the saliva, continuously bathes the entire lining of the mouth and throat, checks germ growth, and gives the sore, infected tissues chance to heal.

Formamint Tablets used when especially exposed to infection reduce your danger of catching sore throats, and even influenza, from others.

Children can—and should—use them freely, as defence against throat affections and influenza which spread so readily in congested school-rooms.
